

Traveling Shaw U. Bears Lose Three Big Ones Up North

GILLIAM REACTIVATED AS A PLAYER - New York: Los Angeles Dodger Coach Jim Gilliam has been reactivated as a player by the team, presumably for pinch-hitting duties, but Gilliam joined the workout at Dodger Stadium recently, both in the batting cage and playing at third base during batting practice. Gilliam, 37, started off last season as a coach, too, but ended up playing in 111 games and the World Series. His 13-year-major league career, by the way, has included 1,866 games and 37 World Series games. Last year, after announcing his retirement for the second time, his glove was sent to the Cooperstown, New York "Hall of Fame." (UPI PHOTO).

Champs Lose To Delaware State, Md. State, Hampton

BY SPENCER BALDWIN
Traveling north for a decisive five-game series in CIAA competition, the Shaw University Bears were victorious in their opener against Howard University, 16-6. However, for the next three games at Delaware State, Maryland State and Hampton Institute, the Bears lost by scores of 5-3, 11-10 and 5-4, respectively.

The Bears, in their opener with the Bison of Howard, were led to their 16-6 victory by senior right fielder, Bobby Height, who had three homers and a single for his five trips at bat. Height, drove in five runs for the game. Winning pitcher, Randolph Bazemore, who is now 3-0, also aided the Bears' cause lining a two-run homer in the Bears' fifth, putting them ahead for keeps. Willie French also gave aid to the Bears' cause with a single, a double, and a triple. French had three RBI's.

Advancing to Delaware State, the Bears dropped a 5-3 decision on a disputed play at first in the seventh inning. The Bears had ten hits, but James Roben, hard-throwing right-hander for Delaware, scattered them with great efficiency. Delaware scored the deciding runs as the Shaw Bears were arguing at first, with time evidently not being called.

Shaw dropped a real close one, 11-10 at Maryland State. The Bears allowed the Maryland State nine to score nine unearned runs, six in the first two innings.

Willie Jones, third baseman for the Bears, put his team ahead on a two-run homer in the top of the ninth, but Maryland State came back with three unearned runs in the bottom of the ninth to take the 11-10 decision.

Nathan Walton, went the distance for the Bears, but dropped his first game behind six errors committed by his teammates.

The Bears weren't short of hits, for the day, as they rapped fifteen hits, but they were just unable to get the runs across the plate. Willie French picked up three of the hits and Bobby Height and William Brown, two each.

In the closing game for the week, the Pirates of Hampton Institute gained a 5-4 decision from the Bears on two singles and an error in the bottom of the eighth.

Walton and second baseman, Fred Long picked up two hits each out of the Bears total of nine.

Shaw closed its northern tour Monday, with a game at Norfolk State.

Sport Fishing Course At Hatteras June 19-24

School bells will ring on June 19, calling all anglers to the 15th annual short course in sport fishing sponsored by the General Extension Division of North Carolina State University.

The course, which runs until June 24th, will be conducted by expert anglers, tackle representatives, and zoologist at Hatteras, North Carolina, one of the finest sport fishing spots on the Atlantic coast. Novices and experienced fisherman alike will study the basics of fresh and salt water fishing, including casting, tackle, and techniques.

Lab sessions will be conducted inshore, on Pamlico Sound, and in the Gulf Stream. The 1965 class boated nearly 800 fish of all kinds and sizes. Three fishing excursions are planned this year -- an all day-trip to the Gulf Stream, and two half-day trips inshore and to the sound.

Students will be accommodated in three modern motels on the historic Outer Banks where the notorious pirate, Edward Teach (Blackbeard), once terrorized shippers. Classes are to be conducted in a nearby school and fishing trips will originate from the docks at Hatteras.

The fee for the five day course covers room and board, boats, baits, fishing trips and instructions.

A description of the course and application forms are available free on request from the General Extension Division, North Carolina State University, P. O. Box 5125, Raleigh, North Carolina, 27607.
