

GREENSBORO REVIEW

VOL. 2.

MAY 1, 1881.

NO. 1.

RELIGION—Sixteen Ounces to the Pound, Thirty-six Inches to the Yard, One Hundred Cents to the Dollar.
EXPERIENCE—“I had my Friend—I lent my Money to my friend—I asked my money from my Friend—I lost my Money and my Friend.”

G. WILL. ARMFIELD,
Wholesale and Retail Dealers in
Dry Goods, Notions,
Boots, Shoes and Hats,
Ready Made Clothing,
GENTS' FURNISHING GOODS,
&c., &c.,
New Brick Building, South Elm St., opposite
Patriot office,
GREENSBORO, N. C.

Will. Armfield, the proprietor, late of the firm of Brown & Armfield, has just returned from the Northern market where he purchased and is now receiving the Largest, Finest, Best Assorted and Cheapest stock of all kinds of
DRESS GOODS
AND TRIMMINGS,
Hamburg and Lace Edges,
Fringes, Buttons, &c.,
LADIES' MEN'S AND CHILDREN'S Fine Shoes and Slippers
in all the latest styles and novelties of the season, cheaper than ever before.

Men's Straw, Saxony and Fur Hats
The largest stock ever brought to Greensboro, at prices lower than ever before offered.
Don't fail to examine this stock before you buy, as you can save money.

SAVE MONEY AND BUY YOUR
Groceries
FROM
Houston & Bro.
Greensboro, N. C.
Who will buy all your

Produce, Eggs, Butter,
Chickens, Rags, Sassafras Oil,
Furs, Bacon, Lard, Flour,
MEAL, CORN, OATS,
PEAS,
And will sell you

GROCERIES,
Crockery, Tin Ware, Wood & Willow Ware
Leather, &c.
On as reasonable terms as any house, regardless of what they say to the contrary.
Give Us a Call and be Convinced.
Houston & Bro.,
Wholesale Grocers and Produce Buyers
For Cash.

L. Houston,
MANUFACTURER OF
Tomstones and Monuments
Has just received two car loads of Marble, and is prepared to furnish work at short notice and low prices. Produce taken in exchange for work.
Marble Yard Between Store and Patriot Office.

Mother.
Gone to the grave before us
Back to thy native dust,
Hush'd in a sleep most glorious
O'er sin and death victorious,
Repose, till God restore us,
When judges He the just.

Whelm'd now in deep affliction
And weary, wanting rest,
Seek we thy benediction
Secure in the conviction,
That this most sore affliction,
Will work for us the best.

Dark clouds above are drifting
Between human sight and Thine,
Yet they are glory litting
This veil of shadowy shifting,
Beyond all earthly gifting,
Into a realm divine.

Weak mortals, let us ponder:
Our cross with patience bear,
Perhaps in the great yonder
Where God reveals His splendor,
And spirits never wander,
We'll meet forever there.

JOHN H. HARTMAN.
March 27th, 1880.

WHAT MAKES HOME HAPPY.
If home is the kingdom of God, and the kingdom of God home may be, it is because the spirit of God is there. It is because the woman who is the queen of that home makes home the center of her thought, her hope and her prayer. It is because the man who has sworn to love her, to honor her, and to cherish her, knows that he best keeps his path by making her home and his home glad, cheerful and beautiful; because he does not neglect and desert it. To them there grow up children who know that the noblest duty is the duty next their hand; who are glad to surprise their mother with a new pleasure, or to relieve her from some old care; children who find their father their best companion, and who have no secret from him of boyhood's or girlhood's joys and sorrows. The original trinity, the trinity from which all scholastic and ecclesiastical trinities were formed, is the sacred trinity of the father, the mother and the child, one in three and three in one. It is a life undivided; a life only perfect when each share with each, each is intertwined with each, and each sustains all.—Edward Everett Hale.

GOOD ADVICE TO MARRIED PEOPLE
A worthy wife of forty years' standing, and whose life was not all made of sunshine and peace, gave the following impressive advice to a newly-married pair of her acquaintance. The advice is so good and well suited to all married people, as well as those entering that state, that we here publish it for the benefit of such persons: “Preserve sacredly the privacies of your house, your married state, and your heart. Let no father, mother, sister or brother ever presume to come between you or share the joy or sorrows that belong to you two alone. With mutual help build your quiet world, not allowing your dearest friend to be the confidant of ought that becomes your domestic peace. Let moments of alienation, if they occur, be healed at once. Never, no never, speak of it outside; but to each other confess, and all will come out right. Never let the morrow's sun still find you at variance. Renew and renew your vow; it will do you good, and thereby your minds will grow together contented in that love which is stronger than death, and you will become truly one.”

