Mystery Shrouds Killing At Fair

Deputies Seek New Clues Here

Deputies of the Wake County Sheriff's Department and Raleigh officers are still puzzled over the mysterious shooting last Saturday night of a 21-year old Durham man at the N. C. State Fair here. Dead on arrival at Wake Memorial Hospital was Elvin Lee Nelson. Officers believed Nelson was shot twice with a .22 calibre pistol, once in the thigh and again in the chest. The incident took place while Nelson and an unidentified man were fighting near a car display at the west end of the race track. The fight allegedly stemmed from Nelson's assault on a child. According to witnesses, Nelson had another young man on the ground, stomping him when a third man, standing nearby, believed to have been a relative or friend of the stomping victim, pulled a gun and fired three times. A deputy sheriff said that after the shots were fired, all

Mom Reports Unruly Son

Mr. Katie Glover, of 1226 E. Lenoir Street, told Officers Ralph Clayborne and B. W. Peoples at 9:15 a. m. Friday, that during an argument with her son, John Junior Glover, 26, same address, he threw her iron through the glass in her window, then broke the dial on the telephone. Mrs. Glover, who stated the incident took place about 7:30 a. m. Friday, signed a warrant and young Glover was arrested on a damage to property rap. Damage to the window glass was set at $11, and $4 to the telephone.

Women Fight, Auto Ruined

John Wallace Holden, of Rt. 2, Zebulon, reported to Officer Lindsay Godwin at 10:06 a. m. Friday, he parked his 1958 Pontiac in the yard at 106 Stronach Alley at 8 a. m., and returned at 10 a. m., to find both his windshield and right side vent glass had been broken. An unidentified man told him, he said, that two women were fighting in the yard while he was away, and they could have broken the windows. Holden, who rents this parking space from Miss Cindy Downs, of 106 Stronach, set his loss at $125. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

Hold Basic Adult Ed. Meet Here

Many persons of both races were in attendance Monday night, October 18, in the meeting room of the News and Observer as the Basic Adult Education Program of the Economic Opportunity Act was discussed. Volunteers were present from all of the three tracts (neighborhoods) served by the Raleigh unit, which includes the City, Wake and Franklin Counties. Col. Robert LeMay, acting director of the W. W. Holding Industrial Education Center, administrator for the program, explained that the program is financed by the U. S. Government under the Economic Opportunity Act's Basic Literacy Training Program. Persons with less than an eight grade education are accepted in the class. It was brought out by Col. LeMay that of the 433 students who have enrolled in the program, 311 are still taking courses. (See BASIC ADULT, P. 2)

Omeegas End Achievement Week Plans

WASHINGTON, D. C. - The National Achievement Week of the Omega Psi Phi Fraternity will be observed November 7-14. It is an annual affair and is considered one of the highlights of the year's activities. Local chapters place much emphasis on the project and work their committees thoroughly. The main feature is the National High School Contest which is open to seniors of all high schools, regardless of race. The essays are written on the subject, "America's Responsibility for the Development of Human Talent." Two college scholarships are awarded to students who write the best essay. The winner receives a $500.00 scholarship and the runner-up receives $300.00. The essay must show originality and not contain less than 750 words nor more than 750. Contestants must submit three type-written, doubled space, copies to be sent to Dr. Herbert A. Marshall, Omega Psi Phi Fraternity, Inc., 2714 Georgia Avenue, N. W., not later than midnight, November 14. The winner will be announced on January 1, 1966. As a climax to the week's activities local chapters will hold special observances, in which they will feature achievement-making with outstanding members making speeches on the success of the organization and pointing up the achievements of brothers.

"PRESS FOR JUSTICE," the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., urged the people of Crawfordville, Ga., last week at a rally there. The nation's top Negro leader also told the rally, "There will be neither peace nor tranquility until Negroes receive justice in Crawfordville. Dr. King returned to his home in Atlanta immediately after the 20-minute speech and did not participate in a march to the courthouse as had been originally scheduled. (UPI PHOTO)
