INGRATITUDE TO NAACP

ROCKY MOUNT—Since this column has been discussed and "cussed" so much in some quarters because of our outspoken demands that colored people not only be given a better place in the sun—greater opportunities to compete on an equal with all people; but that Negro teachers, preachers and professionals should—when they think they "have arrived"—help to lift others to their level.

Briefly, we'll quote from the Philadelphia Tribune, July 26, 1958 in part as follows: "All mankind is dependent upon other people for survival. The most disgusting of all God's creatures are those who are puffed up with their own conceits. Those who have achieved a semblance of success and cry out in a great loud voice, 'Look what I have done all by myself,' are the world's biggest fools. Somewhere, somehow, in some manner, a helping hand has been extended to ease the burden and smooth the way for those who have risen a little above the crowd."

Continuing, the Tribune bats a home with this point: "People who take and never give, who receive and never contribute may exist but never live. Those who remove everything from the pot and put nothing back deserve to be scorned by their fellowmen, for they are as hogs under an acorn tree who fill their bellies and never give thanks for the blessings."

The Tribune goes on to enumerate the many better things which Negroes are now enjoying in America due to the 52 years of NAACP achievement in lifting the living standard, adding, "It now appears that many of those who have been able to improve their positions as a result of the NAACP (efforts) refuse to support its present struggle to remove the restrictions which hold down the masses of their people, especially in the Deep South."

"Those who think that the battle has been won and everything is peaches and cream on the racial front are mistaken. There remains much to be done. The opposition to equality for Negroes is fighting desperately. This organization (NAACP) needs and deserves the support of all Negroes and men of goodwill, and especially those who have attained higher standards of living because of the NAACP, should make substantial contributions. The time to do it is now." "That man may last, but never lives, who much receives, but nothing gives."

Joining the NAACP fight for full equality is a matter of self-defense and self-preservation on the part of the Negroes. You say you are not afraid? Then WHY don't you join NOW?

Next week we hope to give you some straight talk from a southern white man who is throwing some real strikes at colored and whites—in our behalf. Reserve your CAROLINIAN.

Churches

METHOD—Both Oak City Baptist and St. James AME Churches had lovely services Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Rev. Williams filled his pulpit at Oak City Baptist and Rev. Miles was guest speaker at St. James AME. The junior choir furnished music at Oak City.

The young people's choir and the wonderful singers from Sanders Chapel furnished the music. Rev. Garrett from Sanford was with Rev. Miles at St. James. Those who saw him last and heard his discourse last declared he grows better each time he comes. Both Rev. Williams and Rev. Miles are two fine and promising young ministers. If they continue in the faith, some day they will reach the heights in the ministry. Let's all give them the support they need and also Rev. Harris, pastor of the Christian Church who seems to be just as fine as they come.

Prayer service each Wednesday night at 7:30—glorious times we have there. Rev. Williams' presence gives us great inspiration. All persons are urged to attend these services.

Next Sunday, Nov. 19, Rev. Hal V. Miles will be guest speaker at Sunday morning service at St. James AME Church. He will also preach the Thanksgiving sermon for the Ladies Willing Workers Club Thanksgiving morning at 11 o'clock. Service is scheduled to be held at Oak City Baptist Church.

Thanksgiving Treat

The Ladies Club will meet at the home of the president, Mrs. Allie W. Smalls the night before Thanksgiving and prepare treats for the sick and older ones in our community.

SICK: We are glad to say that our sick ones are doing fairly well at this time. Mr. Merritt Wilder is not able to help himself any. We trust our men folk will assist his mother in caring for him all they can.

Mr. Junious Sorrell is yet on the sick list. To our sorrow Mr. James H. Paige fell last week and broke both hips. He is now a patient in Wake Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Ruth Lyons (sister of Mrs. Edward Holloway) is ill and is now or has been hospitalized. Visit and comfort our indisposed ones.

Betty O'Kelly FTA

The program for our next PTA will be conducted by the parents of the school. One or more selections will be rendered from each community. Everyone should avail themselves of the opportunity of being present at that meeting and not only that but should attend each PTA meeting as fine an attendance is expected the fourth Monday night as we had at the last meeting.

On Saturday and Reunion

On Saturday night, Nov. 18, 1961 the children of St. James AME Church and some of their friends will render a program of "yesterday" pieces. Everyone is urged to come and hear this live program.

Following this a reunion of Miss Dora D. Stroud's former school pupils and dear friends will hold a reunion at home.

