Officer Suffers Possible Broken Nose; 20 Nabbed

The lure of Rock 'N Roll music and the failure of some individuals to constrain themselves in a crisis brought terror to dance fans at Memorial Auditorium Monday night.

The dropping of a whiskey bottle, in the middle of the floor and failure of the believed owner to cooperate with the police set off a clamor that ended in one man being shot in the foot, one police officer beaten and mauled, others bit, scuffed and manhandled, and twenty persons booked at the local police station.

SELLERS

The trouble is said to have started when Officer W. G. Arnold picked up a bottle, believed to contain whiskey and proceeded to arrest one Ann Howard who gave a Durham address, for displaying whiskey in public. She was not too desirous of having the officer take the whiskey and then requesting her to accompany him to City Hall.

Her resentment sent her alleged brother James Howard, who police are said to have believed to be a woman, to her rescue. James began protesting the seeming arrest and actually detained it for sometime by attacking the police. When the dusk settled down Arnold was suffering from bruises, abrasions and general disorders as the result of having been handled by James and many other persons. He was also minus his gun and other particulars that are used by police.

Leader Praises Governor

The state president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said Saturday his meeting with Gov. Terry Sanford on Friday was encouraging and productive.

"I was impressed with the sincere approach made by the governor to the problem of Negro employment," said Kelly M. Alexander of Charlotte.

A NAACP delegation met with the governor to discuss the use of race as a criterion in job selection for private industry.

The group presented the governor with a written plea urging desegregation of the files of the State Employment Service. They also asked for a local study of a North Carolina law which provides that Negro and white "militia" be enrolled separately.

Southeastern Dist. Women Hold Meet

LUMBERTON — Five-hundred women, members of the Southeastern District Home Demonstration Clubs, came into town Wednesday and held the 17th annual session of the federation.

Citizens Comment On Election

The coming vote on the Bond Issue is causing much concern among race people, throughout the state. From a survey made by the CAROLINIAN most of the proposals will carry. However, there are some who feel that some of the items can wait until more urgent causes and needs have been taken care of.

Dr. Grady D. Davis, dean of the school of religion at Shaw University, said: "I am greatly in favor of it. I feel that the issue has economic, educational and cultural

Baby's Death Probed

A seven-month-old girl found dead in a house about two miles east of Knightdale last week died of pneumonia and neglect, Coroner M. W. Bennett said Monday night.

Coroner Bennett ordered an autopsy after the badly decomposed body was found by the child's aunt, Mrs. Janie Lee Kearney, about 2:30 in the afternoon.

The mother, Mrs. Lucy Mae Giles who was located in Raleigh later in the day, told Coroner Bennett the baby was alive when she left home that morning about 8:30. She said she gave the baby a bottle of milk.

Dr. L. J. Kassa, pathologist at Wake Memorial Hospital who performed the autopsy, said that his examination showed the baby had been dead from 18 to 24 hours when it was brought to him.

Domestic Relations Court Judge Mason P. Thomas Jr. said that his court was conducting an investigation into circumstances in the baby's death.

PROWLER IS CAUGHT AT WAKE HOME

Sheriff's Deputies reported Thursday the arrest of Willie Junior Hall, 24, of Raleigh, Rt. 2, on a charge of attempted first degree burglary.

Deputy L. W. Kelly said Carl B. Dickerson of Hodge Road, some eight miles east of Raleigh, was awakened about 2:45 a.m. Thursday by someone cutting the screen on his window.

Dickerson switched on some outside lights, Kelly said, and the prowler fled across a field. Dickerson grabbed a shotgun and gave chase, halting Hall on the other side of the field.

DEMOCRATS PICKET BUILDING — A band of Democrats picketed the City-County Building in Pittsburgh last week to protest what they claim is discrimination in giving out political jobs. City hall has allegedly given out little patronage to Negroes in proportion to the votes they supply.

Wake Man Fatally Shot; Suspect Sought In Nash County Vicinity

ZEBULON—Owen Thomas High, 25-year-old Negro, was shot in the stomach with a 12-gauge shotgun here Saturday night and died shortly after he was carried to a Raleigh Hospital.

Police Chief Willie B. Hopkins said Monday that Nash County officers are looking for a suspect who is believed to be in Nash County. No warrant had been issued, however.

The fatal shooting occurred on the parking lot at Parrish's Market here about 9:30 or 10 p.m. Saturday, Hopkins said. High was rushed to Wake Memorial Hospital and died about 15 or 20 minutes after he was admitted. Hopkins said no motive had been discovered in the shooting.

High, who lived on Rt. 4, Zebulon, is survived by his wife, Mrs. Rosa Mae High; three daughters, Eva Mae, Ada Denise and Evert, all of the home; his mother, Mrs. Marie High of Zebulon; nine sisters, Mrs. Lynn Washington of Petersburg, Va., Mrs. Margie Pretty of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Magnolia Richardson, Mrs. Alice Daniels, Miss Cora High, Mrs. Theodosia Mitchell, Mrs. Katie Mails, Miss Dorothy High, and Miss Cora High, all of Zebulon, three brothers, Otis of New York, James of Durham, and Otha of Baltimore, Md.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at Beavers Chapel Christian Church with the pastor, the Rev. Young officiating. Burial will be in the Wakefield Church Cemetery.

