BY CHARLES R. JONES

HIT ON HEAD WITH WINE BOTTLE

Hickman Jenkins, of 426 S. Haywood St., told Officers T. T. Street, Jr., and Joseph Winters, Sr., at 7:33 a. m. Friday, he had been drinking and didn't know who hit him on the head with a wine bottle in the 500 block of E. Davle St., causing a laceration on the left side of his forehead one-half inch long. No other information was listed on the officers' report.

PUNCHED IN THE EYE

Miss Thomsine Dunston, of 108 Glover Lane, reported to Officer S. E. Cobb at 11:07 p. m. Sunday, that she and Donald Harris, 22, of E. Hargett St., were arguing at the American Legion Home, 416 E. Cabarrus St., and during the "fuss," he hit her in the eye with his fist. Miss Dunston told the cop she would come to headquarters later and sign an assault and battery warrant against Harris.

SLAPS WIFE, GOES TO JAIL

Officer John Lloyd Denning reported at 3 a. m. Sunday, that Herman Lee Jacobs, 24, of 548 E. Hargett St., was coming out of The Cave, 400 block of E. Cabarrus St., with his wife, Mrs. Ella Reese Jacobs, 23, and he allegedly slapped her twice, the second blow knocking her down on the street. Jacobs was "hauled off" to Wake County Jail on a charge of assault and battery. His bond was set at $50.

STABBED OVER $1.50

William Hinton, of 537 1/2 E. Martin St., informed Officers Norman Artis and James E. (Bobby) Daye at 10:50 p. m. Saturday, that he owed Sam Galtner, 35, of 211 S. Swain St., $1.50. They argued over the money, Hinton stated, and Sam stabbed him in the left arm with a pocket knife.

Hinton signed a warrant, charging assault with a deadly weapon, and Galtner was arrested and placed under bond.

"INNOCENT" BROTHER ATTACKED

Paul Ernest Lane, of 612 E. Edenton St., told Officers T. B. Lewis and B. C. Nipper at 8:24 p. m. Saturday, he was at 904 E. Jones St., and several colored males came up to him and began calling him names.

Lane said he left and went to 308 Seawall Avenue where he picked up his brother, Alonza Lee Lane, 24. The pair then returned to 904 E. Jones, where Alonza was attacked by about six youths. He was cut in several places on his body, and beaten about the head while running two blocks west on Jones Street.

Alonza Lane suffered cuts on the right side of his head, left elbow, right hand, under the chin, on the stomach, and had large bumps on the head.

Names and addresses of several suspects were given. The gang used its fists, fists and a knife on Lane, who is believed to have been treated at Wake Memorial Hospital.

STEAL EXPENSIVE SUNGLASSES

Officers J. P. Hinds and R. H. Newton arrested William Otis Bass, 19, and James Robert Todd, 18, on charges of shoplifting, after the pair was observed concealing one pair of sunglasses, valued at $7, from Longview Pharmacy, 20-08 New Bern Avenue.

Both youths live at Rt. 1, Box 442, Knightdale.

CANDY, MONEY TAKEN

Miss Deborah Faye Edwards, of 911 Cannister St., reported to the cops at 6:06 p. m. Saturday, someone entered her house between the hours of 12 noon and 4:30 p. m. that day through an unlocked door.

Stolen were 13 bars of candy, valued at 50 cents each, and $6 in change, from a cabinet in a back room. An 8-year-old boy who lives with Miss Edwards, told her that he observed another youngster, from next door, enter the house and take the missing items.

However, the other child denied "any knowledge of the crime."

UNOCCUPIED HOUSE ENTERED

Wiley Jacob Latham, of 13-03 S. East St., informed Officers Norman Artis and James E. (Bobby) Daye at 11:20 p. m. Monday, that the last time someone was living at 724 S. East Street, was on March 13.

Mr. Latham said he received a call on Monday, stating the front door of the house was open. Upon arrival, he discovered the front door glass panel had been broken out and the door was open.

He was unable to tell if anything had been taken from the residence.

Damage to the door was set at $25.

Woman Att'y Sparks 40th Homemaking Talks

GREENSBORO -- A young woman attorney, who turned down an opportunity to practice in Wall Street to accept the challenge of working in Mississippi where there were only three Negro lawyers in the entire state, sparked the opening session of the 40th annual Homemaking Institute at Bennett College on Monday.

Miss Marian E. Wright, a graduate of the Yale University Law School said that "I came South because most of the talent was going elsewhere," and accepted work as one of the few NAACP Legal Defense Fund lawyers in Mississippi. She challenged the students to come out of their ivory towers and to work with people who are "trying to help themselves. She rapped the so-called middle class as being "too comfortable" and as "having too much to lose" to become engaged in the struggle for human rights and dignity.

Dr. Helen Smith, Los Angeles dentist and business executive, continued the emphasis upon non-traditional employment patterns by urging the students to consider dentistry as a career which is both remunerative and provides the satisfaction of being of service. Miss Eleanor Barnwell, who works with the Great Cities School Improvement Project in Detroit, Mich., told the efforts to increase the competencies of children and Mrs. Audrose Harvey, home economist of Rochester, N. Y., told of the work there in helping to raise family living standards.

The need for speech therapists was emphasized by Dr. Ella Hath Weaver, who is presently speech consultant to the Job Corps for Women. Wife of Dr. Robert C. Weaver, Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), she said that classroom teachers can do much to help in the area of speech by setting examples for the young to emulate. She urged a strong background in psychology, anatomy, physiology and neurology for those students interested in a career of speech correction. During morning and afternoon seminars, the consultants answered many questions regarding career opportunities and responsibilities in keeping with the theme: "Opportunity and Aspiration -- A New Perspective for Women."

The institute continued on Wednesday with presentation by the following consultants: Mrs. Marjorie Brown, home economist and guidance counselor with the Stamford (Conn.) public schools; Mrs. Mary Funnay, psychiatric caseworker, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Miss Philippa Schuyler, concert pianist,

Three KC Students Supporting Crossroads

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. - Three Knoxville College juniors will participate in Operation Crossroads Africa this summer, but they must raise $1,000 apiece to do so. They are Juanita Lawson from Albany, Ga.; Jacqueline Marsh from Wilmington; and Wallace Cheatham from Knoxville.

A campus fund-raising drive, now underway, will include the sacrifice of several breakfasts by students, a bake sale, and the solicitation of faculty and staff members for gifts. Persons outside of the campus community are also being invited to give toward this worthy project. Students who have participated in the project in previous summers will make appeals before interested groups. Gifts are tax-deductible.

This is the eighth Operation Crossroads Africa study-workshop project which will involve college and university students and leaders. Participants in Operation Crossroads Africa are drawn from all racial, religious, ethnic, and social backgrounds. They work, live, and study in units, usually of ten to twelve, under an adult leader. Wherever possible, Crossroads are joined by a group of African students, an African co-leader, and by workers from the area where the projects are located. Roy Teague, a KC junior from Selma, Ala., participated in the project last summer. He has been busy all year telling supporters of his experiences.
