Young On Board

Seven men and women were elected by the Baptist State Convention to serve four-year terms on the Wingate College board of trustees, beginning January 1.

Returning to the board are H. Fields Young, Jr., Shelby, NC; W.T. Harris, Charlotte, NC; Thomas B. Rushing, Marshville, NC; Jarvis A. Warren, Charlotte, NC; Dale O. Steele, Burlington, NC; and Margaret K. Shields, Robbins, NC. Curtis R. Todd, Rocky Mount, NC, is a new member.

Young, chairman of the board of Fields Young, Inc., in Shelby, has an A.B. degree from Davidson College and is a colonel in the Air Force Reserve (retired). During active duty, he attended Command and General Staff

FIELDS YOUNG

School (1944-45) and was awarded the Bronze Star. Young has held many top leadership positions in the North Carolina Division of the American Cancer Society and is currently serving on its board of directors. He has been a member of the board of directors of Shelby's American Red Cross chapter and has participated in the Masons, the Lions Club, and Oasis Temple. Young is a member of First Baptist Church, Shelby, and a member since 1976 of the North Carolina Baptist State Convention's nominating committee. He is married and has three children.

Board officers elected at the December meeting are Lloyd Y. Thayer, High Point, chairman; H. Clark Goodwin, Albemarle, vice-chairman; Dan L. Gray, Concord, secretary; and Mary Jo Mann, Coats, assistant secretary.

GOSPEL SING

There will be a New Year's Eve Night gospel singing from 8 p.m. until midnight tonight at Victory Baptist Church. Four groups will be featured. The public is invited to attend.

CORRECTION

A story in last week's Herald incorrectly stated that Rev. Kelly Dixon had pastored 116 churches. It should have stated he has spoken in 116 churches.

KM Senior Citizens Have Christmas Party

The Senior Citizens at the Kings Mountain Depot Center had their annual Christmas party on Mon., Dec. 21 at the Holiday Inn.

A turkey dinner will all the trimmings was served to over 100 senior citizens.

Rev. J.C. Goare, pastor of Kings Mountain Baptist Church, gave the invocation and read a Christmas story. Steve Barrett played his guitar and led the group in singing Christmas carols.

Bennett Masters of Masters Funeral Home sent Santa Claus and each person received a basket of fruit.

Thelma Hicks, one of the directors of the program, reported that a good time was had by all.
