"I was just coming out of the Wake Feed Store on South Blount Street when I heard someone holler, "Stop that man, he has robbed me." So I started to run at the man who was at least six feet tall and well over 200 pounds. I saw Billy coming south on the west side of Blount Street, so I said, "Billy stop that man." Billy tripped him and a bag fell towards the street. I retrieved the bag and held the suspect until police ar-

Under this service, firms may award franchises without regards to race, color, religion or national orgin. Arrangements between the parties concerned will be their own responsibility, however.

Former Secretary Hodges stated, "The firms participating in this equal opportunity program are to be congratulated." "They reflect the affirmative and the progressive leadership which business must provide if we are to meet one of the most significant challenges of our society today."

The announcement is the result of work by the Department's Task Force of Equal Opportunity in Business which was established by former Secretary Hodges, who recago, Illinois. signed the post January 15, 1965. The initial group of franchise firms consists of 18 firms encompassing a variety of retail and service business franchises which require an initial capital investment, ranging from about $600 to $50,000. Some of these are Chip's Franchise System, Rocky Mount, N. C.; United Rent-Alls, Inc., Lincoln, Nebraska; Western Auto Supply, Co., Kansas City, Missouri, among
