Herbert Edwards Takes Off For Hawaii; A Thumb Is His Ticket

Herbert Edwards, a Burlington native and hitchhiking traveler, hit the roads this week for Hawaii. The adventurer has no flare for commercial means of travel. His thumb has a luring effect on highway motorists.

Edwards will thumb his way to California and then work his way over to Hawaii on a ship.

Edwards has just one unpleasant reminder of his travels to the far north: a scar on his head. He was hit by a motorist from whom he expected a ride.

The cheerful hitchhiker is always happy with people. He says he is never lonely because he is with people all the time.

He awakened a nun, brandished a rusty pistol at her, wrapped the nun in a white sheet and then pulled the trigger.

Holloway, according to Patrolman T. T. Street and J. E. Daye, was shot six times with two of the bullets lodging in his left side, one under the left arm, two in the back and one in the chin.

After a preliminary hearing in City Court Monday morning, Ragland was bound over to Wake Superior Court on a murder charge. No bond was allowed.

Holloway allegedly threatened to cut Ragland's throat after finding him present at the address upon arrival.

Ragland, after seizing Utley's gun from a closet, ran around the house with Holloway reportedly in pursuit. He then dashed around the front door and started shooting as he entered. Holloway was between the kitchen and the bedroom at this time and caught the full charge of the first bullet.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday at 2 p.m. from the Raleigh Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. M. F. Booker officiating. Burial will follow in the Finley Grove Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Armenta (Jay) Holloway; two sons, Samuel and Willie Holloway, all of Raleigh; two brothers, Fred and Joe Holloway, Raleigh; three sisters, Misses Ava and Florence Holloway, Raleigh; and Mrs. Viola Cook of Philadelphia.

400 Jamaican Farmers Stricken By Food Poisoning At Luncheon

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP)—A Government Coffee Industry board luncheon held last week in the salubrious mountain suburbs of Frankfield, came to a near tragic ending when 400 delegates were stricken with food poisoning.

The luncheon was usually one of many which took place at community associations' meetings where farmers generally celebrate a good year's harvest. This year's menu consisted of pork, mutton and the popular Jamaican dish, peas and peas.

Chairman Willie N. Henry said he had a particularly large helping, which he consumed and left for his home before he heard that delegates and friends at the meeting had fallen sick, some over the dining table.
