BEATING THE GUN

BY BILL BROWER FOR ANP

A new frontier opens up in sports this month. The American Basketball League is competing for the sports dollar as the second major league in basketball.

What will probably interest us most are the fortunes of the Cleveland Pipers, who will be coached by Johnny McLendon. McLendon, it will be readily recalled, coached at Tennessee State and North Carolina College for several years, compiling the second best won-loss percentage in college history.

As the only team coach in professional basketball, McLendon not only will be singular but his degree of success is certainly to be measured closely.

He will have a mixed team, fairly evenly divided between white and tan athletes. This sort of combination is nothing new to McLendon. He coached the Pipers for two seasons when the team participated in the National Basketball League, and the National Basketball Industrial League. The Pipers did very well under Johnny and last year won the championship. The NBL is something of an amateur league, with the players receiving no money for playing basketball but have suitable outside employment.

McLendon's team also capped the Amateur Athletic Association's title and Johnny merited the honor of coaching an American team against the Russians. On his squad was Jerry Lucas, the great All-American at Ohio State.

McLendon has some of the boys back for a venture in the pro realm. Among them are Billy Warley, a strong pivot or corner player, and Johnny Barnhill, clever floorman. Both had performed for him at Tennessee State when McLendon's teams were winning the National Intercollegiate Athletic Association's titles.

Right now, the most important cog in McLendon's plans has been sidelined by litigation. Dick Barnhill, who was a star last season with the Syracuse Nats, jumped to the Pipers and his old coach (he also played at Tennessee State). A court ruling has barred Barnhill from playing with the Cleveland team pending a final disposition.

Others on the Pipers' roster include Gus Guydon, a dunk shot artist from Drake University; Grady McCollum, a holdover from last year's Pipers, and Rossie Johnson, also from Tennessee State.

The founder of the American League is none other than the Sabersstein, whose Harlem Globe Trotters will be used as hypno purposes at the gate when necessary. Saperstein, who will be the commissioner, also will operate the Chicago entry. His presence on the scene assures that there will be plenty of color.

Teams will represent such cities as Washington, Kansas City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Hawaii, Pittsburgh, Cleveland and Houston. Some great college performers who couldn't make it in the other National Basketball Association have found an opportunity in the new league. These include Hal Lear, who once set a National Collegiate Athletic Association shooting record, and Cal Ramsey, once a scoring record holder at New York University. Both performed last season in the Eastern League, a weekend pro league.

We are glad to see a new circuit get under way. There seems to us to be plenty room for more pro basketball teams.

Gives 75 Points, Wins

TALLAHASSEE—Sports Editor Bill McGrotha of the Tallahassee Democrat reports the following "true story" in a recent column:

"This is a true story. A Tallahassee attorney was sitting with a friend before the Florida A&M kick-off against Bethune. The attorney sought a friendly wager. He was offered Bethune-Cookman and 75 points. He took it. Final score: A&M 76, Bethune-Cookman 0."

Hampton, Prairie View To Host Homecoming Foes Sat.

HAMPTON, Va. (ANP)—The Hampton Institute Pirates, unscathed on in their last three games, and Prairie View, fighting to regain its former position among the football powers, will share the homecoming spotlight, Nov. 11 when they play hosts to Tuskegee Institute and Bishop College.

The Pirates, led offensively by Willie Holland, the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association's leading scorer, and defensively by the duo of Currie Ball and Willie Ingram, are geared for a rugged contest with Tuskegee. Prairie View will top a busy weekend of festivities with the game against the Bishop Tigers. Reigning as homecoming queen for PV at the game will be Mrs. Minnie Alfred Stringfellow of Baytown, Tex.

Nelson Guthrie Runs For Deciding Score In Game

Winston-Salem Teachers College pushed 48 yards for a third quarter touchdown that set back St. Augustine's College 13-8, here Saturday.

Nelson Guthrie, one of the CIAA's top ground-gainers, ran 13 yards for the deciding score after the Falcons led at the half 3-6.

Winston marched 50 yards in the second quarter with Ivory Roberts throwing 14 yards to Emmanuel Weatherspoon for a touchdown. But St. Augustine's came back with a 67-yard drive featured by a Leo Williams to Robert Headen pass good for 57 yards.

Gerald White took it over from the three. Williams then passed to Robert Felder to give the Falcons their two-point halftime lead.

