Spectrum's KM Plant...

Employee Appreciation Day Held

Spectrum Fibers, Inc. rolled out the red carpet Thursday and Friday to 266 employees the firm honored in a special Appreciation Day and Tenth Birthday Celebration.

Barbecue with all the trimmings was served on three shifts and officials, those locally and from the New York office, gathered to commend the employees and present them with caps and other memorabilia of the occasion.

"This is a great day for Spectrum," said Alex McCallum, plant personnel manager. Other officials echoed his sentiments.

Spectrum, one of Kings Mountain's leading industries and a newer addition to the Kings Mountain community, came to Kings Mountain 10 years ago this week. Since that time company officials have pointed to "the hourly employee as the firm's greatest asset." Plant Appreciation Day programs are held regularly and the company boasts good benefits with payment of bonuses twice yearly to employees.

Spectrum employees have prided themselves as leaders of the community and in participation in both the United Fund and Red Cross Bloodmobile programs, among others. Employees organized this year an Industrial Men's Softball and Basketball League and a Women's Softball League. The employees have also been leaders in the plant in reduction of accidents.

Blake Robbins, who has now retired with Ray Cabaniss, Beatrice Oates, and Roberta Herndon, W.O. Hancock, Cuba Reid, A.B. Hilton, were among the first employees hired by Spectrum in Kings Mountain. The first hourly employee hired was James Clark in the Maintenance Department.

"Spectrum is proud of its benefits program for employees and of a good, clean environment for our people to work in," said Personnel Manager McCallum.
