

"Tagged As Shoplifters, 2 Women

The Standard Printing Co. 220-230 S. First St. Louisville, Ky.

TRY TO CUT OFFICER AT K-MART-3 HELD

EDITORIAL FEATURE

Parallels - An American Way

The Negro can ill-afford to be careless or presumptuous about what is best for his future in the integration struggle...

So-called Negro businesses, organizations and schools should be more used by whites so that there would be more mutual and corrective measures in Negro-developed operations...

However, there should be a closer paralleling of professional groups such as the Scruggs Medical Society, the North Carolina Teachers Association...

There are those who do not prefer the responsibility of a continued parallel building with the label of Negro. Nonetheless, those who feel capable of building further Negro-owned and managed enterprises should not be denied the opportunity to test their talents...

These parallels should serve to destroy the myths that have too long been harbored by men and businesses of both groups and, in many instances, nurtured to the detriment of better human relations...

There is no reason why "Negro" organizations and schools should not grow stronger as parallels as do other organized bodies. This only means that Negro-owned or managed businesses, institutions and organizations should remain to grow and prosper into even larger and more proficient bodies...

Large Negro-controlled insurance companies, along with the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, meet all of the insurance standards and should be accepted by both whites and Negroes for the protection desired by insurance.

The crux of the whole matter is to allow the Negro to flourish under his own steam with no placed barriers, handicaps and undue racial prejudices. To be sure, things are going for you one can attain the heights and others would gladly invite him and his achievements...

Color does not preclude that any one or thing is good or bad; nor does one of a kind offer the complete answers to the questions of today. Parallels are certainly accepted. Why should the Negro now become the exception to his disadvantage?

Grassroot's Opinion

BISBEE, Ariz., Gazette: "Development of several birth control pills, including the newest one that can be taken 'the morning after,' give promise of being the salvation of the world and the standard of living every human should have the right to expect..."

BELLE CHASSE, La., Gazette: "American business, American workers and their families are finding that even when they are earning more they are getting less, according to the Chamber of Commerce of the United States..."

(Continued P. 2)

SWEEPSTAKES NUMBERS

333 WORTH $100

6800 WORTH $60

5814 WORTH $30

Anyone having current WHITE TICKETS dated July 16, with above numbers, present same THE CAROLINIAN offices and receive your money from the SWEEPSTAKES FEATURE

Clifford C. Coles Quits Shaw U. Post To Take Management Position In N. Y.

The resignation of Clifford C. Coles as director of development and public relations at Shaw University was announced by the university's president, Dr. James E. Cheek, here recently. His resignation is effective as of July 31. Coles is leaving his Shaw post to accept a position with the American Management Association in New York City.

He will be program director of operation dialogue with AMA, a non-profit educational organization of large and small business firms. Joining the Shaw staff a year ago in July, 1965, Coles is a native of Brooklyn, N. Y. He is a graduate of Shaw University, where he received the B. A. degree, and the Columbia University School of Social Work where he earned the M. S. W. degree.

(See COLES QUILTS, P. 2)

Publisher Hodding Carter Heard At St. Aug.

Hodding Carter, Mississippi newspaper editor and publisher, author and traveler, spoke at the Desegregation Institute at St. Augustine's College last week.

Carter stated that the future of the Negro in America lies in education. In many areas, the goals of the Negro have been attained.

And after education--"the great lever"--becomes equal, the other goals will fall into place. Basically, Carter said, Negroes must be equal.

DR. L. H. NEWSOM RESENTS STORY ON HIS RESIGNATION

Defy Order Of City Cop

BY CHARLES R. JONES

Two Raleigh women, allegedly caught in the act of shoplifting, tried to cut a veteran Raleigh police officer on the grounds of the K-Mart Discount Store, Six Forks Rd., last Saturday evening.

Officer William Meachum Parker, Jr., reported at 6:02 p. m. on that date, that Miss Queen Esther Smith, 28, 727 E. Davie St., "was arrested at the K-Mart for assault with a deadly weapon."

The officer also stated: "I tried to place her under arrest for shoplifting when she pulled a large knife on me and made an attempt to cut me (from three inches away)."

Miss Juanita Green, 23, of 611 E. Davie St., according to Officer Parker, "was also shoplifting inside the establishment, and pulled a knife when I tried to arrest her. She reportedly ran from the store after."

(See TWO WOMEN, P. 2)

Inform Scribe Of Feelings

BY J. B. HARRIS

CONCORD - Just before the Annual Meeting of the Catawba Synod here June 22, the pre-synod edition of "THE CATAWBA SYNOD ARGUS" came out with a photograph of Dr. Lionel H. Newsom, president of Barber-Scotta College for about two years, with only the information that Newsom was resigning from the college. No information was listed as to the "Why" of his leaving the college.

When this writer arrived at the Synod, he immediately sought out Presbyterians supposedly "in the know," about the synod. Some professed to know nothing of what had caused the early termination of Newsom's stay at the helm of the institution.

The former president, Dr. L. S. Cozart, was non-committal when queried on the matter. He would only state that he maintained an office on the campus and "get some of my mail here."

Some students expressed regret at Newsom's leaving so soon, and Dr. Eulius Milling, in welcoming the Synod delegation and stressing the need for maintaining the Christian Education of the Synod.

Money In Sweepstakes Increasing

The CAROLINIAN received no response to its Sweepstakes money last week, the amounts have again increased.

The current numbers are 333, first prize, worth $100; 6800, second prize, worth $60; and number 584, third prize, and worth $30.

These numbers will be good at a later date and the current Sweepstakes ticket numbers listed last week are now worth the money listed in last week's edition of THE CAROLINIAN.

