AMBITION AND EDUCATION EQUAL FREEDOM

ROCKY MOUNT — We "escaped" from Mississippi. Thanks to a kind Providence and careful driving on our 1850-mile round-trip to the Southeast NAACP Regional.

Fully half, perhaps more, of the safe driving goes to the Rev. J. F. Arnette, chaplain of O'Berry Training School, Goldsboro, our able co-pilot, whose youth and stamina as well as spirituality gave us the needed support to negotiate the nine hundred miles each way non-stop except for one meal and refueling on each of 24-hour trips to and from Jackson, Miss.

Then there was the youthful Rev. Lafayette H. McDonald, youth vice proxy for Tarheelia, who came away elected president of the Southeast region youth. He was our reserve pilot. Then Mrs. U. S. Brooks of Charlotte exerted the feminine influence with sage comments. We were glad to go; and glad to "escape" back to Tarheelia.

We didn't have to go to "Ole Miss" to tell you that the salvation of the colored people in this freedom fight is all wrapped up in our desire to exercise our God-given constitutional rights to get out and REGISTER and VOTE so that we can INFLUENCE the kind of legislation in the town, county, district, state and in Congress which will give you and I an EQUAL OPPORTUNITY at more and better jobs in all areas our abilities will qualify us for. This done, we can have money to buy not only newer homes, cars and what-have-you, but to most of all better educate our children — our most prized possession. Friends, we've just got to do that — VOTE — if we expect freedom.

Everywhere you go now — north or south — the cry is for the Negroes to get to VOTING so we can be felt in the ballot box. That will have even more influence on the politician than sitting down at the lunch counters will; of going side by side into theaters. We are NOT condemning those and other forms of protest. But we do say, let's put the emphasis where it will hit the hardest and do the most good. Certainly that will be in the area of mass voting and SELECTIVE BUYING from all the stores or services which do not treat us as other American citizens are treated.

Even a cow has sense (instinct, they say) enough to NOT give her milk to the milker if she "thinks" her calf is going to be cut short. Have not we MORE SENSE than the cow? Let's ACT LIKE WE HAVE at least VOTING and getting "our neighbors to VOTE and JOIN NAACP in large numbers. Get your preachers to help.

We are NOT oppressed here in Tarheelia as the Colored of Mississippi are. Yet, we are not exerting ourselves to the extent that they are under drastic oppression.

LOUISBURG — This week's assembly program was given by Grade 3A and was under the direction of Mrs. S. M. Suitt. The theme was "America the Beautiful". Because the class had been studying about their country, they chose this theme.

The participating students related to the audience what a wonderful country we have and how proud we should be. They gave highlights on the resources, the kinds of climate, the people of our country and the size of our country. They said that America the Beautiful has many opportunities for boys and girls if they will go to school and use their time wisely by studying and reading many books, magazines and other current material that may be in our library.

The assembly program included such songs as "America," "The Old North State," and "America the Beautiful". The scripture and prayer were centered around obedience; its importance in our educational progress and achievement.

Hopping About TARHEELIA

NAACP MARCH ON CONGRESS APRIL 12-13TH

ROCKY MOUNT—NAACP Tarheelia, led by president Kelly Alexander and Charles McLean, presented a good representation (12 delegates) at the six-state Southeastern NAACP Regional Convention in Jackson, Mississippi, where history was made, during the four-day sessions.

Even more members are planning to attend the April 12-13 Congressional lobbying meeting in Washington, D. C., when Roy Wilkins chairs the fifty-member organizational drive on behalf of civil rights by calling on individual Congressmen and Senators.

The fifty member organization composing this leadership conference have previously proved quite effective in presenting the cause of civil rights on behalf of Negroes. Such conferences have the hearty backing of labor and contain as many whites as Negroes.

Religious, fraternal and social groups are urged to send delegations to boost the attendance and enhance the effectiveness of these lobbying sessions. The headquarters will be in the Interdepartmental auditorium of the Labor Building on Constitution Ave.

Former President Dwight Eisenhower spoke to the assemblage during one such meeting during his administration. And it is not unlikely that President John F. Kennedy might be persuaded to speak briefly to this year's meeting to further lend hope for full freedom to "America's Tenth Man."

NEW EPISCOPAL CHURCH: JUNIOR HIGH

The local Episcopal Church of the Epiphany, the Rev. William C. Spong, rector, held initial services in their new edifice on Virginia Avenue near the Armstrong Homes just off U. S. 64 east, Sunday.

The modern structure is located near the new Joseph W. Parker Junior High School which formally opened for classes Monday.

Also nearby is the relatively new Susie C. Baskerville elementary school, which completes the pattern of ridid racial segregation of the schools for years to come since the Negro high school is between this community and other schools attended by whites. However, there are hundreds of colored students who travel miles across town — by the "white" high schools — to reach the "colored" high school with no thought of integration attempts.
