Winter Auto Safety

Winter driving on snow and ice is made safer by women in the know who follow a few simple tips.

Z working well. Carry a plastic ice scraper and snow brush in the glove compartment, as well as a can of one of the wonderful preparations that prevent ice from forming on the windshield. Keep chains, sand and a shovel in the car. Drive with your low-beam headlights on in snow, rain or log. (Be sure the glass on each headlight is wiped off occasionally.) Leave an extra amount of space between you and the car in front of you. Never brake suddenly on snow or ice since this might cause a skid. Apply your brakes gently with an on-and-off pumping pressure.