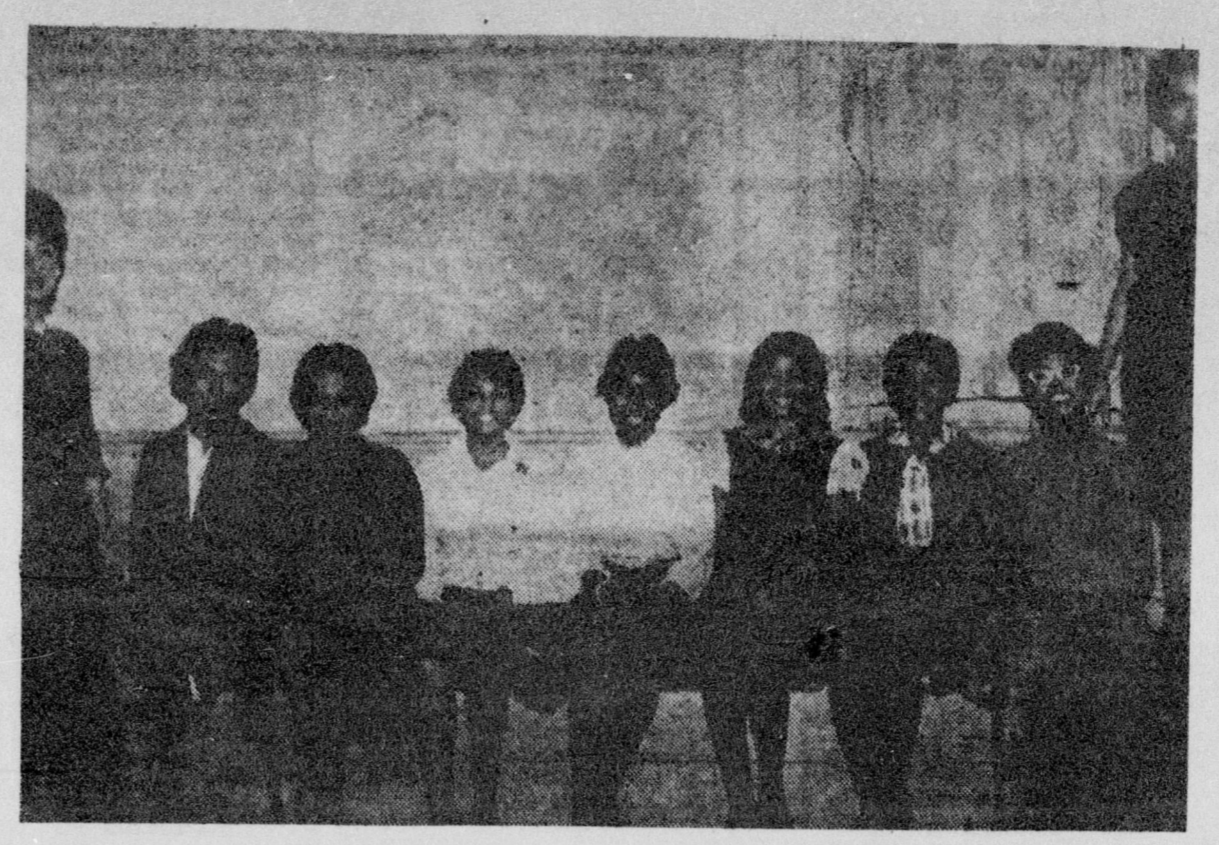

A short program of music and a short address will be heard. A grand march will climax the program, after which all will be served refreshments in Mrs. Q. V. Moore's home economics department. The children's program was scheduled for Friday night, Nov. 17 but was changed on account of Miss Mahalia Jackson's appearance at the auditorium on that night. So the twenty-five cent fee charged by the children for their church project is not binding. If those coming for the reunion are to give anything for that purpose all right and if not you all are just as welcome as can be. Let's make it a gala night.

Ladies Club Meeting and Birthday Celebration

Mrs. Verlia Hagans entertained The Ladies Willing Workers Club on Nov. 9th. After a wonderful business session, we were treated to a real feast consisting of a chicken salad course and delicious ice cream and cake for desert which everyone enjoyed. The ladies presented Mrs. Hogans with some very pretty gifts. Mrs. Georgia McCullers will celebrate her birthday the last Thursday in this month which will be Nov. 31. Mrs. Lucy Scarborough and Mrs. Laura Manuel will entertain the next regular meeting, along with their birthday celebrations.

Friendship

Friendship is not merely one of life's ornaments. It is one of the very essentials upon which life is founded. To have true friends is not a matter of chance. We have them sorely because our character and actions are of such high standard that men are drawn toward us, just as steel fittings leap toward a magnet.
