ODD-ENDS

God whom we profess to serve also made the people we say are our enemies. He created the rulers and the peoples of the Communist nations. They are as susceptible to His almighty power as we are. But, do we believe this?
Do we believe it sufficiently to cause us to get down on our collective knees and ask God to forgive us our iniquities, to remove the scales from our eyes, to establish His Kingdom within our hearts, and to enable us to be convinced without a shadow of a doubt that we are RIGHT and that the other fellow is necessarily wrong?
We are told that "the prayers of the righteous availeth much." How righteous are we? How much love do we really possess. Have we come so far in all other things while at the same time moved so far away from God that we are afraid to trust our security, our well being and our future to Him?
We say we are civilized. We even say that we have reached the highest level of civilization ever before attained by man. We say that this high level of civilization is based upon Christianity. Well, is it? Can it be when three-fourths of our national budget will this year be allocated to arms.
If God be the giver of all good, He can give us peace and protection. He can but He won't unless our hearts are ready for these gifts. And our hearts will never be ready to receive these gifts until we began to LOVE. Until we can see our faults and correct them before we cast our hypocritical eyes in the direction of the other fellow and stop blaming him for all the troubles now manifested in this world.
We are not disputing any of the "facts" our readers have presented to us. We believe that the situation today is fraught with gravity and that anything can happen. We believe that in no way causes us to believe that there isn't anything we can do about the situation short of warfare.
With all of our heart, we believe that, if with humility, meekness, love and understanding, we honestly approach the throne of God, and ask Him to show us how we can resolve these dark vistas into peace, harmony and brotherhood, He will do so. He said He would. We have found in our own small experience that He always keeps His promise when we serve Him in the way which He has ordained.
God grant that we may, even now, with wondrous banqueting heavily over our heads, that we can realize that civilization does not depend upon armaments, military might and manpower. It rests upon God who made all nations to dwell in peace and harmony upon the earth He created.

AN UNYIELDABLE POSITION
We applaud the decision of the Raleigh School Board to assign 8 Negro children to previously all-white schools here. We think that it is a step in the right direction. The school board said that the decision to assign these 8 students, all of whom live in the Oberlin section of the city, that it was motivated by the fact that these children had to pass other schools in order to get to the school (Ligon) to which they had previously been assigned.
Now, as we have said this was good and proper. What I wonder now is what reason can the school board give for not assigning all the children in Oberlin who are similarly situated.
We understand that a rather large number of Oberlin students will, under their present assignment, be compelled to pass the schools in their neighborhood and travel, by bus, to the Ligon school several miles distant. Who will say that these children too, do not deserve the same consideration given to the 8 who have properly been reassigned. Will anyone argue that the rights of this larger group of students are not being denied them.
We hope and pray that the day will soon come in Raleigh and elsewhere, when the rights of all persons will be respected and granted simply on the basis of right. Until that day comes, the courts are our only peaceful and logical recourse.
It would seem to us that the suit now pending against the school board for its failure to integrate the Raleigh schools, according to law, should be amended so as to require the school board to give that larger group of Oberlin students who must still attend the Ligon school, the same relief it has given the 8 whom it has reassigned. The way we see it, the position of the school board in this matter is wholly untenable.

CALLING YOU!
Did you forget to join the Raleigh Citizens Association? Did you forget to take some one to Room 202, Wake County Court House to register? If you have, will you please do both of these things today while you think of them. Many thanks.

OMEGAS CLOSE 50TH MEETING IN WASHINGTON
tion's leading scholars and government figures, headed by U. S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy, addressed the sessions. The meeting centered around daily discussions of the fraternity's four cardinal principles: Manhood, Scholarship, Perseverance, and Uplift.
Grand Marshal William D. Martin and the host official chapters in Washington were credited with "the finest and most significant of all conclaves."
Indianapolis, Ind., home of the newly elected Grand Basileus, Alty. Cary D. Jacobs will be the scene of the 1952 conclave in December.
Jacobs succeeded Dr. I. Gregory Newton, professor of political science at North Carolina College Durham. Other officers elected included: George Meares of New York, 1st Vice Grand Basileus; Robert Tucker of New Orleans, 2nd Vice Grand Basileus; J. B. Blayton, Atlanta, Ga., Keeper of Finance; Jeff Greenup of New York, Grand Counselor; and Ellis F. Corbett, Greensboro, N. C., Editor of the ORACLE.
The fraternity's historic anniversary singled out its three surviving founders for special citations. They are Bishop Edgar Love of Baltimore; Dr. Oscar Cooper, Philadelphia; and Dr. Frank Coleman, Washington, D. C.
Memorial services were held for founder.
Federal Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver opened the anniversary's discussion on scholarship by emphasizing the creative value of academic scholarship in solving daily problems. He urged Americans also to pay new and special attention to recruiting students of potential excellence for advanced study.
Ohio State Football Coach Woody Hayes and NC College Track Coach Leroy T. Walker joined Elizabeth City State Teachers College President Walter Ridley and Vice Grand Basileus Edley Tucker in highlighting the discussion on Manhood.
Joining in the discussion of "The Fraternity in the Field of Human Relations" were Oliver W. Hill, Assistant to the Commissioner of Intergroup Housing, FHA; Dr. James M. Dabbs, President, Southern Regional Council; Dr. Carl Hanson, Superintendent of Schools, Washington, D. C., and Frank D. Reeves, National Democratic Committee-man from the District of Columbia.
At the closing session of Perseverance, the scheduled speakers were: Dr. R. E. Kalfa, Caulker, Ambassador of Sierra Leone, W. Africa and the Hon. E. M. Debrah, representing the Ambassador of Ghana and a representative from Nigeria.
Social highlights included social occasions with dance music furnished by Wild Bill Davis, Duke Ellington, and Count Basie.
For the ladies and children, a full program of activities was unrolled all week.
H. Carl Moultrie, III is the fraternity's National Executive Secretary.

City Buses In Columbus, Ga. Are 'Peacefully Integrated'

BY DR. EMORY G. DAVIS
COLUMBUS, Ga. (ANP)—Peaceful integration of this city's buses was achieved Tuesday despite 13 recent arrests of persons trying to break the segregated seating.
Rev. J. W. Hurley, pastor Saint James AME Church, chairman of the executive committee of the Columbus Youth Movement, militant segregation fighters, led a group of 20 persons who boarded various buses throughout the city and rode, sitting in front seats and next to white occupants, throughout the morning. No incidents were reported.
The change of policy came after negotiations between the youth group, transit officials and city commissioners. Rev. Hurley, who took over the executive chairmanship of the group the first of July reports officials were very reluctant to do anything in face of state and city law. He said that the bus company stated they would lose their charter, to which he suggested they change their charter in view of the fact that nearly 90 percent of the bus patronage comes from Negroes. A counter excuse by transit authorities that drivers have the right to seat passengers was met with a demand on the part of the racial negotiators that drivers be instructed differently or a boycott would be launched by the group. The transit officials admitted that business had fallen off substantially since the recent arrests.
