

KILLS HIMSELF 'PLAYING' ROULETTE

JAMES CHANEY, OTHERS REMEMBERED - The Rev. James Farmer, national director of CORE joins Mrs. Fannie Lee Chaney, her son, Ben, and granddaughter, Toni, in Philadelphia, Miss., last week during memorial services held for the three civil rights workers slain near this town June of 1964. Mrs. Chaney's oldest son, James was among the trio killed while investigating the burning of the Mount Zion Baptist Church here. (UPI PHOTO).

Was Attempting To Show How Another Man Died

GOLDSBORO - While trying to show a visiting couple how another man killed himself two weeks ago by playing Russian Roulette, Zolite Crumpler, 35, killed himself at his home Sunday. The death was ruled suicide by police.

Stg. C. M. Glistrap, of the Goldsboro Police Department, stated Crumpler was in his living room with H. A. Gaddy and Mrs. Ruby Lee Gaddy, of Mount Olive.

"I've played it before. I'll show you how it is played," Gaddy declared Crumpler told them.

He then went upstairs, said the two witnesses and returned with a .22 calibre revolver which he appeared to take bullets from when he entered the room.

The Gaddys said he then placed the pistol to his right temple and pulled the trigger twice. It snapped each time. The third time he pulled the trigger, the gun fired, literally blowing his brains out.

Crumpler was pronounced dead on arrival at Wayne Memorial Hospital.

Sgt. Glistrap stated Mrs. Crumpler was in the kitchen at the time of the shooting, and he quoted her as saying she heard laughing in the living room and finally a pistol shot.

Funeral services were held this week for Crumpler.

City's Teen Dems Hear Councilman

The second of a series of workshops and rallies was held Saturday, June 26 at the home of the Teen-Dem advisors, 1809 East Davie Street, City Councilman John W. Winters was guest speaker. Mr. Winters spoke on "The Teen-Agers' Political Role in the Community." He stressed the need for youth participation. He urged the group to involve themselves politically and be well read. By reading one can be aware of what is going on in the community," he stated.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Cheryl Brown, Washington, D. C.; Miss Phoebe Moore, Goldsboro; Ray Lightner, Virginia; and Miss Evelyn Coleman, a rising senior at Jordan Sellers Jr.-Sr. High School in Burlington. Miss Coleman is president of the Teen-Age NAACP Chapter in Burlington, and was a delegate to the Teen-Dem Convention.

Lawrence Lightner, vice president, welcomed the following new members: Ray Haywood, Gilbert Hunter, Romona White, Phyllis Noble, Samuel McClain, David Mack, Dennis Davis, Samuel Spencer, Floyd-styne Williams, Nina O-Dodd, Luke Williams, Patricia Staton, Carole Taylor, Emmitt McNeil, Debra Taylor, Brenda McNeil, Patricia Taylor, Ruby Jones, Melvin Palmer, Clinis Noble, Walter Solomon, John Hilliard, Brenda Sutton, Ernestine Robinson, Debra Lightner, Malinda Allen, Diane Reith, Randy Ta-

Pepsi-Cola Appoints Fitzhugh

BY ALEXANDER BARNES
NEW YORK CITY - Pepsi-Cola Bottling Company moved higher in the realm of hiring competent people when it announced this week that H. Naylor Fitzhugh, veteran in the field of commerce at Howard University, has been chosen by the company as a vice-president. He replaces Harvey Russell, the first Negro to hold such a position with the company. Mr. Russell moves into the area of policy making and planning.

Mr. Fitzhugh brings to the company a wide experience in commerce. He has been at

'Ole Miss' Hires Negro Prof.; HEW Satisfied

THE CAROLINIAN

North Carolina's Leading Weekly

VOL. 24, NO. 33

RALEIGH, N. C., SATURDAY, JULY 3, 1965

PRICE 15 CENTS

TOLBERT HEADS WORLD BAPTISTS

NC Teachers Sue For Jobs

C. CLYDE FERGUSON

Veep Was Choice Of 25 Million

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. - Dr. William R. Tolbert, Jr., 52-year-old vice-president of Liberia, was unanimously chosen as the new president of the World Baptist Alliance here Tuesday, June 29. The Alliance convention was packed with Americans and foreigners, as the 25-million member body chose its first Negro president.

The Rev. Dr. Tolbert was figuratively swept into office by acclamation as the 20,000 delegates to the convention yelled their approval.

