

Rev. Walker Tells Local Throng, Selma

'Needs U. S. Troops'

Over 2,000 Hear Aide To Dr. King

BY CHARLES R. JONES
"We need federal troops in Selma, Alabama worse than in Saigon."
Thus spoke the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker, militant aide to the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., as he spoke on the grounds of the State Capitol last Sunday afternoon before more than 2,000 persons. (Although the number has been previously given as 1,200, we counted up to 2,140.) Rev. Walker, who prayed for Sheriff Jim Clark, of Selma, while he was ill, was slugged by Clark later.
The historic "March on the State Capitol" was organized by Miss Sherry Everett, student leader at Shaw University.
Persons came from as far away as Charlotte in the west and Williamston in the eastern portion of the State.
The slow procession began leaving Raleigh Memorial Auditorium about 5:20 p. m. and moved slowly up Fayetteville Street. When the beginning of

29 Hospitals Sued

Protest Jim Crow Hospitals

WASHINGTON — The Department of Health, Education and Welfare last week received its second group of complaints — this time against 29 southern hospitals, under Section VI of the Civil Rights Act.
This second group, like the first (February 15th), was filed jointly by the NAACP and the NAACP Legal Defense Fund, two separate, but closely associated organizations. Jack Greenberg, director-counsel of the Legal Defense Fund and J. Francis Pohlhaus, counsel of the NAACP's Washington Bureau, again filed the complaints.
The attorneys asked to be informed of the results of investigations "as well as the opportunity to participate in hearings and other proceedings held to effect full compliance."
The 29 hospitals cited all receive federal funds for public assistance or hospital construction programs, all administered by HEW.
Under Title VI, HEW is expected to take affirmative measures to end racial discrimination in southern hospitals.
A summary of discriminatory practices accompanied the complaints:

Dr. Dowdy's Inauguration Set April 3

GREENSBORO — Dr. Lewis C. Dowdy, 47, will be inaugurated as the sixth president of A&T Col.

Officials of the Raleigh Branch of the NAACP, whose president is Mrs. Millie D. Veasey, voiced strong disapproval this week to the location of the new F. J. Carnegie Junior High School.
These officials stated that the school is located in a pest-ridden, blighted area of Raleigh. It is the feeling of the group that the location of the building also poses a safety hazard as students must walk

RCA Meet
A. C. Hall, City Planning Director for Raleigh, will discuss the so-called blighted areas to be torn down. South of the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium, at the regular meeting of the Raleigh Citizens Association on Thursday, March 18, at the Bloodworth St. YMCA, at 8 p. m. The general public is invited to attend.

Mrs. Virginia K. Newell Will Kick Off Campaign For School Board Friday

Supporters of Mrs. Virginia K. Newell in her campaign for election to the Raleigh School Board will begin their formal campaign Friday night at the Bloodworth Street YMCA at 8 p. m.
Mrs. Newell, math professor at Shaw University, is the first woman of her race ever to offer herself as a candidate for the Raleigh School Board.
A former teacher in the Raleigh Public School System, Mrs. Newell has also taught in the public schools of Winston-Salem, Atlanta, Ga., and Clarkton.
She declares that she is especially sensitive to the needs of public school children as the mother of two teen-age daughters and as a result of her close association with youth groups. She is keenly aware of teachers' problems and aspirations as a former public school teacher and as a wife of a Ligon High School teacher.

In addition to her public school teaching and her present position at Shaw, she has taught in the National Science Foundation Institute at St. Augustine's College, in the Yale University Summer High School for Culturally Deprived - Academically Talented Students, and organized and taught private classes in mathematics in Raleigh.
She has served as consultant in mathematics at conferences, workshops and In-Service Institutes for teachers on several occasions in North Carolina.
Mrs. Newell holds memberships and offices in several organizations which make her know the needs of the communities: Life memberships in the NEA; State treasurer of the American Association of University Women; Mathematical Association of America; National Council of Teachers of Mathematics; the NCTA; Past president of the Local Class-

