THE VETERANS' CORNER

EDITOR'S NOTE: Below are authoritative answers by the Veterans Administration to some of the many current questions from former servicemen and their families. Further information on veterans benefits may be obtained at any VA office.

Q -- Since I purchased my home on a GI loan, I have been transferred to a job in another city. What can I do?

A -- On all VA home loans, the veteran remains liable on the note until the loan is paid in full or he is released from liability by the VA. When you receive orders to transfer, you should immediately attempt to arrange a sale of your property and when a purchaser is found, obtain a release from liability from the VA.

Q -- A dear friend of mine, a veteran of World War Two, died without friends or relatives. Due to our long association, I arranged a funeral and paid the bills. Will the VA reimburse me for my expenses?

A -- Yes, at least in part. The VA pays a statutory allowance up to $250 towards the burial of a veteran who was honorably discharged from a period of wartime service.

Q -- Does a "General Discharge under Honorable Conditions" have any bearing on the eligibility for veterans benefits as related to an "Honorable Discharge"?

A -- Either a "General Discharge under Honorable Conditions" or an "Honorable Discharge" are acceptable for Veterans Administration benefits.

WHEN A LITTLE BOY came home from school dragging his books behind him, his mother asked him what kind of a day he had. The boy sighed, "I had another hard day at the principal's office." Catholic Digest -- March.
