N. Artis Released By Jury

It is an old adage that there is nothing more tender than a baby's love and from the evidence presented at the Coroner's inquest, held in the Wake County Commissioner's Room, Tuesday afternoon, in the fatal killing of George Rudolph Owens, by officer Norman Artis, it was aparent that had it not been for the baby's love, the mother, Mrs. Julia Mae Owens, might bave been the victim of her hus-

The evidence was unfolded to a jury composed of one woman and five men. It was one time that a defendant was tried by four of his peers, all being race persons. Dr. Wilma Carter, Shaw University professor; Eugene Dunn, Service Station owner; J. D. Lewis, radio and television personality; Clarence Davidson, Jeweler, Father A. C. Calloway, local minister and Dr. P. R. Robinson, St. Augus-

Color Guard Denied Food In Guilford

GREENSBORO-It is recorded in the Bible that one can chaste a thousand, but it is hard to believe in these modern days that one Negro paratrooper, in company with a number of his white comrades can chase a room full of white people from their seats, in a beer "gar-

From evidence furnished by Guilford County Sheriff John E. Wallers such was the case at Jack Weaver's Place, .located about 12 miles from the city. Saturday night, when a number of paratroopers stopped there for food and beer. Nothing was said when two or three (CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)

Singer Is Booked On Dope Rap

'N Roll World received a severe blow here Tuesday when Ray Charles, celebrated recording artist, was arrested for the possession of dope, in a local hotel.

Arresting officers say that they had been tipped off that Charles had a supply of dope that he brought back after an appearance in Anderson, Ind., and they had reason to believe that it was in his hotel room. Upon searching his room, it is said that they found a cold cream jar filled with "weed" and 10 empty gelatin capsules and

Mixed Group Fights Bias At Theatre

CHAPEL HILL - This college town, the scene of many bi-racial episodes, is still in the midst of fight to bring real democracy here. This is due to the fact that a mixed group of persons began picketing the Varsity Theatre, due to its failure to admit Negroes on ar equal basis with white patrons.

An employee of the threatre told the CAROLINIAN Tuesday night that the pickets were marching in front of the theatre and that there had been no violence. The eyes of the nation were drawn to this university town when the Rev. Charles Jones decided that the town (CONTINUED ON PAGE 2)