Winston-Salem now has a 5-1-1 record for the year while the Falcons are 3-3. St. Augustine's lost two scoring opportunities when Robert Headen had no one between him and the goal line, his footing was lost. On another occasion Gerald Eutz dropped a touchdown pass behind all defenders.

The Falcons will travel to Charlotte Saturday to meet Johnson C. Smith, once beaten by Winston-Salem.

Ohio State Called Most Powerful 'Big Ten' Team

COLUMBUS (ANP)—Ohio State, one of the Big Ten powerhouses, features the greatest single powerhouse in college football.

Bob Ferguson, the senior fullback and an almost-cinch All-American, has a remarkable record of individual efforts throughout his career. Twice this season he has demonstrated his prowess as a consistent and persistent gainer.

In the opening 7-0 tie with Texas Christian, Ferguson carried the ball 35 times, three short of the Buckeye record set in 1943 by Ernie Parks. Ferguson amassed more than 150 yards.

In Ohio State's 10-0 triumph over Northwestern, Ferguson chalked up 157 yards in a remarkable exhibition of ball-carrying control. Against Illinois, in a 44-0 rout, the 217-pound battering ram registered four touchdowns.

This, of course, is nothing new for the Buckeyes, or Ferguson. Last season, scoring 13 touchdowns (at least one in each game), he carried 160 times for 853 yards, an average of 5.3 yards per carry. Four of his runs were for 51 yards or more.

As a sophomore, the Troy, Ohio, product averaged 6.1 yards. He played left halfback that season. His two year-aggregate, on 221 attempts, is 1,224 yards.

Furthermore, Ferguson is a strong linebacker on defense. Recently, Frank (Buck) Kilroy, scout for the Philadelphia Eagles, said Ferguson was the outstanding pro prospect in college ranks.

George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, has announced that Ferguson (or Larry Ferguson, the injured Iowa performer), would be his first choice when he drops the color barrier in the coming draft.

NCC Entertains Union In Homecoming Tilt Sat.

DURHAM—North Carolina College's Eagles play Va. Union's Panthers in their annual homecoming game, Saturday, Nov. 11 on O'Kelly Field. Kickoff is slated for 3:30 p.m.

The Eagles, sporting a conference mark of 3-0-2, need a win over the Panthers, if they are to stay in contention for CIAA honors. A lost will knock them out of the championship race.

Virginia Union, coached by Tom "Trick" Harris, will bring a formidable aggregation to Durham. Led by two break-away threats in Dan Greenwell and little Jones Davis, Union's offense offers more speed and passing than before. Quarterback Napoleon Barbosa is rated as one of the better field generals in the league.

Co-captains Harlow Fullwood, tackle; and James Winn, guard; anchor the Panther's forward wall.

The Panthers will be out to avenge for the 32-0 loss pinned on them by the Eagles last season. Herman Riddick's Eagles feature a newly developed passing attack, spearheaded by a plucky quarterback Richard Hicks. Aaron Martin, end and Richard Wilkins, halfback are his favorite targets and will bear serious watching.

Liston Thinks He'll Get Title Bout With Patterson

CHICAGO (ANP)—Sonny Liston said here last week that he believes he will win his campaign for a heavyweight title fight with champion Floyd Patterson, possibly after he has taken care of German heavyweight contender Albert Westphahl, on Dec. 4.

Liston was questioned during a guest appearance on a boxing show at the Marigold Arena. He came here to box an exhibition bout against Chicago heavyweight Ernest Terrell at the International Amphitheatre, Monday, Nov. 6.

A BIG FOOT—Raleigh, North Carolina's Napoleon Johnson, 5' 10" junior quarterback for the Florida A&M University Rattlers, is booting the pigskin at an average of 42 yards per boot. Johnson starred on the football team of Ligon Jr.-Sr. High School, Raleigh, for four years.

Va. State Accepts Tournament Invitation

PETERSBURG, Va. — Virginia State College has accepted a bid to play in the Norfolk Invitational Basketball Tournament, Dec. 23-30, Dr. J. A. Moore, athletic director, announced last week.

The Trojans will be competing with Elizabeth City, Hampton, Morgan, Norfolk Division of VSC, and Virginia Union in the three-day meet.

State's visitation season includes 20 games, all against CIAA foes.
