Play It Safe In Water This Summer

- Play it safe in the water this summer, advises the Red Cross.
- Emily B. Blount, Water Safety Chairman of the Wake County Chapter, offers these "life preservers":
1. Learn to swim. If you can swim a little, learn to swim better. Your Red Cross chapter can tell you when its next swimming class is scheduled.
 2. Always swim with a companion--never alone. For long distance swimming, have someone in a boat accompany you.
 3. Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually indicates the area is safe for swimming.
 4. Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and there are no hidden objects such as submerged rocks.
 5. If you have not been swimming since last summer, take it easy at first. Recognize your limitations and don't try to go beyond them.
 6. Wait at least an hour after eating before going in the water, and don't swim when overheated or overtired.
 7. Don't depend on a tube or inflated toy to hold you up. They can slip away from you.
 8. Watch your step. Walk, don't run, around pool decks. Don't skylark.
 9. Try to remain calm in case of trouble in the water. Assume a face-up floating position, keep your hands under water, and slowly move hands and feet.
 10. If your boat capsizes, don't swim away from it. Most small craft will float, even when filled with water.
