2 University Students Win $1,000 Citizenship Grants

D. C. And Detroit Undergraduates Chosen To Assist In Program Of Political Education

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Two Howard University undergraduate students, one from the District of Columbia and the other from Detroit, have been awarded $1,000 grants to serve as student assistants in the University' Citizenship Project for 1961-62.

They are Vernon S. Gill of 1429 Shepard Street, northwest, Washington; and Conrad K. Harper of 4450 St. Clair Street, Detroit. Gill is a junior and Harper a senior in the College of Liberal Arts. Both have B-plus averages.

They will assist Dr. Robert E. Martin, associate professor of government, and director of the Citizenship Project at Howard, in planning and directing the program designed to provide facilities for bringing students of government closer to actual political environments. It was established at Howard in 1958 by a $30,000 grant from the Maurice and Laura Falk Foundation of Pittsburgh, Pa. The Foundation has continued to finance the program each year.

Plan Guidance Program At Dubois

In planning the guidance program at Dubois High School, Wake Forest, T. J. Culler, principal and Frank L. Turner, guidance counselor, planned "A Day at College" for seniors at the college of their choice. Dean P. R. Robinson greeted eight seniors from Dubois High and Mr. Turner, guidance counselor. Dean Robinson gave these students a general briefing about the college and of the opportunities available to them at Saint Augustine's College.

The tour began at Dean Robinson's office and included classes, assembly program, lunch and general campus tour.

Dr. Robinson is proud of Saint Augustine's "A Day at College" program and the "High School Scholars Program".

The purpose of the High School Scholars Program follows: In keeping with the trend to provide more and better educational programs for gifted high school pupils, Saint Augustine's College has been quietly and meaningfully expanding and "experimenting in intellectual enrichment," initiated by the College about four years ago.

Known as the "Saint Augustine's College High School Scholars Program," it is designed primarily to stimulate and broaden the intellectual interests of outstanding high school pupils.
