St. Aug. English Prof. Throws "Swinging" Alumni Party

BY PETE HOLDEN

"St. Aug. is St. Aug., Shaw is Shaw and never the twin shall meet", was filled in the annuals of Raleigh Society's history here last Saturday evening when a popular English Prof., who teaches at St. Augustine's and her husband, "throw" perhaps the swiftest graduation season party that this city's South Park section has ever witnessed.

The occasion marked a St. Augustine's Alumni (Chavis Recreation Center) dance party and the affair was staged in the Swank Club basement of Prof. Willie Howell High and her husband, Harold's home on South Person St. The party commenced at 12 midnight.

Although both the High's are former Shaw University Students (a name that the Prof. whispers softly while on the northeast Raleigh College Campus), the password-invitation to the midnight affair which went into the wee hours of the next morning was "St. Aug. Alumnus." That's all-and the alumni ranged in years from the class of '06 to the class of '66.

The Highs quenched the guests' thirst with that famous imported thirst quencher from the Highlands of Scotland and they punctuated the party with ham, potato salad and lettuce and tomatoes along with a wide assortment of other food goodies.

The guests hailed from as far north as New York, West to Chicago, and South to Hamlet, North Carolina, representing the St. Augustine's College Choir of '06 was Mrs. Eleanor Ford Greene, formerly of Raleigh and now of Norfolk, Va. (there were just two graduates that year - the other was Mrs. Sadie Gaines Davis, formerly of Henderson, Kentucky and now of Chicago). Hailing from Philadelphia were: Pres. of St. Aug.'s National Alumni Association, Oscar Peay, Ted and Francis Cutchins Gordon, and Eleanor Henry.

From Washington: Attorney Melvin Miller, Adams Shaw and Walter Swindell. From New York: Shirley M. Tunstall, Ann Hatchell, and Beatrice Bryant Morgan. From Durham: Russ Blount and wife, Cora Duren Blount, and Vivian M. Crump. From Kingston: Joshua Wooten. From Norfolk: John and Ellen Perry, from Emporia, Va.: Joe Bond, from Virginia Beach: Donald Morgan and from Hamlet: Mr. and Mrs. Allen Mosk.

Attending from Raleigh were: Elsie Howell, Dr. and Mrs. W. W. Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Foxwell, Mr. George Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Heartley, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bridges, Mrs. Addie Perry, Miss Janie Keys, Miss Elvira Quick, Sevelle (Blood) Cloud, Mrs. Millie Veasey, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Davis, Barbara Hart, Mrs. Bessie Blue, Clint Ligon, Charles and Ruth Boyer Walker, Cecil Coble, and India Banks Smith, Mary Hamilton and William Laws, Oscar Applewhite, James Walton and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Merritt, Howard Todd, Misses Brenda Curtis, Joyce Davis, and Mrs. Eloise Hilliard.

Peace Corps Tests Here On June 11

Raleigh area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps Placement Test at 9 a. m. on Saturday, June 11, at the Main Post Office here.

The Peace Corps uses the Placement Test to determine how an applicant can be utilized overseas. The Test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. (If Test scores indicate a limited language-learning ability, for example, the Peace Corps tries to place the applicant in an English-speaking country.)

The Placement Test requires no preparation and is non-competitive -- an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the Placement Test, is the most important factor in the selection of Volunteers. Person interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the Test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D. C. 20525.

The Placement Test takes about an hour and a half.

Summer Term Begins At Shaw U. June 13

The 1966 summer term at Shaw University will open on June 13 and run for eleven weeks, closing on August 26, according to an announcement from the Office of the Director of the summer session.

With the university operating on the four-term calendar year, the summer term will be the same length of time as the fall, winter, and spring term.

Registration will commence on Monday, June 13, and classes start the following day, Tuesday, June 14.

The university will inaugurate for the first time this summer a special eight-week session for college-bound high school juniors and seniors. The Pre-College program, which runs from June 13 to August 5, will stress work in English, mathematics, speech and reading in order to aid the academic transition from high school to college.

Summer term director Lenoir H. Cook said the University will offer four workshops this term, two in Reading and one each in Art and Education. The first Reading Workshop and those in Art and Education will begin June 13 and run for six weeks, through July 25. The second Reading Workshop, a three-week session, will commence on July 25 and close August 12.

