

Livingstone College Students Welcomed By Merchants

Salisbury Students Given Warm "Hello" By City's Businesses

SALISBURY — The Salisbury merchants, who are proud of the influence of Livingstone College on the city, and the vast market it affords, have taken advantage of the columns of THE CAROLINIAN to express their gratitude. It is another of the many services of the state's leading weekly to serve all the people of the state.

Salisbury has always been one of the unique college towns of the state. The fine relationship that exists between the townspeople and the college is one that could be well copied by some of the other towns and cities of the state.

The presidents who have served the college have all made outstanding contributions to the life of the city. President Emeritus W. J. Trent served in many capacities in the interest of the city.

President S. E. Duncan, a native and his family have long since been a landmark and have contributed to the growth and development of the city. The firms listed herein have nothing but praise for the faculty and the students.

It is to be remembered that the business people of the city spearheaded the drive for the huge building program, which has now reached the $1,000,000.00 mark.

Many of the older residents of the city are pleased to recount the fine experiences that they have enjoyed with persons connected with the college and like to reminisce about the growth and development of the capstone of education for the AME Zion Church.

Fire Safeguards For The Home Are Told

If every member of the family knows what to do in case of fire, your home may someday be saved from severe property damage or loss of life.

Families are urged to work out a simple emergency plan that is understood and even rehearsed periodically, by all members of a family, so that

Odd Twists In The News

"BOTTLED SPUTNIK"—S. AFRICA'S LATEST DRINK CRAZE

JOHANNESBURG, S. Africa — Reflecting the tension now present in many African colonies, natives of Thokaza location, Alberton, apparently trying to forget their troubles, are reported taking copious draughts of South Africa's deadliest drink—Bottled Sputnik—a mixture of methylated spirits and aviation fuel.

The "liquid lightning" sells for 35 cents for one-fourth of a quart—about 10 cents less than brandy. Native "queens" say it's become the most popular liquor among hardened drinkers. "Two drinks," they say, "and you'll go home and rob your own trunk."

INNOCENT-LOOKING "TANK" LOADED WITH 250 LBS. OF TNT

COLUMBIA, S. C. (ANP)—Silas Robinson, last week found a large, iron tank which he and his helper took to a junk company to convert its bulk into cash. Frank Brunk, junkyard owner, said, "It's a bomb each one knows his part thoroughly. Basically the plan involves calling the fire department and giving directions for getting to your home, getting the family out, and saving animals or farm livestock.

All homes should have some equipment for putting out small fires and preventing large ones from spreading. Such household and garden tools as a broad, sturdy rake, extra lengths of garden hose, hatchets, axes, shovels, brooms, crowbars, and a light portable ladder that reaches to the roof are all valuable in fighting fire and should be kept handy and ready for use.

Of several types of fire extinguishers, it is suggested that you use only those approved by the Underwriters Laboratories or Factory Mutual Laboratories. The inexpensive, pump-tank using plain water are for wood, paper, cloth, rubbish, grass and brush fires. They are easy to use and effective from a distance of 30 to 40 feet.

Dry chemical types are for flammable liquid and electric fires and can be refilled right at the fire. One of these should be kept in the kitchen, and others near any stationary engines or motors on the property.

Avoiding fire hazards also is a vital part of safeguarding your home against damage. Be careful in your everyday activities of disposing of trash, using flammable liquids, and operating power tools and equipment.

Fire Prevention Week is October 9-15.

and a big one." Bunk, also a warrant officer in the Army Reserves called in an ordnance team from nearby Ft. Jackson.

Junkyard employees fled in all directions when the ordnance men said the bulky object was a 500-lb. World War II bomb, loaded with 250 pound of highly explosive TNT. The soldiers took it to Ft. Jackson and exploded it, the detonation being heard all over the city.

ODD TWISTS IN WINDOW SIGNS

ELKIN, N. C. (ANP)—Local Republicans have set up headquarters here in part of a building being vacated by a radio-television repair shop.

The lease entitles the GOP to the use of one of the two display windows. Thus, signs in one window boost the Nixon-Lodge ticket; in the other, a sign says, "Going Out of Business."

OBLIGING HEN BRINGS EGGS TO HOUSEWIFE'S KITCHEN

ALBEMARLE, Va. (ANP)—A black bantam hen has achieved maximum egg-producing efficiency at a farm home near Aquadale.

According to Mrs. C. S. Huneycutt, the hen makes personal delivery of the eggs—lays them right in her kitchen handy to the frying pan.

Mrs. Huneycutt said the hen slips into the house through a small hole in the screen door, lays her daily egg in an old churn in the kitchen and leaves.

"It's real handy," she said.

Board Of Education Picketed

CHICAGO, Ill. — Chicago CORE picketed the Board of Education demanding that empty classrooms be used to eliminate half-day sessions. But the Board, occupied with the sale of candy bars in the school cafeterias, ignored the protest.

Violate Spirit of Court

Dr. Faith Rich, chairman of CORE's school committee, called the existing situation discrimination against Negroes and Puerto Ricans. "Double shifts violate the spirit if not the letter of the Supreme Court decisions that all Americans are entitled to equal educational opportunities," said Dr. Rich. 30,000 Chicago school children will be on double shifts this fall. CORE found potential space for an additional 50,000 children in 117

Livingstone College Develops The Whole Person In Many Areas

SALISBURY—Founded in 1827, Livingstone College is a co-educational Church-related college operating under auspices of the African Methodist Episcopal Zion Church. Composed of two integral parts: the college of Liberal Arts, which offers courses leading to the degrees Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts; and Hood Theological Seminary, which offers professional training for the Christian ministry, particularly in the AME Zion Church, with courses leading to the Bachelor of Divinity degree.

At Livingstone emphasis is placed on student initiative, the development of self-expression, scholarly achievement, and producing a quality student well-rounded and competent to serve his fellowman.

From 1940 to 1958 the output per man hour of farm labor rose 117 per cent.

Fluid milk prices in the U. S. continued to rise in August, at producer and consumer levels.
