CAR INJURIES FATAL

GRAHAM — A 6-year-old Negro boy was killed Wednesday night when he was struck by a car on an unlighted city street.

He was identified as Jerry Albert Dantzeiler.

John D. Hester, 34, of Rt. 3, Mabans, was charged with manslaughter and driving 45 miles per hour in a 35 MPH zone. It was the second pedestrian death on the unlighted street recently.

THREATENS PATROLMAN, FLEES

GOLDSBORO — A man accused of drawing a loaded shotgun on State Highway Patrolman J. F. Allsbrook is being sought. The incident occurred as Allsbrook attempted the man last Monday afternoon. Willie Buffalo of Maryland is the suspect. His age is listed as 35.

Allsbrook said the threat took place when he tried to arrest Buffalo for the second time. Buffalo had escaped earlier arrest on charges of speeding and failure to yield the right of way. The man reportedly fled in his car while being escorted to Wayne County Jail.

in the area of student recruitment and programs for giving financial assistance to competent students. The problems of pharmacy manpower and future needs were discussed. Unless there is a decided up-turn in pharmacy enrollment among Negro students there is possibility that many stores may close at the death or retirement of the present owners. The 1960 convention will be held in Rochester, N. Y.

In his presidential address, Goodell F. Waters of Jersey City, N. J., emphasized the importance of each pharmacist assuming a greater responsibility in community and civic affairs. He also urged each of the local associations to initiate guidance and recruitment programs.

Dr. Louis D. King, Assistant Dean, Rutgers University, College of Pharmacy, in his address, emphasizing the need for more meaningful leadership programs for pharmacists, an intensified search for highly competent recruits; additional aid in scholarships for underprivileged education and a system of compulsory continuing education for pharmacists.

Church Bonus Money Rules

All purchase slips or receipts presented to your church must come from stores advertising in the CAROLINIAN. Each week carries a date in the Bonus Money period. Purchases eligible must come from the store during the week that date appears. No purchase slips representing a business should be submitted. All receipts must come from individual purchases. All churches in Raleigh and Wake County are eligible. All purchase slips must bear the name of the store from which the purchase was made. All purchase slips should be submitted in the name of the church, and should be in the office of the CAROLINIAN the Monday following close of Bonus period. In order that smaller churches may have an equal opportunity to share in the Bonus Money the following regulation is expedient: No church of over 50 members will be awarded 1st Bonus Money consecutively, 1st should a church of 200 or more members receive 1st Bonus Money after the first period it would have to wait until the third Bonus period to be presented to award. No church, except where a 200 or less members, then it could win top Bonus awards consecutively. However, this does not mean that second and third awards cannot be sought consecutively. Consequently every church group has the opportunity to secure an award every period. No purchase of over $50 per person a week for grocery purchases. There is a ceiling of $35 per person a week for purchases by more than one entry. The award will be divided. Weekly purchase totals should be shown on each packet and total placed on the outside of the envelope carrying the period's entry along with name and address. Bonus money winners will be announced in the issue following the closing of the Bonus period. All entries remain the property of the CAROLINIAN. All printing is done under the names of the Bonus Money winners are as shown in THE CAROLINIAN, and no responsibility accepted by this newspaper beyond that point. No receipts from banks will be considered, except payment on mortgages.

noted a graffito and mica formation and told the workers to brace the ditch before doing any more work. The pressure of the slipping hunk of dirt pushed down breaking the supports and trapping the men below.

"When we got the third man to the surface, it was just too late."

Another worker who went into the hole and worked for 45 minutes trying to rescue the men said "I just was trying to save a man's life. I don't even want my name in the paper." Sam Kennedy, white labor foreman for McDevitt and Street Construction Co. of Charlotte, was one of the first to climb down into the hole. He risked his own life in an effort to save the lives of the three trapped men, witnesses said.

Muldrow was the first to be freed from the ditch and Williams followed. Wall jacks had to be used to force the earth and timber braces back enough to free Williams. Both men were listed in fair condition at St. Agnes Hospital.

Contractor Wyatt said the accident occurred about 11 a. m.

