GOAL NOT ATTAINED
WILMETTE, Ill. -- Dr. Davis S. Ruhe, national secretary, Baha'is of the United States, declared last week that "while making great progress in securing legal equality for its racial groups, America has yet to achieve true acceptance of the brotherhood of man in the hearts of all its citizens." He noted that the country cannot "achieve its greatest destiny . . . until all its peoples have made not only an outward acceptance of racial equality, but an inner, heartfelt conviction of love for their fellow men of whatever race."
