

Mutual Plans

(CONTINUED FROM PAGE 13) by Dr. Norval Neil Luxon, professor of Journalism at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill. Participants in this seminar will be, W. J. Trent, Jr., assistant personnel director, TIME, Incorporated, New York, N. Y.; E. Washington Rhodes, THE PHILADELPHIA TRIBUNE, Philadelphia, Pa.; and Thomas P. Inman associate editor, THE NEWS AND OBSERVER, Raleigh.

The Education Seminar will be conducted by Dr. Martin Jenkins, president of Morgan State College in Baltimore, Md., who also will act as chairman of this group. The position paper will be presented by Dr. Floyd W. Reeves, distinguished professor emeritus, East Lansing, Mich. Members of this panel will include Dr. William C. Friday, president, The University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, N. C.; Dr. Stephen J. Wright, president, Fisk University, Nashville, Tenn.; and Dr. L. C. Dowdy, president, A&T College, Greensboro, N. C.

Key figures from federal and state government headed by Dr. James M. Nabrit, Deputy Representative of the United States, The United Nations, New York, will participate in the seminar on Government, Public Policy, and Political Action, Authorities in the field who will have an active part in this depth study will be Dr. Helen G. Edmonds, dean, Graduate School, North Carolina College at Durham, Durham, N. C.; Jack Greenberg, director-counsel, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, New York, N. Y.; Dr. Allan P. Sandler, professor, Department of Government, Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y., will present the position paper.

The seminar on Labor will be conducted by George L. P. Weaver, assistant secretary of Labor, Members of the panel will include, Dr. Frank T. Devyer, vice provost, Duke University, Durham, N. C.; and Dr. Joseph J. Spengler, professor, Economics, Duke University, Durham, N. C., who will present the position paper.

The Literature and Arts seminar will be headed by Herbert Hill, labor secretary of NAACP, New York, N. Y. Members: Dr. Charles A. Ray, chairman, Department of English, North Carolina College at Durham, Durham, N. C.; Dr. J. Saunders Redding, Hampton Institute, Hampton, Va., will present the position paper.

Dr. Robert Cushman, dean of the Divinity School at Duke University, will head the seminar on the Negro in Religion, Members: the Rev. Lorenzo Lynch, pastor, White Rock Baptist Church, Durham, N. C.; Dr. Waldo Beach, professor of Christian Ethics and director of Graduate Studies in Religion, Duke University, Durham, N. C.; and the Rev. Archibald J. Carey, minister of Quinn Chapel AME Church, Chicago, Ill. Dr. Evans E. Crawford, dean of the Chapel, Howard University, Washington, D. C., will do the position paper.

The position paper for the Sports seminar will be given by Wendell Smith of Station WGN Radio-TV in Chicago. Discussions will be by Buddy Young, assistant to the Commissioner of the National Football League, New York; and Eric B. Roberts, acting sports editor, THE PITTSBURGH COURIER.

St. Aug. Bus. Club Is Chosen

The Business Club of St. Augustine's College was notified recently by the National Business Education Association that it meets the standards and requirements for a local chapter of Phi Beta Lambda. The College's request for a local chapter of Phi Beta Lambda has also been approved by the Phi Beta Lambda-Future Business Leaders of America's State Committee.

Mr. Alton Finch, chairman, State Committee, PBL-FBLA, East Carolina College, Greenville, N. C., will install St. Augustine's chapter April 21, 1966. The officers of the Lambda Pi Chapter of Phi Beta Lambda are James Perry, president; Frank Godfrey, vice-president; Vivian Hawkins, secretary; Eugene Thomas, treasurer; Lionel Curtis, business manager; and Mrs. M. B. Wright, advisor.

RECORDING AWARD PRESENTED - New York: Opera star Marian Anderson presents "Grammy" award to Thomas Frost of Columbia Records for best album of the year at 8th Annual Grammy Awards presentation here recently. The awards are presented by the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences. (UPI PHOTO).

UNUSUAL MUSICIAN - M. Josiah, Georgetown, British Guiana, is shown holding his bow and a saw that he can extract some of the sweetest tunes ever heard. The picture was taken at the 52nd Annual Conference of the British Guiana Conference AME Zion Church, with Bishop S. G. Spottswood, Mrs. Josiah and Dr. J. C. Hoggard looking on.

Georgia Davis, Noted Contralto, At A And T

GREENSBORO -- Georgia Davis, one of the country's outstanding young contraltos, appeared in concert at A&T College on Wednesday evening, March 30. The concert began at 8 p. m. in the Harrison Auditorium.

Miss Davis, a native of Detroit, began her career as a soloist with the famed Hall Johnson Choir and with the National Chorus of America under Hugh Ross.

The young singer attended Wayne State University, and received her musical training at the Detroit Conservatory of Music, Detroit Institute of Musical Art, and in the opera department of Mannes College of Music in New York. In addition, she has received grants, fellowships, and scholarships from the Martha Baird Rockefeller Foundation, William Matthews Sullivan, Concert Artist Guild, An Hour of Music, the United States Information Service and the Metropolitan Opera.

59 4-H Boys, Girls Compete In Wake Co.

In 4-H demonstrations and contests, all who participate win. It's true only a few can be named champion. But when importance is placed on such things as knowledge, skills, speaking ability, attitude about one's self and competitors, 4-H Clubs offer terrific experiences. Wake County 4-H Club members and adult leaders realize this. That is why 59 4-H boys and girls competed in the county-wide demonstration elimination and contest.

Melanie Ennis was named senior county champion in the dress revue. Joan Franks was declared junior champion. All entries in the county contest were winners in their community 4-H Clubs.

Blue ribbon winners in the senior division were: Linda Ritchie, Betty Ross and Peggy Jones. Red ribbon winners were: Patricia Ann Dean, Jill Clawson, Gwendolyn D. Leach, Sandra A. Garris, Sylvia D. Jones, Phyllis McIver, Djunia Ballentine and Agnes Bailey.

White ribbon winners were: Janet Pierce, Juanita Mangum, Diane Chavis, Alice Carrington and Devonne Hemby.

Blue ribbon winners in the junior division were: Sandra Woodlief, Ann Prince, Phyllis Wilson, Joyce Ballentine, Nancy Ennis, Debra Coates, Susan Suggs, Emmer Weatherspoon. Red ribbon winners were: Debbie Ward, Mary Gail Johnson, Gloria Ogburn, Marva Chavis, Luzella Rayford, Leslie Gray, Jennie Sauls, Julia Zobel, Billie Hardin, Bonnie Stevens. White ribbon winners were: Jeanette Jordan, Patricia Daniel, Patricia Ryals, Faye Scott and Brenda Walker.

In the Senior Dairy Foods Demonstration, Lucrine Turner of Raleigh, Rt. 3, was named county champion. Joyce Ballentine of Holly Springs Road, Raleigh, placed first in the early-teen division. Also in the early-teen division was Mary Gail Johnson who won a red ribbon.

The Boys Electric Demonstration was won by Chip Suggs of Raleigh. Wayne Woodlief of Wake Forest was also a blue ribbon winner in this category. Carol Vanderford of Raleigh was declared girls Public Speaking winner and Henry Sweet of Wake Forest in the boys division. Other speeches were given by Betty Ross who was a red ribbon winner.

In the Wildlife Conservation demonstration, David Buffaloe of Garner and Bobby Ritchie of Raleigh tied for first place. Danny Dean was a red ribbon winner.

ANY BOOK worth reading is soon borrowed and promptly disappears, leaving a library consisting of your high school textbooks, a copy of Homer in the original Greek, and an ancient encyclopedia.

DEAR SALLY

BY SALLY SHAW

DEAR SALLY: I'm a girl of 23, and ever since I began working behind the lunch counter of a drugstore five months ago I have been carrying on a mild and harmless sort of flirtation with one of my male customers. He's a very attractive man who looks about 25. I'm not the kind of person who makes a habit of going overboard for every fellow that comes along, but I'm beginning to think more and more that I am falling in love with this particular man. How can I be sure of this? STAR EYES.

DEAR STAR EYES: You can't. Love is something that develops from knowing a person, and this man you hardly know. In fact, he may be married. Certainly, if he hasn't even asked you for a date after five months of flirting, there's a reason.

DEAR SALLY: I'm a fellow of 18, and last weekend I took a nice girl to a dance about ten miles outside of our city. On the way home my car broke down, and I managed to get another car to push us into a service station. The repair job seemed to take forever, and as a result I didn't get my girl home until three a. m., over two hours past her "deadline." Now her father refuses to let me date her again, and my Dad has grounded me for a month -- both of them very skeptical about my story and reason for my lateness in getting home. How about this? IN THE SOUP.

DEAR IN THE SOUP: You could have gotten on the phone at the service station and let your parents know what had happened and the probability of your being detained. As it is now, one way you might back up your story is to visit that service station again and ask the man who waited on you to itemize a bill for the repairs on your car, along with the time consumed on the job. This might help you with both fathers.

DEAR SALLY: The young man I am engaged to is wonderful in every respect, kind, courteous, thoughtful, and witty--and I have never heard him utter a cross word. The only thing that bothers me very much is our seeming divergence of interests. I don't care for sports, he's crazy about them. I like classical music, he digs jazz. I like opera, he loathes it. I like books, he reads only the newspapers. I like drama and the theater, he likes only the movies. I like bridge, he likes pinocle. I like dancing, he only goes through the motions of dancing when he cannot avoid it. And so on. If it's this way now before we're married, how will it be after we're married? CONCERNED.

DEAR CONCERNED: You know, he could be thinking along these same lines about you -- but he's much too "kind" and "thoughtful" -- and good-natured -- ever to utter a word about it. Lots of couples have various small and separate interests, but if their love is strong enough, many of these interests will in time merge.

DEAR SALLY: I'm a girl of 24, and about two months ago I met and fell hard for a certain attractive insurance salesman. We had a half-dozen dates, then I discovered from another source that he was engaged. When I confronted him with this, he said that he had been meaning to tell me about it, but was afraid to for fear of losing me altogether. Now he has broken his engagement with this other girl, and has asked me to marry him. Have I a right to be a LITTLE DUBIOUS?

DEAR DUBIOUS: You have plenty of right to be much more than "a little dubious." After all, this unprincipled fellow was dating you at the same time he was engaged to another girl, another girl to whom he had pledged "eternal devotion and fidelity." Now, if you were foolish enough to become engaged to him, how could you be sure that some other girl would not in time be taking him away from you? He's NOT a good prospect at all!

Your Car

by VERN WORTHINGTON

Oil With "Experience"

Had your oil changed lately? Sure you have. So have most of the nation's car owners. Added together, America's motorists discard over 800 million quarts of black, dirty oil each year--enough to fill to the brim every bathtub in the city of New York, with enough left over for Minneapolis, Minn. and Dallas, Texas.

This constant flow of crankcase drainings could constitute a serious menace to our waterways and sewage treatment facilities or, if burned, would generate an overpowering cloud of smog. But it doesn't and never has.

Why? Because of the foresight of the National Bureau of Standards way back in the early twenties, when a process was developed for "laundering and revitalizing" used oil. This process is still, essentially, used today by the re-refining industry--whose products are reported by experts to be as good or better than the new product most motorists buy.

You may not be too familiar with this oil with "experience" because most of it is grabbed up by knowledgeable users such as the bus and truck lines, car rental fleets, and stock car drivers.

First Federal increases its Savings Dividend.

STARTING JANUARY 1, 1966 GET

4 1/4%

PEP CENT PER YEAR ANTICIPATED DIVIDEND RATE

PAID FOUR TIMES A YEAR

Welcome To Raleigh NCTA

PROFESSIONAL LAUNDERING AND DRY CLEANING

Dixie Cleaners & Laundry

Look Sharp! And Really Feel Sharp! With Freshly Cleaned And Pressed Suit From Our Cleaners.

1 Hr. Cleaning 2 Hr. Shirt Service

DIXIE CLEANERS AND LAUNDRY

515 W Morgan St. TE 3-4431

JACQUIN'S VODKA ROYALE

Charles Jacquin et Cie, Inc., Phila., Pa. -- Est. 1864 -- 50 PROOF

LOWE'S ROARLING VALUES

a Roaring 20" Mower

$32.88 S-20

3 HP 4 CYCLE BRIGGS & STRATTON ENGINE

- 14 gauge steel deck
- Modern "easy-pull" starter
- 6 inch wheels
- Stop-start-run throttle control mounted on engine
- Oilite Wheel bushings

22" POWER MOWER
3 HP 4-Cycle Briggs Engine
Model S-22
2.33 Per Wk. 39.88

For larger lawns this heavy duty mower is a workhorse and excellent performer. Features quality Briggs & Stratton Engine. 7 inch wheels with white sidewalls, rear baffles. Throttle control mounted on handle.

LOWE'S

Wilmington: 165 Castle Hayne Rd. RALEIGH 1401 Downtown Blvd. VA 8-3251 Wilson: Hwy. 301 South