In addition to the workshops, which are designed primarily for the public school teachers, forty-six undergraduates courses will be offered in art,

NCC Graduate School Receives Highest Teacher Accreditation

DURHAM -- North Carolina College at Durham Wednesday received announcement of the accreditation of its graduate program in teacher education by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education.

Rolf W. Larson, director of NCATE, in a statement of notification to the college cited "full accreditation of programs for preparing elementary and secondary school teachers at the master's degree level, full accreditation of programs for preparing school service personnel (elementary and secondary school principals, supervisors, and guidance counselors) at the master's degree level."

William Jones, chairman of the interim committee administering the affairs of the college, congratulated the Graduate School and its dean, Dr. Helen G. Edmonds; the Council on Teacher Education and its chairman, Dr. F. G. Shipman; and "the entire graduate faculty for the effective cooperation which brings this unique distinction to North Carolina College."

Jones accented the congratulatory statement from NCATE which read: "The administrative staff and faculty of the college are to be commended for improvements made in the criteria for admission to graduate programs, in faculty strength, and in design and content of graduate curricula."

Approval of NCC's graduate programs by the agency means that its graduates enjoy automatic certification in states in which NCATE operates.

The college's graduate programs are already approved by the North Carolina Department of Public Instruction and the Association of Colleges and Schools.

Two-Party System At WSS College

WINSTON-SALEM - A new two-party system in campus student government was ushered in last week at Winston-Salem State College when President Kenneth R. Williams installed a 10-member student government for 1966-67.

Melvin Mayo, 23, a junior from Washington, D. C. is the new president. He and all candidates of the Liberal Party were elected May 13 after a strenuous campaign. They captured every office against candidates supported by the Progressive Party which was headed by Miss Norma Wright of Winston-Salem.

