In case you haven't heard, the new Miami Dolphins of the American Football league have one special dolphin whose name doesn't appear on the roster. It's none other than Flipper, the real, live dolphin of TV fame. Flipper will be located in a tank behind the end zone at the Orange Bowl, and his main jobs will be to retrieve the football after field goal attempts, and to soar into the air following each Dolphin touchdown.

Only 18 Lettermen On ECSC Squad, But Could Be Enough

BY JOHN T. WILLIAMS

ELIZABETH CITY - Every team, no matter how many veterans the coach expects to return, must have a basic nucleus with which to work. Despite the fact that only eighteen lettermen will be on hand to shoulder the burden of this year's eight game slate, Coach Tom Caldsell's Elizabeth City State College Vikings have a nucleus of potential power. The growing optimism, out of what would ordinarily seem to be another fruitless season, rotates around the core of four returning gridders.

Team leadership on the personnel level is vitally important to the success of any outfit. Thus Coach Caldwell is pleased with the players' selection of an able captain, SYL-VESTER BYNUM. The big senior end from Chapel Hill, N. C. stands 6'-3" and weighs 200 lbs. Bynum is large enough in mind and body to command respect from all of his teammates as well as from players of the opposition. A bruising tackler, Final tune-up is at hand for seven of the none American Football League teams.

Beginning Wednesday, when the Denver Broncos and the new Miami Dolphins clash at Memphis, Tenn., all of the AFL clubs except New York and Boston will conclude pre-season play during a five-day period. Five games are listed, with Denver playing twice.

On Saturday, the defending champion Buffalo Bills play the Jets at Allentown, Pa., Houston is at Kansas City, and the Boston Patriots complete a 10-day stay on the west coast by playing at San Diego. On Sunday, in a game to be telecast nationally by NBC-TV, Denver hosts the Oakland Raiders.

The only pre-season game remaining, after this week's activity, finds New York and Boston at Mobile, Ala. on Thursday, September 1.

AFL regular - season play gets underway on Friday night, September 2, with the new Mi-ami team entertaining Oakland at the Orange Bowl.

With chips-down play just a stone's throw away, five of the nine AFL entries are still deliberating over the key quarterback position. A sixth, the Jets, is anxious to find out if backup man Mike Taliaferro can do

Year Joe Namath's knee doesn't mend for the opening whistle. The clubs set at quarterback are Buffalo, with MVP Jackie Kemp; San Diego, where John Hadl looks set for a big season and Kansas City, with veterans Len Dawson and Pete Beathard. However, the signal - calling post still looks up for grabs at Oakland, Houston, Boston, Denver and Miami.

Oakland, anxious to make a run at San Diego for the western crown, has former Baylor star Cotton Davidson back after a one-year injury lay-off. Davidson must prove he can come all the way back. Otherwise, Tom Flores, who shared the quarterbacking with Dick Wood a year ago, might get the nod. Miami picked up Wood and Boston's Eddie Wilson in the expansion draft, but rookies Rick Norton or George Wilson, Jr. could be Coach George Wilson's final selection for seasonopening quarterback. At Boston, John Huarte, the 1964 Heisman Trophy winner is challenging 13 - year pro veteran Babe Parilli.

Houston has three men dueling for its quarterback post. . . veteran George Blanda, Don Trull and Jacky Lee. Mickey Slaughter and John McCormick are battling at Denver.

hard this summer on construction jobs, Celvin has added pounds and solidness to his 6'-1" frame which weighs 235 pounds. If there be anyone in the opponents backfield besides their own backs, it will be Webster. No doubt the assignment against him will call for twoagainst-one. Even that may not keep him out.

Realizing that even a good strong defense is not enough for CIAA competition, coach Caldwell's number one quarterback last year is groomed for a better performance. Sophomore sensation JOHNNIE B. WAL-.TON stunned the conference during his freshman year as he led the Vikings in passing and total offese of rate high among the top signal callers in the conference. Figuring to be quicker, cooler, and more accurate, the local ace pilot holds the key to coach Caldwell's offensive strategy.

Regardless to how effective a quarterback may be in passing, he must have a reliable target to hit. Undoubtedly Walton's target will be Raleigh's E. EUGENE SNIPES, The Walton to Snipes combination last year was enough to keep the Vikings in contention. With speed, deception, determination, and a r od pair of hands, the senior gridder alternates well between wing-back and end. Snipes' 6'-1", 180 pounds stature indicated that he intends to remain unstoppable in the pass reception and scoring departments. If anyone stops Eugene Snipes, it will be Eugene Snipes, himself.

using "no crying towel." "I'm not a towel man," he explained, "I'm a hustler, I've been beating the paths trying to find men to make up for these losses. It's still a big question whether we'll get replacements.