Crossfiling, who had been wearing green pants and a white shirt, was identified by G. Raymond Hinton as the same man who robbed him in the cab. Hinton was driving of $19 on the night of August 8. The clothing he was wearing on that night was said to be the same one he died in after the fatal shooting.

According to Hinton's story, he picked up Crossfiling after discharging a fare in the 500 block of East Martin Street. Crossfiling threatened him at Dare Terrace to hand over all his money, got $19, and walked away. Sergeant O. L. Wilkerson said Crossfiling had a long police record, including a 5-7 year prison term for robbery from person in 1951.

Three Raleighites To Ligon's Coaching Staff

BY ALTON THORPE, JR. children, Betty and Alfred. The Pooles reside at Washington Terrace.

Three Raleigh residents will furnish new faces on the Ligon High School teaching and coaching staff for the new school year 1955-56. The three men—Albert L. Johnson, a native of Durham; Dearl J. Webster, Jr., of Rock Castle, Virginia; and Hubert A. Poole, a native Raleighite—have been appointed to the coaching staff from colorful backgrounds of sports activity.

Mr. Johnson, who will also teach science courses at Ligon, met in two years of play on the basketball team while he was a student at North Carolina College. His academic work there led to two years of graduate study.

A man of six years' military service in the U. S. Army, Mr. Johnson coached basketball and baseball teams before at the Garner Consolidated High School and also taught science and mathematics.

Mr. Johnson is married to the former Miss Freida Strickland. An issue of two children, Connie and James, has come from the union. The Johnsons reside at 118 Lincoln Court.

Mr. Webster is the football lineman, who earned the name "Toe" for his kicking ability on the NCC football squad. As a student of the St. Emma Military Academy in Virginia, he played four years of football in the positions of tackle and kick.

"Toe" Webster is a hefty 6-foot-2-inch 290-pounder whose qualifications made him an outstanding player in the CIAA Conference while at NCC.

A newly wed, Webster claims that 1955 has been a prosperous year for him and his bride, Mrs. Harriet B. Webster, a native of Wilmington.

Mr. Webster is a 1954 graduate of Saint Augustine's College and now holds a teaching position at the Mary E. Phillips School. The Websters were married on Wednesday, August 1 and reside at 902 1/2 New Bern Avenue.

Mr. Poole is a graduate of two Raleigh schools: Washington High School and Shaw University where he received his Bachelor's degree in 1950. Along with his academic achievements goes a good record of football activity as a member of the Shaw University football squad and the Little Blues, who were runners-up in the state championship in 1943. He was then captain of the Little Blues and played center position.

When the Shaw Bears became the CIAA and National Championship teams, Poole helped to make up their number. Mr. Poole is leaving five years' of athletic directorship for the Raleigh Recreation Department to assume his new post as member of the coaching staff and a social science teacher at Ligon.

He is married to the former Miss Mary F. Holden. They have two deal impartially with matters pertaining to Negroes. He accused Mr. Butler of the sin of silence, within the Republican party and in Sampson County, due to the fact that he has not taken a stand to insure the protection of the rights of Negroes, given them by the Constitution. He alleged that he was sent into North Carolina in 1948 to campaign for then Governor Thomas E. Dewey and that when he reached Raleigh, Mr. Butler was one of the first persons he met and he (Mr. Butler) proceeded to tell him where he thought the Negroes place was in the state of North Carolina.

Barnes said, "I am a Republican, but I was a Negro first and it is shudder to think what will happen when a question of the rights of a Negro has to be decided by Mr. Butler. I don't mind working with Mr. Butler to rain votes for the Republican party, but I am afraid to trust the fate of my people in the hands of Mr. Butler in a court room."

He accused the powers-that-be in the party with selecting Mr. Butler without any regard for the opinion of capable Negroes in the state. Barnes alleges to have started in politics in 1928 when President Hoover nominated the late John J. Parker for the Supreme Court. He alleges to have carried the positions that eventually blocked the late judge from sitting on the Supreme Court.

A protest was made to President Eisenhower when Mr. Butler's name was mentioned and also to Attorney General William F. Rogers and Barnes alleges that he was promised by the offices of both, that both sides would be heard. He was amazed to learn that the President had sent his name for consideration. He returned to the state Sunday after an extended trip thru New England.