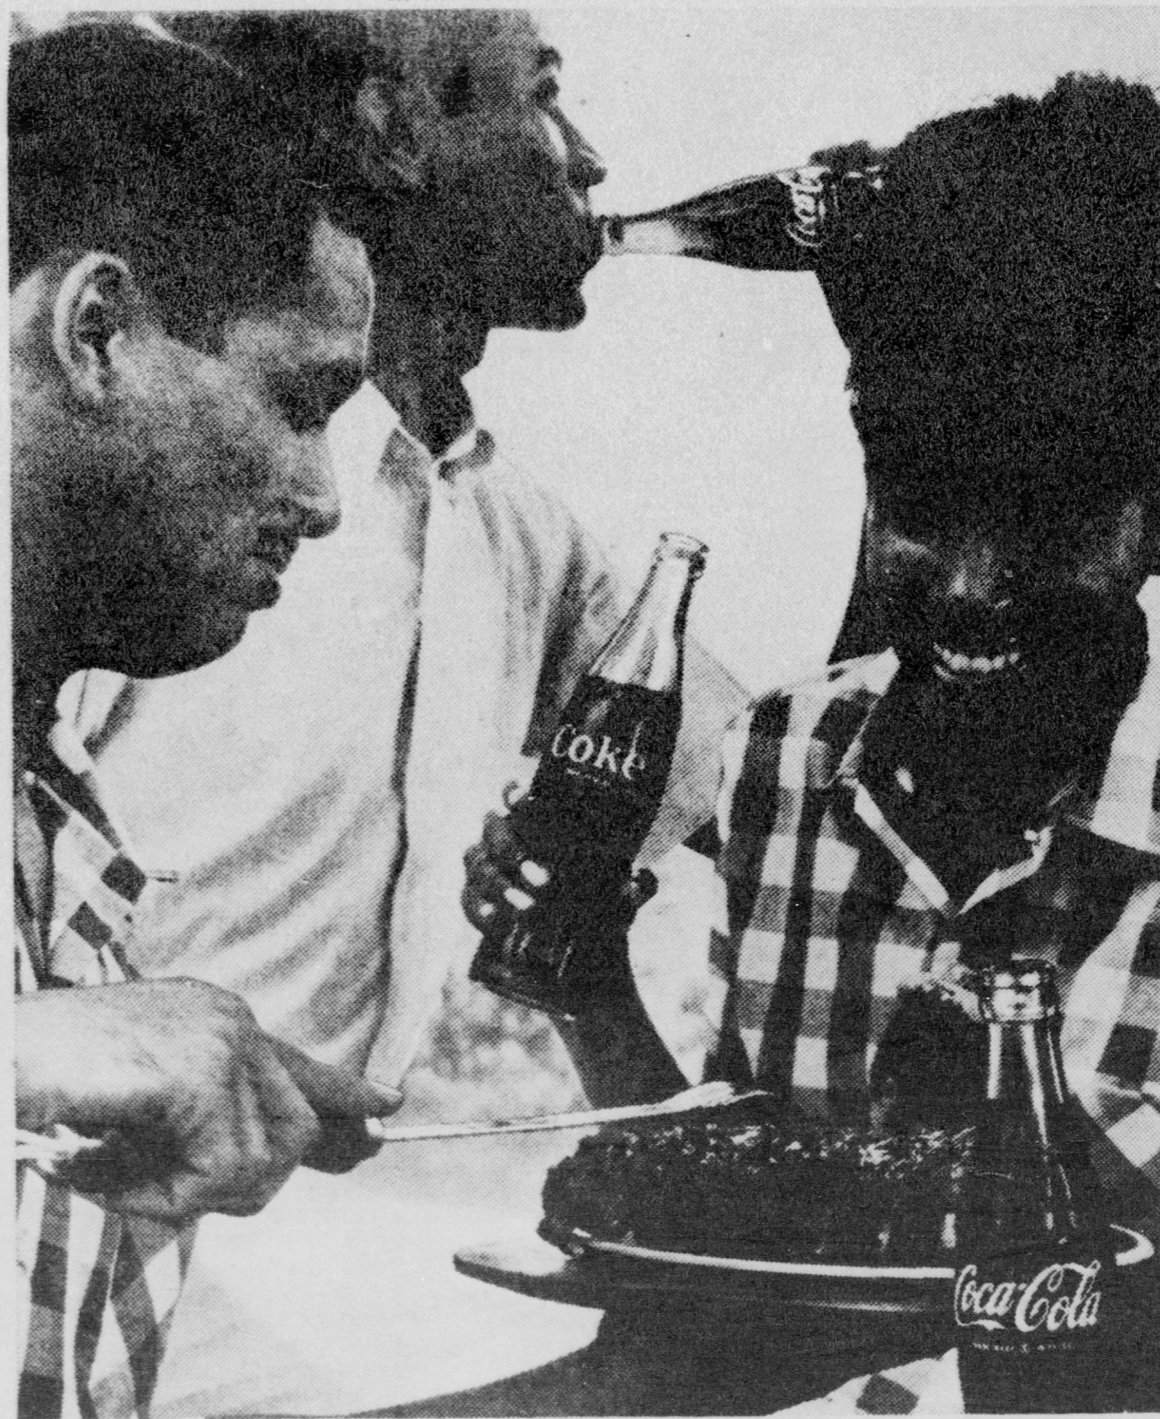

The election this spring marks a new departure in campus politics. Prior to this year, all candidates for student government posts have run as independents. From now on, they will be affiliated with parties.

In addition to Mr. Mayo, other members of the 10-member government are:

Miss Azzie Wall, a junior, vice president; Lewis Turner, a sophomore, social vice president; Miss Emma Worthy, a junior, secretary; Miss Carol Brooks, a sophomore, assistant secretary; Miss Sandra Jenkins a sophomore, treasurer; Miss Mary G. Woodard, a junior, assistant treasurer; Miss Hatlie Paylor, a junior, chairman of the Judiciary Council; David C. Corry, a junior, parliamentarian; and Miss Marvis Archie, a junior, sergeant-at-arms.

Mayo's acceptance speech included these words: "I shall make no attempt to avoid the responsibilities of this office. I expect disagreements, but I hope that they can be resolved for the better. My desire is that a year from now you will say, 'Mr. Mayo, you have done a good job,' rather than, 'Good riddance.'"

TO HEAR an ancient anecdote told by an old man who insists on recalling precise names and places is agonizing.
