Enfield Cleric Nabbed

BY J. B. HARREN
ENFIELD—This Halifax County town was all astir Thursday, December 29, when it became known that a Baptist minister and his woman accomplice had been jailed on false pretense charges in connection with their solicitation of funds here for a burned-out church. The local St. Paul Baptist Church here on U.S. 301 was completely destroyed by fire on Christmas morning just before dawn. The brick-venered edifice was only insured for about $5,000, according to the trustees. Police arrested the Rev. Robert T. Carr whose address was listed on a driver's license as being 519 Goldsboro St., Wilson, N. C., age 60, and Miss Herlean Coley, of Fremont, after they had allegedly cashed a check in Weldon which had been given as a donation—supposedly for the Enfield St. Paul church. Officers state the couple had received around $200 in their solicitations.

Patrolman Denies Use Of Profanity

The Rev. Joseph W. Jackson, pastor of the Antioch Baptist Church, North Hills, Pa., and former president of the North Hills branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, told a reporter last Wednesday night that a State Highway Patrolman used profanity in citing him to appear in court, in the presence of the minister's wife. The patrolman denied cursing in the presence of Rev. Jackson or his wife. Highway Patrolman Robert R. East, is alleged to have stopped the minister's car, traveling south, at 3:24 p.m. last Wednesday. The cleric, driving a 1959 sedan, said that he was driving south to Georgia behind a man on Highway No.

Elks' Daughter Ruler Dies In NY After Long Illness

STATEN ISLAND, N. Y.—The death of Mrs. Nettie Carter Jackson, Grand Daughter Ruler of the IPBOE of W occurred last week after an illness of several months. Despite the severity of her ailment Mrs. Jackson continued to perform her duties almost to the hour of passing. The demise of the leader of 100,000 fraternal women leaves a great void in the ranks of the organization. Mrs. Jackson was born in Staten Island and lived there all of her life. She was an ardent organization woman, full of enthusiasm and possessed unusual qualities of leadership that propelled her to the top in whatever group she belonged. Her career in the Elks started when she helped organize and was a charter member of Raritan Temple No. 218 of Staten Island. She served as D. Ruler, District Deputy, Senior Mother of Aurora Juvenile Class No. 54, Financial Secretary of Raritan Temple No. 218, Recording Secretary of Alpha Past Daughter Rulers Council, Financial Secretary of Council, Chairman of Public Relations and State Secretary. She served as secretary of the Civil Liberties Department under the late J. Dalmus Steel and was Vice Chairman to the Pilgrimage to John Brown Farm working closely with Mrs. Bertha McKanlass, Grand Directress of Shrine Department. Upon the death of Elizabeth Eoss Garden in November 1951, Mrs. Jackson succeeded to the position of Grand Daughter Ruler and was re-elected each year to this post, the highest in the largest women's fraternal order in the country. Mrs. Jackson was praised and esteemed for the imaginative and progressive innovations made during her tenure.

Top Housing Position To R. Weaver

PALM BEACH, Fla. — Robert C. Weaver of New York City was named by United States President-elect John F. Kennedy last Saturday to be administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency. This would be the highest government executive position ever held by a Negro in the country. Weaver is a former professor of economics at A&T College, Greensboro, N. C. However, Weaver's appointment may become a matter of controversy, because he is currently chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People and an advocate of racially desegregated housing. He said

Bishop Spottswood Emancipation Orator

DURHAM—Paraphrasing the famous words of General Farragut, as he steamed up Mobile Bay, "Dam the torpedoes. Full steam ahead", Bishop Stephen Gill Spottswood, third district AME Zion Church, told an overflow audience at the Emancipation Celebration here this week that these were perilous times and the Negro should let the world know that he had just begun to fight. The militant prelate began by telling the audience he did not want to take anything from Abraham Lincoln, but his proclamation was issued in September, 1862, and was not effective until January 1, 1863. The bishop said that the young people of 1960 caught the spirit of older people who began to sit in as early as 1932 in Buffalo, New York, and 1948 in Washington. "The results obtained by the Negro students in 1960 is the natural fruit of freedom. He told his hearers that the 150 laws passed by the several state legislatures against integration (CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

He will be represented by three attorneys, Victor S. Bryant, Durham; Guy Elliott, mayor of Kinston; and McKinley Battle, Kinston. Operator of the Durham Surgical Supply, Phillips denied the slaying of Mrs. Ruth Graham Tillery, a widow and the mother of two children. SBI agent J. B. ## Sit-Ins Voted Top 1960 Story

BY ASSOCIATED NEGRO PRESS
The emergence of a new leadership and the refinement of a rediscovered technique in the Negro's continuing struggle for full equality in the United States as demonstrated in the sit-in demonstrations was the biggest and most important single news story of 1960. This is the consensus of the editors and correspondents of the Associated Negro Press. A group of college students in Greensboro, N. C., last February rediscovered the sit-in technique which historians have traced back over the decades to the great Frederick Douglass who is credited with having made effective use of it. It spread like wild-fire igniting militant flames in more than 300 communities, confounding the South and ruthlessly ripping up ingrained racial customs. It sent attorneys back to their law books, provoked special legislative sessions, aroused new and bitter racial animosities and even forced an uncertain Eisenhower to make a half-hearted approving comment. For a year notable for achieve-

ODDS-ENDS

BY ROBERT G. SHEPARD
Bring ye all the tithes into my store house, saith the Lord. UNFINISHED BUSINESS
Another year has begun. It can be a year of hope, promise and fruition if we make it so. Much good was accomplished in 1960, many things were attempted, many new areas were covered. Ways and means were discovered and used which formerly were strange to us. Possibly the most worthwhile gain of the whole year was the awakening of our people in this community, the great awakening to the fact that God helps those who help themselves. 1960 was the year when the ministry of our city began to realize it had a duty to help prepare its people for a fuller life on earth as well as to help them get ready to enjoy the glories of heaven. ## Local Women Hear Hospital Administrator

The Raleigh Council of Negro Women observed its Founder's Day recently at the home of its president, Mrs. Gila S. Harris. Featured speaker for the occasion was W. F. Andrews, administrator of the new Wake County Memorial Hospital, who outlined the goals of the facility. A special project decided upon at this meeting was the distribution of International Date Books by the regional director, Miss Louise Latham. When questioned about the employment of nurses at the hospital, Mr. Andrews said that the hospital would be finished this month, six months overdue, and would start operations in March. He said no employees have been hired as yet. The hospital, which will contain 350 beds, cost $5,400,000. Some 57 physicians will be on the staff. Thirty-three graduate nurses from the staffs of St. Agnes and Rex Hospitals (CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

LIVE IN TENTS — A "tent city" resident carries one of her children as she goes for some fire wood. Negroes, who claim they were evicted from their farm homes because they registered to vote, are living in tents while the courts debate the issue.
