Business Manager Found Knifed And Shot In Home

(Special to THE CAROLINIAN) KATE BITTING REYNOLDS HOSPITAL, Winston Salem — According to a bulletin said to have been issued by Dr. H. Rembert Malley, who performed an emergency operation on A. I. Terrell, veteran business manager, Winston-Salem Teachers College, at 10:00 A.M. Wednesday, his patient could survive if he desired to.

The popular surgeon intimated that it was up to Mr. Terrell as to whether the questions which the state auditor went all to ask him about alleged discrepancies found in his books, at a routine check, made Monday, would be answered by the financial officer or not. His will to live seems to be the thread which will keep him living.

The business manager is said to have left his office on Tuesday morning when he was asked by State Auditor Henry Bridges and one of his aides for proof to substantiate what they thought were improper figures in the account of the college.

Mr. Terrell is said to have been found in the bathroom of his home, by his granddaughter, with bullet wounds in his head and with bad cuts on his head and right wrist.

Dr. Malley performed an emergency operation that took four hours and believes that the patient can recover. He did not describe the weapons used or the extent of the cuts found. He did say that it was a serious operation.

The CAROLINIAN called Mr. Bridges in Raleigh and was not able to locate him or any member of the staff who made the investigation.

The state official is alleged to have said, "I am not prepared to say yet how extensive the matter is or even if there is any shortage," Bridges said.

"Hot Supper" Sends Jesse James To Jail

DARLINGTON, S. C. — Jesse James, a young Darlington man, who pleaded guilty to a manslaughter charge, Monday was awarded a six year prison term by Judge J. B. Ness.

Solicitor Robert Kilgo told the full session of Darlington County Criminal Court that of the 25 persons present at the "hot supper" where the shooting of Sampson Warren, occurred, not one would admit any knowledge of the fatal shooting.

Judge Ness, in passing sentence on Gee, said it was a sad state of affairs when something like this happens and no one has the nerve to tell what they saw.

In another case, Ness sentenced a 12-year-old youth, Linwood Lewis, Jr., to the state reformatory for Negro boys until he becomes 21 years of age. Lewis pleaded guilty to making 25 obscene telephone calls to Hartsville women.

In the same case, 14-year-old Charles Douglas, another Negro, drew a five year probationary sentence, after admitting making one obscene call.

Prominent Durhamite Asks Action

BY STAFF WRITER

DURHAM — A mother who sought relief from a situation which she is alleged to have described as unbearable asked the Superior Court of Durham County, here this week, to do something about it.

Mrs. Alice J. Logan filed suit for alimony, without divorce and asks that her husband, George W. Logan, Jr., be told by the court to support their children and to give her the proper consideration a wife should receive, separate and apart from her husband.

She further asked that he be requested and demanded to pay her attorney. She also wants the court to order him to keep up the notes on the house, in order that she might have shelter and her children a suitable roof over their heads.

The plaintiff alleges that the defendant took her as his wedded wife October 2, 1942 and that he left her on October 2, 1959. The complaint further asked that Mr. Logan be instructed, told, admonished and even restricted from interfering with her in any way.

Radio Official "Disgusted" With Van Doren Treatment

William (Bill) Currie, popular announcer and official of Radio Station WRAL, strongly criticized in an impromptu speech Tuesday morning those persons who would condemn ex-quizz show whiz Charles Van Doren.

Van Doren admitted this week that he was furnished the questions and answers on the "21" television show two years ago. Currie's statements follow: "I have been disgusted to the point of physical sickness at the attitude of condemnation displayed by large segments of the public toward Charles Van Doren, the erstwhile quiz champion who bared his soul in a confession of participating in a rigged quiz show on television. In the first place, all the hypocrites who are screaming for blood and vengeance now are judging a man in direct violation of the Biblical admonition, 'Judge not, that ye be not judged.'"

Durham Men Die In Auto

DURHAM — The result of a drive, who unknowingly perhaps tries to disprove the old saying "They shall not pass" and the fact that two moving forces, propelled by gas and humans, met head-on, near Lafayette School, Rt. 401, near Lillington, Sunday afternoon, now reads two funerals here, five persons reported as fair in Rex Hospital, Raleigh, and one other still on the critical list.

The number of fatalities for the state rose two more when it is alleged that John Edward Mitchell, 48, attempted to pass another vehicle in a section of the highway that is said to have been marked

President Toure Gets Royal N. C. Welcome

BY ALEXANDER BARNES

The state capital and environs were the envy of millions of people who live in the south, who had never seen a president, to say nothing about a black president, for 48 wintling hours, Wednesday and Thursday of last week, when Sekou Toure, president of newly organized Guinea, Africa, visited.

The stage was set when Louis Lantier, chief, NNPA News Bureau, with official authorization from the State Department and the CAROLINIAN representative visited Governor Luther H. Hodges, for final briefing on the visit of the African president.

The governor lost no time in telling the press that he was acting as host to the elected leader and that he would leave no stone unturned in making his stay a credit to the state and an inspiration to the visitor and his party.

The state reception committee, headed by Governor and Mrs. Hodges set out from the capitol a few minutes late and had to race down the highway to get to the Raleigh-Durham Airport. When the party arrived, the private plane of President Eisenhower had put down and the African president and his party were waiting.

Governor and Mrs. Hodges soon were at the huge plane and the waiting line formed. It was not long before the representative of the State Department appeared and then came the smiling "Mr. T" and a

Walks 20 Miles To Surrender To Cops

YORK, S. C. — A Clover, S. C. man was jailed on murder charges Sunday after he walked 20 miles to Gastonia, N. C., to surrender to a professional bondsman.

J. W. Chambers was accused of the fatal shooting of Ola Carothers, 28-year-old mother of 5 children. The shooting occurred at the Carothers home, according to officers. Chambers lived next door, they said.

Police reported the woman ran about 20 feet and collapsed

Raleigh Civic Improvement Association Talks Voting

The Raleigh Civic Improvement Association, a newly-formed organization met Sunday at the Bloodworth Street YMCA and mapped vast plans for an all-out voting drive among this city's colored residents.

Composed of young persons, the Association has elected tentative officers and discussed ways and means of persuading non-voters of the value of the ballot.

Plans for door-to-door canvassing were discussed and approved. The idea for the new group reportedly sprang from the poor representation that is reported each time there is an election held here. Several other large North Carolina cities are being contacted for the ratio of their colored citizens voting in proportion to the overall population.
