New Staff Appointments At Shaw U.

Eleven new appointments to the administrative and general staff at Shaw University were announced by President James E. Cheek here last week. Hoslip M. Lee, formerly executive director of the Salisbury-Rowan Community Service Council, Inc. with headquarters in Salisbury, has assumed the post of vice-president for development. Charles G. Spellman of Trenton, N. J. has been appointed director of alumni relations.

A graduate of Mercer University and the Colgate - Rochester Divinity School where he received the B. A. and B. D. degrees respectively, Lee was also formerly executive director of the Virginia Council on Human Relations, a statewide organization.

Spellman, a Marine Corps veteran, received the B. A. degree from Shaw University. He is a former district sales representative for the National Biscuit Company.

Mrs. Joan Martin, who received the B. A. degree from Morgan State College, has been appointed associate registrar. Joining the university's personnel staff are Charles R. Palmer, a graduate of A&T College; Horace Smalls, Mrs. Pauline Latta and Mrs. Lula H. Lees. Mrs. Lees, who was awarded the B. S. degree at Shaw, and Mrs. Latta are dormitory counselors in the women's personnel division while Palmer and Smalls are counselors to the men's personnel division.

Bobby McClain, a 1966 Shaw graduate with a B. S. degree in mathematics, joins the staff as bookkeeper, while Mrs. Pauline K. Vandergrift has been named university cashier.

Alexander E. Currin, also a Shaw alumnus, has been appointed to the post of director of inventory. The new superintendent of buildings and grounds is Willie Martin, a native of Greensboro.

BEGINNING SECOND YEAR--Seen arriving on the campus of North Carolina College in Durham to begin their second year are these two sophomores, Lorraine Morgan, left, of Monroe, N.C. and Patricia Killian, of Hickory, N.C. About 2,700 students are enrolled for classes for the first semester.

Shaw University Awards Contracts In Construction

Shaw University has awarded a $1,384,300 contract to R. N. Rouse and Company, Inc., of Goldsboro, N. C. for construction of a high-rise Women's dormitory and a student union building.

S. Blount and Persons Sts., the University campus area now being used for athletic practice facilities.

Architects are McGee and Scovill of Raleigh.

Funds for construction of the two buildings were made available through a $1,950,000 Federal loan from the U. S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

The dormitory, a nine story structure, will house 404 women students and the Student Union-Dining Hall edifice, which will be a two and one-half story building, will accommodate an enrolment of 1200 students. Both buildings are scheduled for completion by late summer of 1967 in time for occupancy for the 1967-68 school year.

VSC Band To Perform Soon In Montreal

PETERSBURG, Va. - The first performance of the Virginia State College band outside the United States will coincide with the first appearance by a U. S. college band for a football half-time show in Montreal, Canada, when State's "Marching 110 Trojans" perform for the Montreal Beavers game, Saturday, October 15.

The Montreal date is one of five appearances the 110-member Virginia State College Concert and Marching Band will make throughout the North American continent this fall. Led by Dr. F. Nathaniel Gatlin, director of the department of music, band members will appear October 29 in Richmond for the Virginia State-Virginia Union Homecoming game, November 11 in Washington for the Capitol Classics, November 12 in Richmond for the half-time performance of the Richmond Rebels game, and November 20 in New York for the Giants - Atlanta Falcons game.

Series E Savings Bonds in the $25-to-$200 range accounted for $1.675 million in sales during the first six months of 1966—six per cent above a year ago and the highest for the same period since 1946.

DEAR SALLY

BY SALLY SHAW

DEAR SALLY I have been married for almost three years and, believe it or not, I still don't know how to address my wife's parents. I don't like calling them "Mr. and Mrs." because that sounds too stiff and formal, and I can't bring myself to calling them "Mother" and "Dad," because that's how I address my own parents. These in-laws of mine are sweet and wonderful people, but I always feel uncomfortable while I'm with them and at a complete loss as to what to call them. Any suggestions? NO NAME.

DEAR NO NAME: Yes, something you should have thought of yourself long before now, and very easy, too. The most natural and logical thing to do is ASK these "wonderful people" how they would like to be addressed by you.

DEAR SALLY: I'm a girl of 19, just embarking on my sophomore year in college. During the past summer I dated a certain boy steadily and wore his fraternity pin. Our romance ended with the end of summer. Last night he phoned me and asked if I would return his pin. I told him I would, but then later when I looked for it I was unable to find it. I turned everything inside out and upside down in a frantic search for the pin, but to no avail, and now I'm convinced the pin is lost and that I'm in a mess. What to do? GUILTY.

DEAR GUILTY: Naturally, you phone the boy, confess the loss, and offer to reimburse him for the pin.

DEAR SALLY: My fiance has come up with what he considers a "brilliant idea". His company is sending him on an expenses-paid trip to a convention in another city, one to which married men are privileged to bring their wives. He thinks we should be married the day before this convention begins so that we both can attend the convention and have our honeymoon "for free". Smehow the idea of a honeymoon consisting of daily attendance at business seminars and night cocktail parties doesn't appeal to me in the least. What do you think about this? HESITANT.

DEAR HESITANT: I think as you do. And so... since it's still the inalienable right of any bride to set the date for her wedding, pick yours for a different time, and that will be that.

DEAR SALLY: My daughter-in-law is a wonderful girl, and she and I have always gotten along beautifully. However, recently she and our son did a complete redecoration job in their home, and in my opinion the furnishings and the colors they selected are way out of line. Everything clashes and everything is out of proportion. I am sure that with a few adjustments, though, the situation could be very well remedied, but since I don't want to risk appearing as the "meddling" sort of mother-in-law, I have hesitated to volunteer any suggestions. Do you think I am right in remaining silent? MAMA K.

DEAR MAMA K.: Yes indeed, you're right in keeping silent! Just you volunteer any of your suggestions, and you WILL be a "meddling mother-in-law."

DEAR SALLY: Is it proper for a widow to continue wearing her wedding ring, or how soon after her husband's passing should she remove the ring? Also, am I correct in my belief that a widow is properly addressed as "Mrs. Robert H. Adams," and not as "Mrs. Mary Adams"? A group of us are having quite a discussion on these points, and I should very much appreciate your comments. MRS. R. A.

DEAR MRS. R. A.: A widow may continue to wear her ring for just as long as she wishes. If, however, she should in time begin going out regularly with another man, it would be in better taste for her to remove the ring. As for your second question, you are correct in your belief that a widow is properly addressed as "Mrs. Robert H. Adams."

A U. S. Savings Bond destroyed by fire is just as good as one held in your hand. Any burned bond will be reissued free of charge by the Treasury Department.
