Expose 'Dignified Lynching'

Northern City Fingered In Suppressed Lynching

JACKSON, Miss.—A Real Dignified Lynching was the title of a front-page editorial published by the Jackson Daily News on Friday in which editor James Ward sneered at the attitude of the northern press in magnifying lynchings in the South and almost completely ignoring them in the North.

There would have been screams, shouts, tears, moaning, plate-passing church revivals over a dead body," Ward said. If dairy farmer Orville A. Gibson, who was killed in Chelsea, Va., had been killed in Mississippi...

Robert C. Weir, a 48-year-old school janitor, was acquitted of charges of being an instrument of "vigilante justice" in Gibson's death.

would be deplored. Oh tears would mix with ink in editorials throughout the world. "This happened Dec. 31, 1957—nearly two years ago—but these fast-moving, swift-thinking, horse-hair-flicker, prize-winning Yankee editors hid the body all this time," wrote Ward. "They were too busy writing about southern inhumanity."

Said the editorial, "The South

All three children were witnesses of the crime, officers said.

A search party was organized to track down the man around the Georgetown community 20 miles northwest of Mobile. The woman related the following story: She was dozing while sitting in a chair at about 9 p.m. She popped awake and saw the man walking toward her, holding a white housecoat before him.

He grabbed her by the hair and dragged her into another room, where he raped her. The

Forty Angry Men Leave Union Hall

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — "As far as we are concerned, this is a slap on the face." On that note some 40 Negro delegates to the 11th United Auto Workers Constitutional Convention walked out of the closing session on Friday, protesting the signing of a new contract on the agenda.

Despite this, the remainder of the 3,000 delegates attending the convention adopted the following resolution in connection with the U. S. Supreme Court's ruling outlawing racial segregation in the schools:

"We deplore the failure of both President Eisenhower and Congress during the past three

School Auditorium Denied NAACP

WILMINGTON — A plan by local officials to use the school auditorium for a NAACP meeting was denied here last week that the NAACP had been denied the use of the auditorium of the Manning Negro Training School.

Ray Wilkins, national secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, submitted the written request by mail to Harolden L. B. McCord, county superintendent of education, said "we recognize the NAACP as our bitter enemy. We are not putting our stamp of approval on NAACP speakers."

The auditorium will seat 600 persons. The NAACP meeting had McCord branded the NAACP a "Communist-backed organization." McCord is also president of the local White Citizens Council.

Scared Man Jumps Into Cape Fear River

Commission Halts Vote Probing

WASHINGTON — The Civil Rights Commission last week decided to hold no more public hearings until the Supreme Court decides whether it must reveal the names of witnesses in voting discrimination cases and allow registrars to confront them.

Chairman John A. Hannah told newsmen after a commission meeting that the Justice Department would be asked to rush an appeal from federal court decision in Louisiana which officials said would handcuff the rights group.

The three-judge court ruled that the commission could hold no more hearings in Louisiana unless it permitted cross-examination of witnesses and permitted voting registrars accused of discrimination to confront the witnesses.

Hannah said he felt the Supreme Court probably would hand down a decision fairly quickly.

He said the civil rights group also will study the possibility of expanding its investigations.

NETTED IN DOPE RAID — Among five self-styled "Beatniks" arrested in a raid in New York's Greenwich Village recently was Ronald (Mau Mau) Jackson. Detectives said the quintet had a half-pound of marijuana in their Volkswagen station wagon, two loaded pistols in one apartment and a loaded rifle and some marijuana in another. Jackson, who faces possession of narcotics charges, is also charged with violation of the Sullivan Law. (UPI PHOTO).