A bomb threat was the only mar to the meeting as many thousands of the delegates were evacuated from Convention Hall Tuesday night after a crank telephone caller warned of a bomb that had been placed in the auditorium. No bomb was found. The delegates were unaware of the phone call.

As Dr. Tolbert became the first Negro to ever head the 121-nation Alliance, church leaders hailed his selection as a "breakthrough, something revolutionary."

All but three million of the body's members live in the United States. Three-fourths of the delegates were also Americans.

The Rev. Juan Soren, of Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, is the retiring Alliance president.

Dr. Tolbert outwardly was unmoved by the significance of his election.

"I haven't given it much thought," he said. "You see, we are not really racial conscious in Liberia. I will work very hard to do the best job possible."

Having served as vice-president of the WBA for five years, Dr. Tolbert has been Vice-President of his country for 14 years.

AT WORLD BAPTIST MEET - Liberian Vice-President Dr. W. R. Tolbert, center, listens closely as he is named new president of the World Baptist Alliance in Miami Beach, Fla., Tuesday, June 29. On his left is Mrs. Josa Soren, wife of the outgoing president, and on the right is Dr. Tolbert's wife. (UPI PHOTO).

Three Teachers Begin Legal Action Vs. Board

HENDERSONVILLE - Three Negro teachers began legal action in Asheville Monday against the Hendersonville City School Board, by claiming their jobs are in jeopardy as a result of integration.

The teachers, along with the North Carolina Teachers Association with head-quarters in Raleigh, filed a petition in U. S. District Court seeking an injunction against the local school board.

If granted, the order would restrain the board from dismissing or attempting to dismiss or refusing to hire teachers.

Federated Clubs Hold 56th Meet

BY VIOLA T. BISHOP

ELIZABETH CITY - A large delegation from all over North Carolina gathered at Elizabeth City College, here for three days last week to attend the 56th Annual Convention of the North Carolina Federated Clubs. The session opened with the Executive Board Meeting and a special dinner on Thursday night, followed by a welcome program in the Moore Auditorium. On this occasion, music was rendered by the Junior Chorus of Olive Branch Baptist and Corner Stone Baptist churches and Miss Sarah M. Everette.

After welcome greetings from the several religious and civic bodies of the city, the congregation listened to a dynamic address from Mrs. Geneva Hamilton, Chairman of "Operation Boot Strap", Goldsboro. (See 56TH ANNUAL, P. 2)

MAGAZINE

Due to circumstances beyond the control of The CAROLINIAN, the supplementary magazines promised our readers last week has not arrived, and no word had reached the management as to why it is late.

Until such information is received here, we are at a loss for an explanation, other than we have heard nothing further from the distributors of "The National Scene."

WEATHER

Temperatures for the next five days, Thursday through Monday, will be normal or a few degrees below normal. Normal high and low temperatures will be 82 and 66 degrees. Rain-fall during the period will average 1-1/2 to 2-1/2 inches. Scattered showers are expected about Thursday, and again around the end of the period.

DR. GRADY D. DAVIS

Dr. G. Davis Studying In California

The Rev. Dr. Grady D. Davis has received a National Science Foundation Fellowship to pursue post-graduate study in a Summer Institute in Psychology at the University of California at Berkeley. The institute runs eight weeks, from June 28-August 20. Dr. Davis left for California, Sunday, June 27. Dr. Davis is pastor of Union Baptist church, Durham, and visiting professor in psychology at Shaw University in Raleigh.

He holds the A. B. degree from Shaw University; the B. D. degree from Andover Newton Theological Seminary, Massachusetts; and the Ph. D. degree from Boston University. (See DR. DAVIS, P. 2)

Female Employed In Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. - In a move unprecedented in State history, the board of Trustees of the State Institutions of Higher confirmed the appointment of Dr. Marion Myles, a Negro woman, who arrived here Sunday to assume her duties as assistant professor of pharmacology and research at the University of Mississippi Medical School.

According to university news media, the action to accept Dr. Myles was made final last Thursday and went into effect immediately.

However, some reports alleged that the board was sharply divided over adding a Negro faculty member to the institution where the admission of James Howard Meredith to the University of Mississippi at Oxford in 1962 resulted in campus riots and some murders. Since that time, several Negro students have been admitted to the main university campus at Oxford.