"One thing that will make it better," Stevens observed, "is the addition of a new man, assistant coach Robert Heard, which should give us a very fine staff. But a fine staff has got to have good players to work with," said the veteran of 11 years at NCC. "It's becoming more difficult each year to find Hey Baby! What's going on? Well I guess by now you see that my star put me in a trick, but who needs stars any way? Evidently this "Cat" forgot that I'm playing his records, LUCK, BILL. (smiles).

Well, I guess by now it's no secret that after four long years at WLLE "Big Bill Haywood" is leaving to accept another job at a radio station in Washington, D.C. I'm very happy for Bill but I still can't help from feeling the loss myself. Bill has helped me tremendously in my effort to become a much better announcer. I'll always be grateful to him, Ray Henderson, and Brother James, for their help in my radio career. There is no word on who will replace him, (and by gosh that won't be easy), but we'll let you know.

I'm sure that I speak for the entire staff and management of "Wonderful Willie", and all of our listeners in saying we wish him luck. In fact, the BEST OF

Never get the other guy mad, says veteran New York Jets offensive guard Sam De Luca

. . and he's probably right. Prior to the recent Jets-Houston pre-season game at Birmingham, Ala., reports from the south had it that the Jets were making fun of the Oilers, particularly gigantic Ernie Ladd. "Do they think we're crazy?" responded De Luca. "Ernie Ladd is the best defensive tackle in profootball.

Ask me. I know. I play op-posite him." *** In case someone asks, Buffalo Bills rookie sensation Booth Lusteg confines his toe-work to field goals and PATs. Another freshman, former LSU star Remi Prudhomme is the kickoff man. * * *

Things are looking up at the E. J. Holub ranch in west Texas, 125 miles from Odessa . . . and just south of nowhere. When Holub reported to the Kansas City Chiefs training camp, the former Texas Tech star reported that his homestead picked up one of those new-fangled contraptions, a telephone, during the off-season. Added the fine linebacker-center: "But the television down home is fuzzy because we're so far away from everything. And, when the deer run around, they break the cable altogether." * * *

Nothing like keeping competition on a friendly basis. Vete-ran Babe Parilli, the 36-year old former Kentucky star, has this to say about rookie John Huarte, the lad who is trying to unseat Parilli as the Boston patriots No. 1 quarterback; "Huarte is one of the best young quarterbacks that I have seen in my 13 years of pro ball."

* * * Houston Oilers tackle Pat Holmes underlines a difference between Canadian football and the AFL: "Up there," says the 6-5, 265-pounder, "I was the second or third largest player in the league. Here, I'm just an average-sized lineman."

Southern U. Ace Goes To Majors

BY BENNIE THOMAS BATON ROUGE, La. (NPI) --Major League baseball's raiders have struck at Southern University again.

If the Jaguars successfully defend their Southwestern Athletic Conference championship next year, none of the thanks will go to the Boston Red Sox of the America League.

The Red Sox lured Southern's regular catcher James Walker into a signing agreement last week, marking the second time in two years that a regular Jaguar catcher was signed to a professional contract with still another year of college eligibility remaining.

At the end of the 1965 season, the Chicago Cubs signed Jaguar catcher Johnny Hairston, who was the number one Southern back stop at the time. But then Coach Emery Hines wasn't left with a real acute problem behind the plate. Walker moved up to the top slot and the Jaguars went on to win the SWAC championship, land a berth in the 1966 NAIA National tournament and finished in third place.

Walker was named to the All-SWAC and All-NAIA Tournament teams and drew honorable mention on the NAIA All-American team.

Coach Hines finds himself without an experienced catcher for the 1967 season, Roland Wallace, who played little as a frosh last season, appears to be the top prospect.

Walker was signed by Red Sox scout Ed Scott and reportedly received $25,000 for his signature.

Scott said that Walker would be assigned to Waterloo (Iowa) of the Mid west League next year.

Walker, who stands 5-11, weighs 210 pounds, is 20 years old and bats and throws right handed. In 20 games on the regular season, Walker hit 314 and swatted three doubles, two triples and a homer--driving in 16 runs.

He will reportedly enroll in school in September, but as a professional baseball player. Again, Coach Hines is left holding the bag. Better still, with no one to hold running foes on the bags.