And now Lord, what shall I say? were the words of the minister at the close of a long prayer. “Say Amen,” said softly a little cherub of the congregation. Those were the sentiments of more than one heart in that congregation, we dare say.

HANDS OFF.
Olive Logan got mad the other day and got off the following: “A woman's safeguard is to keep a man's hands off of her. If you need his assistance in walking take his arm instead of him taking yours. Just tell him in plain English to ‘hands off.’ He may not like it at first, but he will respect you in the future tenfold more. Men will be and do just what the women allow them to do. Men will not do to trust. Give a man your arm, and you will find him very confidential, and he will take many privileges he would not take if he were not permitted to do so. He will give your arm many loving squeezes and sly twists that he could have no opportunity of doing, and the opportunity is just what he is after. A few more words of advice and close: Keep your girls off the street, except when they have business. Teach them it is unnecessary to go to the post-office every time they go out. Your girl can walk alone just as well as your boys. Don't allow your girls, if they must have a beau, to go with boys much older than themselves. If possible, instill into their very nature that they are safer in their own hands than they are in the hands of any man—preachers not excepted.”

MATERNAL AFFECTION.
A recent traveler gives an account that, when he was walking on the beach in Brazil, he overtook a woman with a tray on her head. Being asked what she had to sell, she lowered the tray, and with reverent tenderness uncovered it. It was the lifeless form of her babe, covered by a neat white robe, with a garland round her neck, and her hands, that lay clasped upon its bosom.
“Is that your child?” said the traveler.
“It was mine a few days ago,” she replied, “but the Madonna has it for her little angel now.”
“How beautifully you have laid it out!” said he.
She added, cheerfully, “Ah! what is that to the bright wings it wears in heaven?”

SUNSHINE.
The world wants more sunshine in its disposition, in its business, in its charities, in its theology. For 19,000 of the aches and pains and irritations of men and women we recommend sunshine. It soothes better than morphine. It stimulates better than champagne. It is the best plaster for a wound. The Good Samaritan poured out into the fallen traveler's gash more of this than of oil. Florence Nightingale used it on the Crimean battlefields. Take it out into all the alleys, on board of all the ships, by all the sick-beds. Not a vial full, not a cupful, but a soul full. It is good for spleen, for liver complaints, for neuralgia, for rheumatism, for failing fortunes, for melancholy.

MUTUAL SYMPATHY.
We should make it a principle to extend the hand of friendship to every man who discharges faithfully his duties, and maintains good order, who manifests a deep interest in the welfare of society, whose deportment is upright, whose mind is intelligent, without stopping to ascertain whether he swings a hammer or draws a thread. There is nothing so distant from all natural claims as the reluctant recognition, the backward sympathy, the forced smile, the checked conversation, the hesitating compliance, which the well-off are apt to manifest to those a little lower down.

KEEP YOUR OWN COUNSEL.
Nothing can be more injurious to your peace of mind than to have too many confidants. You live in abject slavery every day, as you are constantly fearing that some one of your numerous confidants will reveal a secret you would not have anybody to know for all the world.

Chas. D. Yates,
Bookseller, Stationer and Newsdealer,
Greensboro, N. C.,
Invites the attention of the public to his stock of
BOOKS and STATIONERY
I also keep a well assorted supply of all the
SCHOOL BOOKS
used in Guilford and adjoining counties,
At Prices as Low as they can be Bought Anywhere.
Anything in my line furnished at bottom prices
Thankful for past patronage, I am,
Very Respectfully,
CHAS. D. YATES.

W. H. WAKEFIELD & CO.,
AT THEIR
HEADQUARTERS FOR HARDWARE,
KEEP A COMPLETE ASSORTMENT OF
GENERAL HARDWARE,
Stoves, Rakes and Hoes; Double Shovel Plows, Warranted Second to None, CARRIAGE AND BUCCY MATERIAL A SPECIALTY.

G. WILL.
DRY GOODS
BOOTS
Ready to Ge
He
of

Will Armfield will open his new stock of Goods Wednesday, April 28th and 29th, and every day there