(See 'OLE MISS', P. 2)

Jas. Dabbs Keynotes St. Aug. Talks

"You need to know the basic values you have and how Southerners feel, their attitudes toward the South," James M. Dabbs, noted author and lecturer on the South, told a special session of the Desegregation Institute participants at Saint Augustine's College today. "It is important for all of us, certainly teachers, to understand, as well as we can, the basic motives and the basic values of this southern culture," he said.

"Basically noted the speaker, the south is a creation of whites and Negroes working together. The South is changing very rapidly every day. We are moving from a folk and farming society into an urban industrial society, and this means a radical change," he said.

During the course of his speech, Dabbs outlined several distinct characteristics of Southern directness. 1. The south is a land of indirectness and of terrible directness. This is practiced in an effort to agree with one another. The south is a volcano and we have been living on the slopes of it for many years. We learn to be complacent, which I feel is cowardice. We have a sense of personal reserve, nobody knows who anybody is and nobody

(See DABBS HEARD, P. 2)

JIM BROWN FACES SEPTEMBER TRIAL - Jim Brown, star fullback of the Cleveland Browns, world football champion, entered a plea of innocent last week to charges of beating Miss Brenda Ayres, 18, top photo, in a motel room. Brown, who is married, was released on his own recognizance, to appear for a jury trial at his request, on September 20. (UPI PHOTO).

NC's Vo-Ag Invites Rep. Kornegay

GREENSBORO - Horace R. Kornegay, Congressman from the Sixth District of North Carolina, will keynote the annual conference of North Carolina Teachers of Vocational Agriculture at A&T College, July 5-9.

He will deliver the main address at the opening general session on Tuesday, July 6, beginning at 9:30 a. m.

The conference, to be conducted from the theme, "Expanding Opportunities and Responsibilities for Vocational Education in Agriculture," will feature several other speakers during the five-day meet. The list includes: A. G. Bullard, Raleigh, State supervisor of Vocational Agriculture; Dr. E. M. Norris, agricultural teacher trainer, Prairie View A&M College, Prairie View, Texas; El-Moore, U. S. Department of Agriculture economic research specialist, Washington, D. C.; H. G. Beard, acting director of Vocational Education, Raleigh, and D. Richard Wenner, coordinator, Rural Force Com-

(See VO-AG, P. 2)

From Raleigh's Official Police Files:

THE CRIME BEAT

BY CHARLES R. IONES

'Fussing' Female Throws Mug

Daniel Aubrey Brewer, of 8 Mecklenberg Terrace, told the cops at 2:05 a. m. Sat., that he and Albert Lewis Whitaker, 25, of 814 S. Boundary St., were drinking beer at the Latin Casino 508 S. Boundary St. when a "fuss" started with Mrs. Josephine Elizabeth Austin, 51, of 12 Lincoln Terrace.

Wake County Jail, where she faces two counts of assault with a deadly weapon.

Says Woman Broke Window

Miss Elizabeth Clayton, of 815 S. Boundary St., Apt. E, told Officers Ralph Clayborne and D. Brinson at 11:35 a. m. Saturday, that a woman she knows only as "Jab" came to her apartment and broke out a window pane in her bedroom, then threatened her with a small automatic pistol.

The woman stated she was going to sign a warrant for "Jab's" arrest. The cops were unable to get any more information, other than the would-be assailant is about 36 years of age. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

'Segregation's Funeral Is On The Horizon: Dr. King

WILLOW SPRINGS, Ohio (UPI) - "Segregation is on its deathbed and the only question remaining is how costly segregationists will make the funeral," declared Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., in summing up the racial situation during an address at Antioch college's commencement exercises last week.

However, he said, stronger civil rights laws are still needed.

"Although law may not change the hearts of men, it does change the habits of men," he told the graduates and some 1,000 persons in the open-air amphitheatre that Negroes "shall win our freedom in America because the goal of America is freedom."

The Nobel Peace Prize winner amended his call for additional attacks on racial injustice, by urging the 296 graduates to join movements on poverty and war.

CHAINED TO COURTHOUSE - NEW YORK: Unidentified man tries to walk through entrance of the Federal courthouse at Foley Square where demonstrators had chained themselves June 23rd. Members from the Congress of Racial Equality (CORE) and the Student Non-Violent Coordination Committee (SNCC) attempted to block the entrance to the court, demanding federal intervention to protect civil rights workers in Jackson, Miss. The demonstration started shortly before 9 a. m. last Wednesday. (UPI PHOTO).