New National Baptist Convention Sets Meet

CINCINNATI, Ohio—Final plans are now being made for the meeting called for the organization of a New National Baptist Convention by the volunteer Chairman, Rev. L. V. Booth. The sessions will be held at Zion Baptist Church, 630 Glenwood Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio, Nov. 13, 14, 15, 1961.

A Pre-Convention Musical is planned for Monday evening, the 13th and will be under the direction of James V. Roach, minister of music in Zion Baptist Church. He will also direct the music each evening of the session. Other convention music each day will be under the direction of Mrs. Loretta C. Mangrum Bush outstanding composer and organist.

It is expected that there will be an outstanding array of Baptist dignitaries whose sole purpose will be to observe only. The program is being arranged for the enjoyment and inspiration of all who attend. Only registered delegates will participate in business sessions. The public is invited.

General Baptist Convention Underway At Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE —The 94th annual session of the General Baptist State Convention, Inc. and Laymen's League Convention, got underway here Monday when Baptist converged upon this militaristic town.

Registration began at 1 p.m. and Rev. O. J. Rooks led the opening session, with devotions. The meeting opened on the theme, "Our God Is Times Like These." The first sessions featured the Laymen's League. Miss Willie M. Brown spoke on "Christian Etiquette." She discussed the good manners of a Christian in times like these.

The role of the laymen in the Baptist Church was treated by E. L. Peterson, while Mrs. Nell L. McCracken talked of the motivating actions that make a league move. This session closed with the appointment of committees.

The executive committee met at 4:00 p.m. It was then that the agenda of operation was outlined and everyone was apprised of what the organization would do at the sessions.

The evening session was addressed by Dr. P. H. Johnson. He told what advantages are to be obtained by having a trained laity. He dwelt on the fact that trained leadership needed trained followship. The convention sermon was preached by Rev. B. L. Boone, Windsor. Music was furnished by the Dr. J. A. Nimmo Singers, Greenville. It is to be remembered that the name-

Bus Integration Effective

WASHINGTON—The chairman of the Interstate Commerce Commission said Monday there would be prompt and efficient enforcement of new ICC rules against racial segregation in bus transportation facilities.

Chairman Everett Hutchinson said any violation of the order, which went into effect Wednesday, will be treated in the same manner as infractions of other ICC rules.

The new regulations forbid buses from using terminals which have segregated facilities of any kind. Each bus and terminal must display signs declaring that bus seats and station facilities are available to all travelers without regard to race, creed, color or national origin.

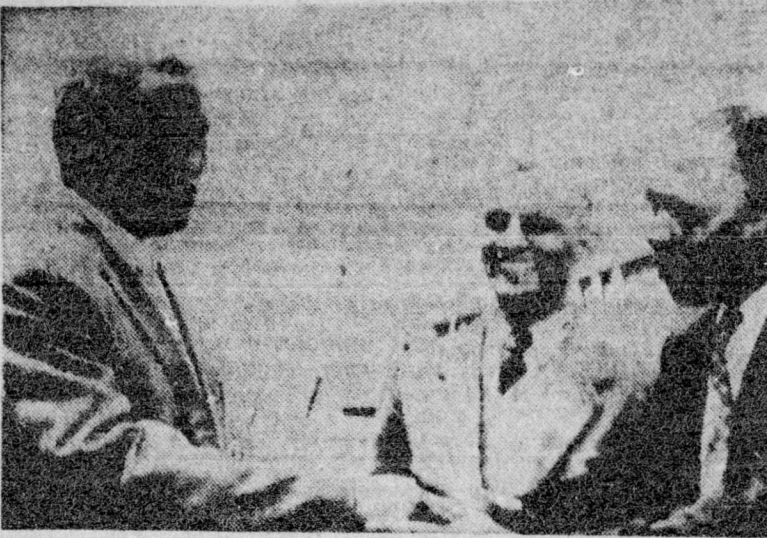

Hutchinson said bus operators will be required to report any interference with their efforts to comply with the rules. The ICC Bureau of Motor Carriers field officers will investigate such reports.

If there is a need for court action, the field office may refer the case to U. S. District Attorney in the area involved, who can seek a court order prohibiting continued violation.

WEATHER

Commission To Be Asked For Funds

The Raleigh School Board is finding itself in a tight position to provide money to furnish classrooms for the children of its growing population. It has long since been known that two of its new residential sections are bursting at the seams, when it comes to children of school age.

Biltmore Hills-Rochester Heights project has been placed in the number two spot of the building program and work might have been started had it not been that one of the subdivisions is reported to be out of line with prevailing prices in that field.

The North Hills project is causing a second look, due to the fact that the program is geared on urgency and the school needs of that community have zoomed past the anticipated growth.

POST MORTEM

We have finally finished going through the Carolinian's 68-page, 20th anniversary edition. Besides from somebody forgetting to number the pages, we think it represented a pretty good effort on the part of the Carolinian's management and staff. It is hardly likely that anything comparable to it has ever been seen in these parts.

We think the reading material was good, pertinent and quite informative. The Carolinian's readers were given the opportunity not only to read about the individuals, groups, organizations and facilities which keep the wheels turning (CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)
