Art Auction Tonight

Beautifully-framed Limited Edition prints and original pen and ink sketches will go to the highest bidders at Thursday night's art auction to be sponsored by Good Earth Garden Club and beginning at 7:30 p.m. at the new City Hall.

The paintings are priced from $50 to $250 and will be on display to the public beginning at 7 p.m. in the lobby of the new City Hall.

Mrs. Larry Hamrick, Jr. will sound the gavel signaling the beginning of the second annual auction at 7:30 p.m.

All proceeds are earmarked for community projects of the garden club, including a scholarship to a deserving high school senior.

Mrs. Lou Sabettie, Jr. is chairman of the fund-raising committee which also includes Mrs. Marlene Bennett, Mrs. Chris Champion, Mrs. Jean Thrift and Mrs. Jackie Scism.

The 100 prints will feature children's prints, country and nautical scenes, New England countryside scenes and many more.

Light refreshments will be served by the garden club during the auction.

Actors Are Preparing For 'Conquer We Must'

Limestone college and was selected Best Actor and Best Supporting Actor at the Drama Awards Banquet for Limestone college this year.

Kings Mountain citizens who were favorites of drama crowds last year are returning to the drama cast this year. Joe Ann Walker McDaniel returns as "Mrs. Storey", Reb Wiesener returns as Col. John Sevier, and Rev. Harwood Smith returns in the roles of Lord Cornwallis and Rev. Doak. Minor roles are held by Heather Bradshaw as the vegetable merchant; Charlie Jenkins as Red Coat 2; Chip Caldwell as Red Coat 3; Edward Hammett as a British Officer and Debbie Rushing as Mrs. John Sevier. Among the large group of extras are Phillip Fisher, Doug Bell, Bill Hager, Laura Johnson, Deia Parker, David Dockery and Victoria Shaw, all of Kings Mountain.

Dr. Charles Hannum, head of the Limestone College Theatre Department, is again directing the drama which represents 3,000 man hours of work, he said. The 90 minute production requires 61 period costumes, all of which were handmade last year, and three large stages. Twelve key actors and seven key technicians return to the large cast this season.

JC-Police Game Slated
