Smith said he had never heard of the complainant, and at the time of the alleged assault, he was at home with his wife watching football on New Year's Day. We apologize to Mr. Smith for any inconvenience the article caused him, but our information was obtained from the police blotter. Smith said that his name was chosen from the telephone book by the inquiring officers.

Two of the assailants were identified by Hayward as (1) wearing a London Fog coat and a black flat top hat, and (2) wearing a green sweater and a checked shirt. One is also believed to be a student at Shaw University.

The complainant said he would sign warrants if he saw these two again as he was sure he can identify them.

Census Workers Are Needed In Wake C'ty

Headquarters office for the special census of Wake County will be open January 11 at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Raleigh, N. C. Mrs. Mary C. House of the Census Regional Office in Charlotte will supervise the population count.

The census will ask these questions: name of each person, age, sex, relationship to head of household, and color or race. An additional question, "Does this house have a basement?" will be asked at the request of Civil Defense. A similar census was taken in each of four North Carolina counties in December 1965.

Local people are needed to work as census enumerators visiting all households in the county beginning about January 2. A diligent enumerator can earn from $12 to $15 a day.

Candidates must be U. S. citizens, 18 or older, with a high school education or equivalent; and those who live outside town must have a car and a driver's license. In general, each enumerator will work in the area where he or she lives, Mrs. House says. Work will be full time for a week or longer, including Saturdays and some evenings.

Applicants will be given a written test of ability to understand written instructions and to read maps. Those who are appointed will receive a period of training, for which they will be paid. All census workers must take an oath not to reveal information about individuals or families.

Most enumerators in a census are housewives. "They make excellent enumerators," Mrs. House says, "and most of them welcome the chance to earn some extra money."

Mrs. House asks that anyone interested in census work come to the special census office between 8:30 a. m. and 5:00 p. m. any day beginning January 11, and come prepared to fill out an application form and take the Census test.

She refused, however, to sign a warrant for assault and battery, saying she didn't want any action taken against him.

The complainant suffered from the lower portion of her body.

Pontiac Motor Division sold more cars in 1965 than in any other year in the division's history, John Z. DeLoorean, divisional general manager, announced today. A record total of 827,522 units were sold in the year, a 20 per cent increase over the 693,716 sold the previous year. DeLoorean also said that 69,875 Pontiacs and Tempests were sold in December. This figure was topped only by the 75,468 sales in the same period a year ago when the division was producing at an accelerated rate to catch up with the demand of an earlier strike. In the final 10 days of 1965 a total of 22,027 cars were sold.

GREENSBORO -- Students in the Junior Seminar in Field Experience at Bennett College last week launched "Operation Share Your Library," a month long effort to provide books for disadvantaged members of the local community.

Some birth defects are obvious at birth. Others may take months or years to detect. The National Foundation-March of Dimes is supporting research to aid early detection so that proper treatment can be begun rapidly.

The only way we could make a Catalina look even better would be to show you its price tag.

Because stretching back for nearly 18 feet behind that dashing front end is everything that would make pricing a Catalina the next logical step: A 389-cu. in. V-8 Wide-Track wheels. Nylon carpets. A package of safety features including seat belts front and rear. And one of the roomiest trunks in the field. Come in, take on and price out a tiger at your Pontiac dealers—a good place to buy used cars, too.
