CAR STOLEN, RECOVERED

Mr. Pace declared his car was facing east on Oakwood at Hill's intersection, but was gone when he returned from the store.

The automobile was found in the 100 block of Morgan St. at 9:45 a. m. Sunday. It was later picked up by Mr. Pace. No other information was given on the report.

EMPLOYEE REPORTS MONEY THEFT

Miss Barbara Ann Thomas, of 217 S. Bloodworth St., reported to a cop at 2:12 p. m. Saturday that between 7:45 and 9 a. m. that day, someone stole $15 in cash from her pocketbook in the ladies' dressing room for employees at Ballentine's Restaurant, 410 Oberlin Rd.

The complainant also said she informed her boss about it and talked to the other co-workers on the job, but was unable to find out who took her $15.

WOMAN SLAPPED IN FACE

Miss Virginia Helena Kearney, 26, of 218 Tucker Lane, informed Officers Lindsay Godwin and B. W. Peoples at 11:45 p. m. Friday, that during an argument in the 500 block of S. Blount St., she was slapped in the face by Jim McCloud, also 26, of E-54 Washington Terrace.

The young woman signed an assault and battery warrant and Mr. McCloud was "hauled off" to the "chink."

ASSAULTED BY STRANGER?

James Rimon, 37, of 1010 E. Martin St., told Officers J. S. Carroll and R. Clayborne at 2:04 a. m. Saturday, that while he was in the 100 block of N. Carver St., he was assaulted by an unknown colored male.

The complainant was treated and released at Wake Memorial Hospital for bruises on the right side of his face after being struck with hands and fists.

SHOOTS IN EVELYN'S GRILL

David Lee Harris, 30, of the 600 block of S. Bloodworth St., reported to two cops at 8:16 p. m. Saturday, he was sitting in Evelyn's Grill, corner of E. Davie and S. Bloodworth Sts., waiting for some food that he had ordered, when a colored male, about 25, wearing a beige sweater and tee shirt came in the grill and "called me a nigger." Then, according to Harris, the man struck him on the head with the butt of a .38 calibre pistol, causing the gun to go off.

Harris told the officers he didn't know his assailant. He was taken to Wake Memorial Hospital, where he was treated for a laceration on top of his head, and deep bruises of the left forehead.

The bullet struck the south window in the establishment, causing $45 in damages.

John D. Lewis, Jr., manager of the grill stated, there was a bullet hole also in the door of the storage room, indicating several shots were fired.

Harold McBright Harris, of 412 E. