

GUARD INMATES AFTER RIOTS - Hagerstown, Md.: Maryland Correctional Institute guards watch over prisoners in the mess hall after riots broke out twice early April 12th. Two inmates were shot and wounded and two others were injured before order was restored. Two state troopers and four guards were also injured. The inmates complained of living conditions in the prison, which was originally built for 150 prisoners but now houses 1,531. (UPI PHOTO).

Durham Native From Labor Department Delegate To Geneva Trade Negotiations

WASHINGTON, D. C. - When Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz named comely Gloria G. Vernon as the Department of Labor's Representative to the United States Delegation to the Trade Negotiations Conference now in session in Geneva, Switzerland, it marked the first time the Department of Labor has selected a woman as its Representative. It is also the first time a Negro has been named to the Delegation.

Mrs. Vernon, who succeeds Herman Travis as Representative, is from the Labor Department's International Labor Bureau where she has served as an International Economist in the Division of Foreign Economic Policy. She was recommended for her appointment by Assistant Secretary of Labor for International Affairs, George L. P. Weaver who is high in praise for her abilities.

Mr. Weaver states: "It has given me great pride and satisfaction to make this recommendation and sanction this appointment, although I am reluctant to lose Mrs. Vernon from our immediate staff here at the Labor Department in the Bureau of International Affairs. She has exhibited remarkable initiative and ability since coming to this Bureau from the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions in 1963."

Mrs. Vernon assumed her new post at Geneva in mid-January and will remain until the end of the present sessions which are likely to continue without interruptions for another year.

A native of Durham, N. C., she and her three brothers are children of Dr. and Mrs. York D. Garrett, well-known in Durham.

She attended Public Schools in Durham and later graduated from Howard University with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in 1946. She had some considerable graduate work at Howard University and at North Carolina College in Durham.

She came to the Labor Department as a Labor Economist in 1957 with the Department's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

Mrs. Vernon considers her new post "challenging and admits that this, her first trip to Europe has her pretty "excited." She states: "I am particularly grateful to Assistant Secretary George Weaver for this opportunity and for the confidence in my ability expressed by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz."

The United States Delegation to the Trade Negotiations Conference is made up of some 60 persons from the Office of Christian A. Herter, Special Representative for Trade Negotiations, and other Federal agencies with trade responsibilities.

Fuquay-Varina

SCHOOL AND COMMUNITY NEWS

BY ELAINE STEWART
FUQUAY-VARINA - On April 4, Fuquay Consolidated High School received three teacher aides. They are Mrs. Pecola Jones, of Fuquay; Mrs. Marion Lockley, of Holly Springs, and Miss Shirley Utley, of Fuquay.

We were honored for six weeks with the presence of three practice teachers on our campus. They were Miss Ruby Frederick an English major, Mr. J. Davis, a physical education major and Mr. Silas - a music major. These persons made outstanding and useful contributions to the campus and its students. We are sure that St. Augustine's is very proud of all three. Mr. Silas has been employed as a fulltime member of the staff. For the next six weeks, the campus will have two other practice teachers. They are Miss Williamson and Miss Davis of Shaw University.

The school, several months ago, completed a project to purchase uniforms to outfit a twenty two man football team. The team is anxiously waiting to begin its first season of active play. Chatham High will be our first opponent on September 9.

The Student Council promoted many programs the first semester for academic and entertainment purposes. This, our second semester of school will be equally as full of activities. On Friday, April 8, we sponsored a "Coronation Ball" in the cafeteria. This was a very gala event. Our new "Mr. and Mrs. School Spirit," Lester McKoy and Bobby Lawrence were introduced to the Student body by the former "Miss School Spirit," Elaine Stewart.

The senior class of Fuquay Consolidated School is most excited about its class rings. We are waiting anxiously for the return of the memory book that was published by the senior class. The memory book is a first for the school in eleven years. The senior class is very proud of its project.

Vows Spoken By Raleighites

Mrs. Betty Curley Baugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Curley, of 6 N. Swain St., and Sgt. George Tomlinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tomlinson, 840 E. Lenoir St., were married Saturday, April 9, in a private double-ring ceremony. Only relatives and close friends were in attendance.

The bride wore a silk, blue-gray, two-piece suit, with matching accessories with a light blue veil hat, and wore an orchid corsage. Miss Geraldine Mosley was her maid of honor. She wore a pink dress with matching accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

The best man was Mr. Nell Clemmons, of Jersey City, N. J.

A reception was held at the American Legion Home, 416 E. Cabarrus St. at 8 p. m., given by the groom's father. Miss Marion Trevan served as the hostess. The table was beautifully decorated with a floral center-piece made of carnations and lilies of the valley.

Completing the decorations were candles and a three-tier wedding cake. The cake was baked by the groom's father. Miss Mosley also assisted at the gift table. Live music was furnished by Richard Dupree and the Matadors.

On Sunday, April 10, at 1 p. m., the groom's mother entertained the couple with a wedding dinner at her home.

The bride's mother was dressed in a light pink suit, and wore black accessories and a pink carnation corsage. The groom's mother wore a blue and white, pure silk dress, with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Tomlinson is employed as a teacher's aide at the Holly Springs Elementary School in Holly Springs. Sgt. Tomlinson is stationed at Fort Monmouth, New Jersey.

The couple will be residing here in Raleigh until June. Then they will make their home in New Jersey.

Ligon's Faculty To Present Music, Drama Extravaganza

BY JOSEPH L. EDWARDS

The Ligon Music Department and the School in general will always be grateful for the sympathetic support of the Band Uniform drive. Fifty new suits were delivered last week and only a small balance remains to be paid to the company. To offset this balance the faculty is presenting a "Extravaganza" on next Thursday night, April 28, at 8 p. m. at the Ligon School. Unveiled on the stage will be many hidden talents of the Ligon staff. There will be songs, vocal and instrumental, dances, comedy and serious acting for your entertainment. Support this our final effort to claim our new uniforms.

Two one-act plays will be presented of which one is entitled, "Ladies Take A Bow" directed by Mrs. Emma Brown. The story line is as follows: Several young and middle aged ladies have the opportunity to appear on a radio program and although they don't say they are trying to steal the show from each other, nevertheless they work quite hard at it. Throughout the performance we find all sorts of outlandish characters, costumes and make up.

The second story line is as follows: A theme depicting the unlimited greed of human nature will reveal itself in a delightful one act comedy sponsored by the LHS faculty on Thursday, April 28, in the LHS auditorium at 8 p. m.

The play, entitled, "The Dear Departed" by Stanley Hough-

CUT WEDDING CAKE - Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Rudolph Smith are shown cutting their wedding cake on Easter Sunday after their wedding. Mrs. Smith is the niece of the Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Turner, Raleigh, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, of Bolton. (See story).

Smith-Turner Vows Spoken At Home Of Bride's Uncle

Miss Shirley Ann Turner became the bride of Mr. Dallas Rudolph Smith on Easter Sunday, at the home of the bride, with the Rev. Joseph P. Dempsey officiating. She is the niece of Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Turner, Raleigh, and Mr. Smith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Smith of Bolton.

A graduate of St. Augustine's College, the bride is employed by Social Security, Fayetteville. Her husband was graduated from A&T College and is employed by Agricultural Extension Service in Fayetteville.

The bride given in marriage by her uncle, wore a wedding gown of silk peau-de-soie, made with a fitted bodice and a full skirt that fell into a chapel train. The portrait neckling, as well as the front of the skirt of hand-run alencon lace, were elaborately beaded in seed pearls and sequin. Her three-tiered veil of french illusion fell from a crown of pearls. She carried a prayer book covered in white satin and lace, topped with a white orchid and showered with ribbon, stephanotis and baby's breath.

Miss Goldie Ann Frinks, was maid of honor. She wore a full-length dress of yellow peau-de-soie. Her hat was made of roses and veiling. She carried a bouquet of yellow carnations tied with yellow ribbon.

Miss Margaret Smith, sister of the groom, was a bridesmaid. Her dress of green silk peau-de-soie was fashioned after the maid of honor's. Her hat was made of roses and veiling and she carried a bouquet of pink carnations tied with green ribbon.

Little Rizelle Williams, was flower girl. She was quite charming as she threw petals in the path of the bride.

Mr. Leonard Hardy was best man, and Mr. Eugene Smith, of Bolton, was the usher.

Mrs. Cleopatra H. Lawton furnished two selections prior to the ceremony, and Mrs. Jeanette Fields Harris of Washington, D. C. sang, "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction. Mrs. Lucille Campbell accompanying. The members of St. John Church are asked to accompany Sister Lillie Mae Williams to the church of God of Prophecy at 8 p. m. Saturday, April 23.

Sick - Mr. Floyd Matthews, Mr. William Satterfield, Mr. William Ballentine, Let's all pray for the sick and visit them.