They were 1313, first prize, (See SWEEPSTAKES, P. 2)

Temperatures for the next five days, Thursday through Monday, will average 3 to 6 degrees below normal. Normal high and low temperatures for the period will be 88 and 68 degrees. Precipitation will average one-fourth to three-fourths of an inch, occurring as showers and thunderstorms.

From Raleigh's Official Police Files

THE CRIME BEAT

BY CHARLES R. JONES

Man Admits Committing Immoral Act In City's Oakwood Cemetery

A 15-year-old girl, who resides at 706 Oakwood Avenue, told Detective E. O. Lassiter at 9:46 p. m. Sunday, she was inside Oakwood Cemetery last Sunday afternoon about 3 p. m. with Nathan Watson, 19, of 509 W. South St., and he had relations with her "against my will."

The girl said she did not "holler or cry out" because there were other people in the cemetery that would have heard her. The teenager then said she did not report this incident until after she found out that he is a married man.

Watson admitted being intimate with the young girl, but declared he had her consent, and she removed her clothing near the "rock house" (mausoleum), in the all-white Oakwood facility.

Watson was arrested and charged with assault on a minor female. He will face the judge of Domestic Relations Court soon. He was released on bond Monday. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 2)

THE CAROLINIAN North Carolina's Leading Weekly

VOL. 25, NO. 35

RALEIGH, N. C., SATURDAY, JULY 23, 1966

PRICE 15 CENTS

Accepted Until Race Discovered

School Denies Teacher

Attorneys Studying Case Here

The Raleigh Citizens Association and the NAACP report that an applicant was accepted to the special summer typewriting course of King's Business College beginning July 18th, but was denied permission to attend class when it was learned that the applicant is a Negro. The teacher involved Mrs. George A. (Helen) Coburn, of 705 Caloway Drive, Raleigh.

King's Business College is located at 220 Hillsboro St. The school is a charter member of the United Business Schools Association and the North Carolina Association of Business Colleges, and is licensed by the North Carolina State Board of Education. King's Business College offers diploma courses in secretarial science, business administration, general business, accounting, secretarial, bookkeeping, and automated data processing.

In a conversation with the administrator of King's, Mrs. Naomi Beamon, she said: "She didn't apply for regular courses." (See TEACHER DENIED, P. 2)

Ex-Shriver Aide Heads Ed. Group

WASHINGTON - Dr. Samuel D. Proctor, special assistant to Sargent Shriver, Director of the Office of Economic Opportunity, has been named President of the Institute for Services to Education, established to find methods of strengthening the academic

DR. SAMUEL D. PROCTOR

THOUSANDS HEAR KING, MEREDITH AND MCKESSICK IN "WINDY CITY" - Chicago: View inside Soldier Field here July 10 as crowd gathers during "freedom rally" billed as a "massive workshop in non-violence." Martin Luther King, James Meredith and CORE's Floyd McKissick were among the speakers followed by a march on city hall. (UPI PHOTO).

THOUSANDS HEAR KING, MEREDITH AND MCKESSICK IN "WINDY CITY" - Chicago: View inside Soldier Field here July 10 as crowd gathers during "freedom rally" billed as a "massive workshop in non-violence." Martin Luther King, James Meredith and CORE's Floyd McKissick were among the speakers followed by a march on city hall. (UPI PHOTO).

State NAACP's Alexander Says "Black Power" Is Not Answer

BY KEITH V. M. ALEXANDER AN ANALYSIS OF WHAT HAPPENED IN LOS ANGELES The 57th Annual Convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Los Angeles, Calif., was a great meeting of decision and it was made crystal clear in a timely and courageous keynote address to the Convention by Roy Wilkins, our Executive Director that: "Black Power" meant racism in reverse and could lead only to "Black death."

Here are some excerpts from Roy Wilkins speech to the 57th Annual Convention on Tuesday, July 5.

All about us are alarms and confusions as well as great and challenging developments. Differences of opinion are sharper. For the first time since several organizations began to function where only two had functioned before, there emerges what seems to be a different

(See NAACP'S NATL. P. 2)

J. Farmer In Another Venture

TRENTON, N. J. (UPI) - Firmly convinced that the fledgling Center for Community Action Education's literacy program will never get underway because the Office of Economic Opportunity failed to come through with a pledged $860,000 in federal money, James Farmer disclosed last week that he has taken a post as special consultant on adult illiteracy for New Jersey's anti-poverty program.

(See J. FARMER, P. 2)

National Urban League Plans Annual Convention In Philly

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) - More than 1100 delegates and friends are expected to attend the National Urban League's 56th annual conference which will take place July 31-Aug. 4, in the Sheraton hotel. Keynote speaker will be Whitney M. Young, Jr., executive director, who will address the opening session of July 31.

Major addresses by national figures and creative workshop sessions will be the main features of the conference. The main luncheon speaker on Aug. 1 will be Dr. Robert C. Weaver, secretary of Housing and Urban Development. Other speakers include McGee Gorge Bundy, president, Ford Foundation, and James A. Linn, president, Time, Inc.

An overall workshop theme will be "The Bread and Butter Issues in Closing the Gap." The "gap" refers to the important economic and cultural differences between Negro Americans and other citizens as a result of the effects of discrimination and prejudice which have resulted in poverty and alienation.

According to Whitney M. Young Jr., "A national conference is a time in which we can discuss new ways of fighting old problems. This conference comes in the shadow of the Mississippi march which again dramatized the serious conditions which afflict ideals of interracial cooperation which will gain for Negro citizens the objectives of that march--equality before the law, economic opportunities, education and decent housing."