Attend Personnel Conference

Administrators from the Kings Mountain District Schools System are attending a personnel evaluation conference at UNC-Charlotte this week.

Purpose of the training session is to prepare the unit for the inception of the new State Personnel Evaluation Program.

Kings Mountain is one of 24 pilot administrative units selected to test the new personnel evaluation system during the 1981-82 school year. All school units in North Carolina will be going to the system in 1982-83.

Classes To Begin

Mrs. Paul McGinnis of Kings Mountain will begin classes in beginners and intermediate quilting September 14-15. Registration can be made by calling Mrs. McGinnis at 739-3914.

Mrs. McGinnis recently attended the N.C. Quilt Symposium at Guilford College in Greensboro and she and 13 other craftsmen conducted a two-day workshop at Wingate College for the N.C. Agricultural Extension Service, training leaders in a specific craft. In July, she and Mrs. Hugh Smith attended a workshop at the Cleveland County Extension Office, conducted by Georgia Bonesteel of Hendersonville.
