FSC Given Loan Of $235,000

FAYETTEVILLE -- The Office of Education announced in Washington this week a loan of $235,000 has been approved to help build a new physical education building at Fayetteville State College.

But the college still needs $132,000 in grants to reach the amount needed to complete the facility.

The 1963 N. C. General Assembly provided $235,000 for the building, provided the college could obtain an equal amount by loan from the Office of Education.

The college also recently received a grant of 68,000 dollars which will be applied toward the total cost of the building.

Dr. Rudolph Jones, president, said he is still seeking $132,000 in grants to pay for the building.

"We will not begin construction until we are sure these grants will be available," he said.

The new building will be a combination teaching facility and gymnasium for women students and will be located near the present gym. A covered swimming pool will be built between the two buildings.

Commission On Religion, Race Urges Quick Passage Of Bill

NEW YORK - Quick passage of new civil rights legislation was asked Thursday by the United Presbyterian Commission on Religion and Race.

In messages to members of the subcommittee of the House Judiciary Committee, the Commission said:

"The tragic and almost predictable assault on James Meredith in Mississippi lays upon the Congress the urgent responsibility to pass quickly the administration's civil rights bill. The United Presbyterian Commission on Religion and Race urgently urges members of the House Judiciary Committee to report the bill favorably, with only strengthening amendments, at the earliest possible date.

The administration bill, covering several aspects of civil rights, includes a section providing stronger penalties for assaults on civil rights workers such as Mr. Meredith, who was shot in Mississippi last Monday.

DBC Gains Accreditation

Durham Business College has been accredited by the Accrediting Commission for Business Schools as a Two-Year School of Business. The school was subjected to a thorough on-the-spot examination by representatives of the Commission.

The Rev. Dr. Gayraud S. Wilmore, Jr., Executive Director of the Commission, after that body's Executive Committee voted unanimously to support passage of the new civil rights bill.

The CORAR staff also was given authority to "take any further appropriate action" in support of the measure.

tion concerning its facilities, faculties, and administrative policies with reference to the commission's established criteria. The accreditation carries the assurance that public confidence in the institution is thoroughly warranted, that instructional standards are of the highest type, and that the institution, its students and faculty, and the community of which it is a part may be justly proud of its status as an accredited institution in the field of education for business.

Stuart E. Sears is chairman of the Commission.

College Grads Urged To Foster Spirit Of Adventure, Daring To Solve Problems

GREENSBORO - A&T College graduates last week were urged "to foster the spirit of adventure and daring in this shrinking, complicated, dangerous, but still hopeful world."

The speaker was Dr. John A. Schittker, under secretary of agriculture, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. He was delivering the main address at the annual baccalaureate-commencement exercises held at the Moore Gymnasium on Sunday morning, June 5. He spoke to a class of 450 graduates and an audience which overfilled the auditorium. Dr. Schittker, a former professor of economics at Kansas State University, described the peculiar developments which affected the world today.

He said, "Evidence of good

WE'RE LUCKY...

BUT...

WE STILL SUFFERED SLIGHT SMOKE AND WATER DAMAGE TO HUNDREDS OF ITEMS!

We owe a debt of gratitude to the Raleigh Fire Department for the fine job they did in containing the fire that consumed the R. E. Quinn Bldg., 108 E. Martin St. directly behind us Friday night, May 27th. But for their skill, Rhodes might not be in business today! However, we did not escape altogether! And we're left with hundreds of items that smell of smoke or show slight evidence of water stain . . . or both. Most of these can be made to smell and look like new. But we can never sell them as new items. This is where the savings come in for you! All of this merchandise must be sold at some price . . . and that price will be far below the regular price . . . reductions far greater than the damage warrants! So hurry to Rhodes Thursday, Friday and Saturday. If you're willing to do a little cleaning up and, perhaps, a little airing you can make big savings on the furniture you need now!
