KM Residents In Play

For the second consecutive season "Then Conquer We Must" will be presented at the Kings Mountain National Military Park amphitheatre. The outdoor drama is the Tom McIntyre adaptation of Robert B. Osborne's play recreating the events leading up to the Battle of Kings Mountain and is produced by Limestone College in Gaffney, S.C.

Dr. Charles Hannum, the college's theatre department head and director of the play, announces that many Kings Mountain residents will participate this year, both in acting and technical roles.

Suzanne Amos-Grabus, originally from Kings Mountain and now living in Gatonia, will once again play the leading lady, Virginia Salter. An understudy and singer-dancer for "Horn in the West" at Boone in 1974, Ms. Grabus also performed as a singer-dancer in "Wilderness Road" in Berea, Kentucky, in 1973. She is the program director for Lifeline Systems, Inc., an emergency communications system for the elderly and handicapped persons.

The supporting role of Mrs. Rebecca Story is played by Joe Ann McDaniel, a veteran actress and director with the Kings Mountain Little Theatre who performed this role in last year's production. For her direction of "How The Other Half Loves", "Blithe Spirit" and "The Boy Friend", she received the Best Director of the Year from the Little Theatre. In other productions she portrayed Edith Wimsley in "Surprise", Ethel Savage in "The Curious Savage" and the Jewish mother in "Come Blow Your Horn."

For the second season, Rev. Harwood T. Smith will play Lord Cornwallis and Rev. Doak

Originally from New York, Rev. Smith is minister of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church. He has previously performed in the production of "Winterset" in Anderson, S.C.

Reb Wiesener returns to "Then Conquer We Must" as Col. John Sevier, the leader of the mountaineers. Mr. Wiesener is a seasoned performer with such roles to his credit as Count Dracula in the Gaston College production, Prince Charming in the Kings Mountain Little Theatre's "Cinderella" and Victor Volasco in Neil Simon's "Barefoot In The Park." An accomplished speaker and orator, Mr. Wiesener has won several awards in oratory including First Place in the V.F.W. "Proud to Be An American" competition and a second place in the state for the American Legion competition.

Edward Hammett will play British Officer No. 1, Chip Caldwell will play British Officer No. 4 and Debbie Rushing will play Mrs. Sevier and Delia Parker will dance.

Kings Mountain residents working with the technical crew are Dawne Brazzell and Cathy Loveless of the prop crew, and Laura Anderson of the publicity crew.

Procedure Discussed

teacher under discussion was employed in an interim position with the system this school year.

Rev. Mr. Carson pointed out that "This young man is a product of the KM schools but was told he did not have the experience for the job. I believe in the system but I'm looking for an answer."

The board answered additional questions about personnel in an executive session with Rev. Mr. Carson and Mr. Orr for about 30 minutes.
