NEW YORK (UPI) - A meeting of minds seems to have been achieved between Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., and Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, (D.-N. Y.), over the former's invasion of Northern cities in his newest civil rights drive.

Last Sunday, Dr. King was the guest speaker at the morning and noon services in Abyssinian Baptist church, pastored by Congressman Powell.

Some weeks ago, when Dr. King announced his intention to invade northern cities in an expanded civil rights drive, he was warned by the Congressman to "stay out of Harlem."

His appearance at Abyssinian came during the observance of the church's 157th anniversary service and was preceded by a statement from Rep. Powell lauding the Nobel Peace prize winner as "a fighter for human rights and a great American citizen of the world."

"I have said many times," the Congressman noted, "that Rev. King is the greatest living American, black or white. He is more than that. He is a humanitarian and citizen of the world who has made the entire globe his pastorate..."

US Civil Service To Open Gates

ATLANTA, Ga. - John W. Macy, Jr., Civil Service Commission Chairman pledged Civil Service leadership to implementation of the equal employment opportunity program in an address to the National College Relations Conference.

The impressive achievements of Negroes in Federal Government during the past four years indicated distinct improvement in the area on the part of all involved, but in the opinion of the Chairman, this improvement is not a complete solution to the challenge of equal opportunity.

Mr. Macy listed the definite steps being taken by Civil Service:

First: A renewed attack on prejudice itself - with goals of eradicating every vestige from the Federal service.

HATTIESBURG, Miss. (UPI) - A white man in traditional Dixie justice was recorded last week when a Forrest County jury convicted a young white welder for raping a Negro teenager.

The incident marked the first time in county history that a white man was sentenced in an attack on a Negro.

Norman Cannon, 19, of the Sumrall community, was sentenced to life imprisonment for the July 13 rape of a 15-year-old school girl. Rape is a capital offense, but the jury may stipulate life.

Is John Birch Society Replacing Dixie Klan?

BIRMINGHAM (UPI) - There was speculation abounding last week as to whether the ultra-right wing John Birch Society would eventually take over from the anti-Negro KKK organization in the South. This came after it was reported that the Birchers have upped their membership in several key cities in Alabama, a typical Southern state sensitive to the race problem.

According to the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith, which keeps a watchful eye on right wing and anti-Negro and anti-Jewish organizations, the Birch Society now boasts more than 100 chapters in Birmingham and has launched a campaign for increased membership not only in the South, but throughout the United States.

B'nai B'rith reports following a survey that the Birchers have pushed their strength to record proportions in such key Alabama cities as Montgomery, the capitol; Mobile, on the Gulf Coast, and Huntsville, where the Aeronautic and Space Administration's manned space-

Law Acts Fast To Nab Trio

Three Negroes, including a woman, have been arrested within a span of four days, and charged with the murders of two white policemen in North Carolina towns. Speedy trials are indicated as the trio has been bound over to superior courts.

The first killing took place Wednesday night in Farmville when Officer Lyman Eason was fatally wounded as he sought to place handcuffs on 19-year-old Robert Rogers, of Spring Lake, near Fayetteville. He was bound over to Pitt County Superior Court on a charge of first degree murder.

Following Rogers' preliminary hearing, he was removed to an undisclosed jail for safe keeping as "feeling" was reportedly "running high" in that small tobacco town.

Farmville Officer Earl Keel testified that Rogers, in Fayetteville, where he was apprehended, readily admitted the slaying of Patrolman Eason after Eason approached him at the bus station in Farmville while he was in a phone booth.

Rogers allegedly told policemen that Eason came at him with pistol in hand and placed him under arrest. Rogers reportedly told Keel that he was afraid Eason would detect the pistol in his belt, and he turned and fired at least twice. Rogers is also quoted as saying he saw Eason fall and he fled.

Rogers also admitted being involved in a robbery shortly before the killing, it was learned. The second murder took place four days later in Fremont, and involved a 27-year old logger, Johnny (Ringo) Graham, and his 31-year old girlfriend, Miss Ruby Rivers.

Both have already been bound over to the Wayne County Superior Court and are scheduled for trial this week.

In The Dark With Just 8 Million Other New Yorkers

NEW YORK - It was in the dark, very much in the dark, with eight million New Yorkers and this writer, last Tuesday afternoon at 5:28 p. m., when lights throughout America's great Northeast "Territory" shimmied, then got dimmer and dimmer until they faded out - into history and indeed the biggest most crippling all-out black-out ever witnessed in this nation, since the birth of electricity.

NEW YORK - It was in the dark, very much in the dark, with eight million New Yorkers and this writer, last Tuesday afternoon at 5:28 p. m., when lights throughout America's great Northeast "Territory" shimmied, then got dimmer and dimmer until they faded out - into history and indeed the biggest most crippling all-out black-out ever witnessed in this nation, since the birth of electricity.

WHAT CAUSED BLACK-OUT Mystery still shrouds the nation's largest complete black-out - one which made civilian defense efforts to accomplish same during the second world war, no less, appear as the work of rank amateurs. And, at time of this writing, no one seems to have the answer to this simple three letter word - why? Why was there a complete electrical failure? Not even Consolidated Edison, indeed one of the largest, if not the largest, private consumer producing electrical companies in the world (Consolidated Edison supplies most of New York City with electricity.)

Gets Mad Because Couple Won't Drink, Attacks Both

Mrs. Florine McCullers Howard, of 610 Cannon Street, told Officer J. A. Perry at 12 midnight Saturday, that Oliver Young, 33, who lives at 610 1/2 Cannon Street, "got mad" with both she and her husband, Garfield Howard, because "we would not take a drink with him."

Mrs. Howard said Young left, went to his apartment, and returned a short while later. When he again knocked at the door, she answered and Young is said to have knocked her to the floor immediately with a piece of wood. He then struck Mr. Howard, knocking him to the floor and "out cold." Young reportedly went back to his apartment after this one-sided fight.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Howard were treated at Wake Memorial Hospital. The woman suffered a cut and a big knot on the left side of her head. Howard had a cut on the right side of his head and is believed to have suffered a skull fracture.

Both signed warrants and Mr. Young is facing two counts of assault with a deadly weapon. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)
