"Stop, Frisk Law" Is Protested

Warning Issued By Chief

MIAMI (UPI) -- The adoption last week of a local "stop, frisk law" has been scored as a weapon which could turn the city into a hotbed of tension and dissension and turn Negro areas into "seething hatred," making Watts (Los Angeles) look like a picnic.

What Atty. Donald Wheeler Jones, NAACP local branch president, termed "an amazing leap backwards," is the ordinance which permits policemen to stop persons in public, require identification and search.

"No Probable Cause" Verdict In Raleigh's Eighth Traffic Death

BY STAFF WRITER
Calvin O'Brian Markham, 48, of Durham, walked out of the Commissioners' Room in the Wake County Courthouse a free man last Wednesday afternoon.

Markham had been cited by Wake County Coroner Marshall W. Bennett to appear before a jury in the September 23 death of Mrs. Fannie Jones Rowland, 50, of 712 S. Sounders Street, who had allegedly darted in front of his car at about 4:45 p. m.

Two white women testified that Mrs. Rowland had stepped in front of their Volkswagen automobile, which was stopped for a traffic light approximately 50 feet from the intersection of Sanders on W. South Street.

Selma, Ala. Sheriff Will Speak Here

James W. (Jim) Clark, segregationist sheriff of Selma, Alabama, is scheduled to keynote the first State Convention of the North Carolina Citizens Council at the Raleigh Memorial Auditorium on Saturday, October 9.

Clark, well-known for his alleged brutal tactics in handling civil rights demonstrators, was hospitalized early this year and the same persons whom he arrested kept a prayerful vigil outside his hospital room in the once racially-tense town of Selma.

Louis W. Bollis, of Jackson, Mississippi, will speak at the afternoon session of the segregationist North Carolina Council, which begins at 3 p. m. Clark is scheduled to be the featured speaker for the night session.

Playing host for the meeting is the Wake County Citizens Council.

WEATHER

Temperatures for the next five days, Thursday through Monday, will average three to eight degrees below normal. Normal high and low temperatures during the period will be 75 and 51 degrees. It will be a little warmer over the weekend, while cooler weather will prevail during the remainder of the period. Rainfall will occur about Thursday and again about Monday.

POPE PAUL CHATS WITH CHILDREN - United Nations, N. Y.: Pope Paul is shown Monday as he stopped briefly to chat with a group of children from the International School after they presented him with a bouquet from the U. N.'s rose garden. Six year old Joyce Nkwain handed the roses to the Pontiff. Amer. Khanachet, 10, (in robe and Moslem cap) made a short speech of welcome. (UPI PHOTO).

Sessions Begin At Winston

NCC Profs Testify In School Case

DURHAM - "Education must not just pass on culture," a North Carolina College professor said in Federal Court testimony Thursday, "but must help to facilitate the changes that are coming."

As a witness for the plaintiffs in a suit seeking desegregation of Durham City Schools, Dr. Joseph McKelpin said Negro pupils attending segregated schools "develop unwarrantedly high opinions of themselves."

McKelpin was one of three NCC professors appearing during two days of testimony before Federal Judge Edwin M. Stanley, chief jurist of the Middle District, in the suit filed in behalf of the parents of a

Civil Rights Worker Is 1st Bishop

VATICAN CITY - On the eve of his departure for the United States from Rome, Pope Paul VI named the first full-blooded Negro to become a bishop in the United States. This action took place Saturday.

The Very Rev. Harold Robert Perry, a native of Lake Charles, La., has been assigned to the Deep South, where his forefathers were once slaves.

Emphasizing the extraordinary nature of the appointment, the Vatican press office in its official announcement, described Bishop-elect Perry as "the first Negro bishop in the United States of America."

A HAPPY WINNING PITCHER - Metropolitan Stadium; Jim (Mudcat) Grant, who won the first game of the World Series in Minneapolis Wednesday, October 6 for the Minnesota Twins, is also one of the team's biggest boosters as indicated here Tuesday during practice. Grant, the only 20-game winner on the staff of the American League champions, opposed Don Drysdale and three other pitchers in Wednesday's game. He only allowed 10 hits and 2 runs. Drysdale and the other pitchers allowed ten hits and eight runs. Drysdale had never lost a World Series game before. This was Grant's first entry and what a victorious one it was for him. ### 600 Jehovah's Witnesses To Burlington Convention

Jehovah's Witnesses of circuit 36 have chosen Burlington as the place for their second semi-annual circuit convention this year, according to information given this week by Joseph Taylor, presiding minister of South Unit congregation here in Raleigh.

The meeting will be held at the Jordan Sellers Senior High School on Rosewald Street in Burlington, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 29-31.

More than 600 delegates from the 16 towns and communities that make up circuit 36 are expected. The circuit extends from Elizabeth City, West to Chapel Hill. Members of the local group are making definite plans to attend. Others wishing to enjoy the spiritual benefits of this three-day seminar may contact Joseph Taylor, 1108 S. State Street, for final arrangements. (See OVER 600, P. 2)

Threat To "March On Georgia" Is Renewed

WARRENTON, Ga. (UPI) - Negroes attending a mass meeting last week heard the Rev. Hosea Williams, a leading aide of integration leader Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., threaten a 120-mile march on the state capitol in Atlanta, after Negroes were attacked by unruly whites for attempting to integrate a local white high school.

Evidently, the threat was hurled at Gov. E. Sanders as much as for the state permitting the school board in Crawfordville to close an all-white high school and transferring its pupils to the Warren county school to avoid integration.

A 17-year-old Negro youth, Frank Bates, was set upon and beaten by white parents, after he drove four other Negroes to the Warren County High School, to which the white students were being transferred. He had to be rescued by state troopers, but not before his shirt had been torn off and he was pummeled by the crowd. Bates' companions fled. Earlier at Crawfordville, unruly whites also attacked some 20 Negro students attempting to board a bus carrying the white students to the Warrenton school. Several Negro youths were knocked to the ground, and a Negro civil rights worker, who was taking pictures, was attacked along with other newsmen. The rights worker's camera was taken from him but returned later undamaged by police.

In threatening the march, Rev. Williams said: "Gov. San-

Do-Good Bro. Gets Slashed

Charles Cannady, of 526 Bragg St., told Officer James E. (Bobby) Daye at 5:23 a. m. Saturday, that he and his brother, Roy Cannady, of 406 Smithfield Street, were walking on Bragg Street when they spotted a man hitting a woman at the corner of Smithfield and Bragg Streets.

Charles Cannady stated he asked the man not to hit the woman and the man came at Charles and stabbed him in the abdomen with a knife. Cannady, who was treated at Wake Memorial Hospital and released, stated he had never seen either of the two persons before.

Hold Son In Mom Assault

Mrs. Pearl Thorpe Atwater, 50, of 209 Lincoln Court, reported to Officer Otis Leroy Hinton at 5:49 p. m. Saturday, that her son, Lonnie Everett Atwater, 21, same address, got mad with her because she would not give him money to go the New Jersey. She said he threatened to kill her with a knife and broke a table lamp, valued at $10.

She also said her son cut at her with the knife in the front yard and chased her into the house. Young Atwater was arrested for assault with a deadly weapon and damage to property. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)
