

Odds-Ends

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 1) fence of a hundred miles would be sufficient reason to integrate the lunch counters in Winston and to continue discrimination at them in Raleigh? Are the people in Winston that much more tolerant, Christian and democratic?

Percentage wise, we would wager there are as many people in Raleigh who would vote in favor of integrated lunch counters as there are in Winston-Salem. The real difference is that the citizens here have not been allowed the opportunity to express themselves.

When the Mayor of Winston-Salem decided the matter should be resolved he appointed a committee of persons who knew would approach the subject with an open mind, persons who would, without prejudice, evaluate the total problem from an unbiased point of view and would thereby be in a position to render a decision based solely on facts pertinent to that situation.

Such a type commission was set to work, such a study and evaluation was made and a unanimous conclusion was reached that the public lunch counters in Winston-Salem should be integrated, and they were.

What happened in the capital city of North Carolina?

After a lot of running off at the mouth about using every possible legal weapon to "protect" the Raleigh merchants against the peaceful protests of the students, our good Mayor appointed a committee to study the problem and render a decision.

According to the Negro members of this group, the white members who out numbered the Negroes 9 to 6, did not at any time even consider integration. Not once, during the many sessions did these white members indicate that Negroes should not be discriminated against. It is reported that one of these true southern brothers wanted to know what would THEY ask for next should the group be weak enough to go along with this request.

In other words, it is crystal clear, that our Mayor deliberately selected and appointed whites he was satisfied would argue and vote solidly for a continuation of discrimination.

All of this means of course is that the difference between Raleigh and Winston is not one of miles, is not one of people but of Mayors. The difference in a Mayor who was willing to have the protests of the citizens heard on their merits and a Mayor who gathered himself a group who considers Negroes as THEY and THEM, objects note deserving any consideration. That should be difference enough to let Raleigh Negroes know what their Mayor thinks of them.

ALL HAIL TO OUR GRADUATES

Praise, honor and salutations to our high school and college graduates. The Raleigh area can claim around 200 high school and college graduates in the Raleigh schools alone. Of course there are many other Raleigh residents, who received diplomas this year from out-of-town institutions.

Many of these graduates received extra honors typifying their abilities and attainments. We salute such, but we feel equally as proud of those gallant souls who had to burn the midnight oil in order to maintain passing grades. We consider them the salt of the earth.