Even though he is a newspaperman, Barnes reports that he kept the matter out of the newspapers and also avoided calling any outside people into it, due to the howl that usually goes up that we can settle our matters among us. He plans to leave for Washington this week, where he plans to contact everyone concerned and present his case. He alleges that he has quite a few fraternal groups, church groups and will call in the NAACP, if necessary, to bare the facts before the Senate Judiciary Committee. He also believes that he has some eastern North Carolina Republicans who will join in the fight.

9 Teachers Conduct Adult NCC Homemaking Class

DURHAM — Nine high school homemaking teachers from the state under the direction of Miss Diana S. Dent, closed its 10th Annual Adult Homemaking Class at North Carolina College recently. With a resume of activities from each class area.

Mrs. H. F. Boykins, gave a demonstration on making the most of what we have as the instructive feature of the class in Arts and Crafts. The class gave the members an opportunity to work at creative ideas in making those articles which might be considered as useless into attractive and usable articles. Mrs. Mary E. Cone and Mrs. Martha H. Johnson, instructed the class.

Two demonstrations were given from the Clothing Area, under the supervision of Mrs. Maggie P. Bailey, Mrs. Nadine L. Cunningham and Miss Bernice Titus. Mrs. Elizabeth Furgerson, demonstrated "Making a Buttonhole" and Mrs. Margaret Shaw, "Covering a Belt", with the slogan—"Sew and Save". Then a fashion review revealed these features. Mrs. Elizabeth Edwards and Mrs. Georgina McNair were narrators for the fashion review.

Mrs. Marie Clayton, narrated for the Foods Class as Alice McCollum interestingly demonstrated the basic rules for table setting. Highlighting the activities under the supervision of Miss Esther Ledbetter and Miss Pauline Jessup. Mrs. Vera Owens briefly discussed

ORGANIZED COMMUNITY GROUPS

Many accomplishments are being made in various communities in Surry County. According to Mrs. Evelyn G. Nifong, home economics agent, progress is in evidence. Projects in clean-up, mail box improvement, road naming, house numbering, fire departments, and active recreation for youth groups are taking place.

EAT A BETTER BREAKFAST Mrs. C. C. Jones, foods leader for the Camden Home Demonstration Club, recently gave a demonstration on better breakfast habits. To localize her information, Mrs. Jones called in the neighborhood children and served them refreshments in return for information concerning their breakfast habits.

Mrs. Mamie Sawyer, home economics agent in Camden County, reports that Mrs. Jones also made a survey of her community on eating habits.

According to Mrs. Mens H. Woodle, home economics agent, a letter containing helpful home-making information will be mailed to the homemakers monthly.

KNOWLEDGE IN HOUSE FURNISHING APPLIED

Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Kennedy, LaGrange, R. I., recently added a den to their home. It is adjacent to the kitchen and features a counter-bar as a divider. Storage design is unique in that the sofa is recessed between built-in cabinets that feature closed storage and book shelves.

Miss Marie Penuel, home economics agent in Lenoir County, says Mrs. Kennedy applied principles learned through home demonstrations in planning the remodeling.

VARIETY WITH VEGETABLES With summer vegetables plentiful, Polk County homemakers are learning a variety of ways for serving. In a recent survey, it was found that homemakers needed more information in vegetable cookery.

Miss Helen Neill, home economics agent, says the leaders demonstrated vegetable cookery and all club members agreed to try serving new vegetables more than once and in a variety of ways.

FIRST AID Do you know how to stop serious bleeding? Health leaders in Columbus County demonstrated various first aid procedures recently at club meetings.

PLASTIC DISHES—Most plastic dishes available today are made of melamine plastic which may be safely washed in an automatic dishwasher. Thermoplastics, however, are not safe in the dishwasher. Here's a quick test to check which type of plastic you have. Strike a match, hold the flame to the underside of the dish for a few seconds. If it is melamine there will be no melting, only a slight discoloration which may be rubbed off immediately. A thermoplastic will soften—and that is your clue not to put it in the dishwasher.