Second Man Sought In Local Rapes

BY STAFF WRITER
Mrs. Adell Jones, 77-year-old resident of 628 Coleman Street, was allegedly raped on Wednesday, January 20, by William Oscar Brooks, 17, who is now in jail awaiting trial, and again on Saturday morning of last week by an unknown person, who "appeared to be 19 or 20 years of age."
The elderly victim told Officer J. A. Perry at 12:25 a. m. Saturday, that at about midnight, someone knocked on her window, then came around to the kitchen door and knocked. "It's Willie Lee, I'm Miles' boy," Mrs. Jones said the person told her.
At this point, she got up from her bed and unlocked the door, but when the young man entered, she said, "You're not Willie Lee. I don't know you."
Mrs. Jones said her assailant then stepped into the kitchen, grabbed her by the throat and

Woman Sleeps As $27 Stolen From Mattress

Mrs. Katie Lee Montague, 27, of 712 S. McDowell Street, told Officer J. A. Perry at 3:33 a. m. Friday, that while she was sleeping someone stole her wallet, which was under a mattress, and took $27 from it.
She further stated, "It must have been Paul Jones, because he was the only one here, except three small children when I went to sleep."
The cop talked to Paul Jones, who said, "I don't know anything about the money."

Female Argues, Goes For Reinforcements

Aaron Leverette Simms, 15, of 201 S. East Street, reported to a cop at 4:39 p. m. Saturday, he was with James Williams, when the latter engaged in an argument with a "colored female, about 20 years old in the 500 block of E. Martin Street."
The young woman left, Simms declared, but returned shortly, accompanied by several young men, who started fighting Williams, and one is alleged to have thrown a wine bottle, striking him on the left forehead, causing a laceration and a deep skull fracture.
Williams, whose injury was serious, was admitted to the hospital for surgery. Simms stated he'd know the one who threw the wine bottle if he saw him again.

Councilman Winters Seeks Third Term Here

Raleigh City Councilman John W. Winters, the only Negro ever elected to the seven-man Council there, announced early Wednesday of this week that he will seek another two-year term on the body. In an interview with The CAROLINIAN, the councilman stated: "Four years of helping with city business and looking at the problems of Raleigh's planned growth—have been years of great challenge and many rich rewards in self satisfaction.

"Council work takes a great deal of time but these years behind me—the next term should be more nearly routine, leaving more time for thinking about the solutions for Raleigh's orderly development.
"Our future needs will place heavy responsibilities on all our public and private resources. Last year, at a meeting in the Council Chambers Raleigh business and government leaders were given a look at our city in ten years, and in fifteen years when our population should be nearly doubled.
"In preparing the foundation for these projections, we must immediately complete and wisely locate our belt line

President Lyndon B. Johnson Says Every American To Have Individual Rights

BY J. B. HARREN
President Lyndon Baines Johnson really did himself NOBLE Monday night as he broadcast that magnificent message to Congress, America and the World, urging Congress to pass his new Civil Rights Bill which he cleverly termed a bill of "hope".
This speech should be framed or otherwise preserved in the home of every colored citizen. Mr. Johnson has immortalized himself by outlining the broad program designed to finally free the American Negro from a hundred years of semi-slavery and give them the right to franchise in ALL elections—from dogcatcher to President.

Don't forget that the President twice used the famous Freedom song slogan: "WE SHALL OVERCOME". He also used other freedom marching slogans. The applause was tremendous throughout the "Johnson Emancipation" speech during which he referred to the emancipation speech of Abe Lincoln. There were so many excellent points in the Johnson speech and outline of his new Civil Rights bill, which he urged Congress to pass without delay.

No President has ever said more in direct behalf of the Negro than did Johnson Monday night. Selma, Ala. has helped to arouse the nation, the President said, and the time has long passed when we ignore the denial of basic rights to the Negroes or any other people in our midst. There can be no compromise with the denial of voting rights to Negroes any longer, especially when they refused on the whims of local officials. LBJ
