YOUR LUCKY DAYS AND YOUR LUCKY NUMBERS

DEAR SALLY

DEAR SALLY: My best girl friend is very pretty and could get lots of dates, but she's been going around with a married man who is feeding her a big line. She tells me that he says he is trying to get a divorce, but I happen to know some other people who are acquainted with him and they say he's been carrying on like this for years. I don't want to see my girl friend make a fool of herself and get hurt, but I'm afraid that's what will happen, because she keeps saying that she's deeply in love with this jerk. Should I try to talk some sense into her head or not? MILDRED.

DEAR MILDRED: You can TRY — but if she's really in love with the "jerk," your advice will bounce right off her hard head. Some people just have to learn the hard way!

A&T Dean Will Tour 2 Countries

GREENSBORO — The dean of women at A and T College will tour western Europe and Russia this summer.

Miss Geneva J. Holmes will leave the country on July 19 for a tour as a member-representative of the Board of World of the North Carolina Conference of the Central Jurisdiction of the Methodist Church.

The tour has for its purposes to provide opportunity to learn at first hand the European perspective on international issues, to visit specialized agencies of the United Nations, to confer with outstanding national and religious leaders in those countries and to promote goodwill and understanding for peace.

Some thirty-odd members of the Church will compose the tour party. They will visit in England, France, Germany, Switzerland, Denmark, Sweden and the USSR.

Marketing quota penalty rate for the 1960-crop "excess" cotton is 184 cents a pound.

Of the 246,077 farms in North Carolina during 1959, 81,056 participated in the Agricultural Conservation Program.

shrubbery, trees, flowers, and lawn—but recently one of my neighbors intimated to me that this was rather "unladylike." Is this true? MELBA.

DEAR MELBA: Your neighbor's remarks was ridiculous! Yours is a wonderful creative hobby. Just join your local garden club, and you'll find out how many other "unladylike" ladies there are in your community.

DEAR SALLY: I'm a fellow of 20, and will be a junior in college this fall. There's a girl around here who has me in orbit. She's dating five of us fellows in the same fraternity and, according to what each of us fellows has to report, none of us is running in first place with her. She's a wonderful and considerate girl, and it's my idea that she's just too soft-hearted to concentrate her affections on just one of us guys and hurt the other four. This is fast getting me down, because I know I love her, and I want to win her for myself exclusively. Do you have any advice? JUNIOR.

DEAR JUNIOR: Somehow, I suspect that this "soft-hearted" girl of yours is having herself quite a ball. What could be more thrilling than to have five fraternity brothers all fighting for her affections? Oftentimes, though, the interest of a girl like this is perked up when transfers his attention to one of one of the fellows suddenly her sorority sisters. How about this?

DEAR SALLY: Does the fact that I happen to have a "green thumb" and love to work in my garden and around my lawn have any reflection whatsoever on my being a "refined lady"? I happen to love the outdoors and the care of my

WITH THE FARM WOMEN

(Items this week from Jones, Meclenburg, Rockingham, Henderson, Stanly and Cabarrus Counties.)

FEMININE PAINT
Feminine paint! After being discouraged by all gentlemen members of the family and store clerks too, Mrs. Albert Scott of Trenton, R. 2, waded into the job of mixing to make colors she desired.

With determination, Mrs. Scott mixed and painted until she had swatches on several lovely colors. Mrs. Ann Brock, assistant home economics agent in Jones County, says that now Mrs. Scott is coordinating colors throughout her home.

SNAKE CHARMERS
"Perhaps one of the most unusual demonstrations given at the southwestern district contest was one called 'Snake Charmers' given by Betty Cook and Lynn Dellinger of Paw Creek in Mecklenburg County. As an introduction, Lynn held the king snake while Betty charmed it with her flute.

Holding the snake was just a point of emphasis to convey to the audience that all snakes are not harmful but many are actually friends and are extremely valuable in the never ending war against rodents," says Miss Maude Middleton, assistant home economics agent.

The girls will be presenting their demonstration in the state contest during 4-H Club Week.

WORTHWHILE HOBBIES
What is your hobby? Rockingham County women discovered they had more leisure time activities than they realized at the recent countywide hobby show sponsored by the Home Demonstration Clubs.

Miss Isabelle Buckley, home economics agent, says Mrs. Robert Groff saved more than $100 by making her daughter's trousseau. Several of her dresses were modeled during the hobby show.

Mrs. W. A. Cox reported that canning was her hobby and had saved many dollars on her grocery bill.

CURB MARKET
A farm agent from Texas who was on a tour for the Southeastern States Agents, remarked that the Henderson County curb market was the most interesting and most different thing he had seen on their tour of over 1,600 miles.

Mrs. Kathleen C. Hodges, home economics agent, reports the women who sell on the market were happy to tell those on the tour of crafts, jellies, preserves, dried flowers, and other commodities which they sell as a means of increasing their family income.

EXCHANGE STUDENT VISITS COUNTY
Stanly County people are delighted to have an International Farm Youth Exchange Student visiting in their county. She is Dorothy Gilliam Davies of Wales, She is residing with the Wyatt McSwain family of the Endy community. The McSwains own and operate a dairy farm.

Miss Peggy Burke, assistant home economics agent, says Jill feels quite at home there since she lived and worked on a dairy farm before coming to the state.

CLUB PROJECTS
Home Demonstration clubs select various projects each year. In Cabarrus County this year, they contributed to local fund drives such as cancer, United Fund, polo, and others. They contributed approximately $250 to the 4-H Development Fund.

Mrs. Sara H. Stewart, home economics agent, reports that other projects include making clothes, quilts and quilts for needy families; sending clothes, gifts and cards to children's homes; giving time and money to retarded children's camp; mail box improvements; reading to older people in the community; and giving programs in nursing homes.

The August 1 carry-over of cotton is expected to be 7.8 million bales—down from 8.9 million last year.
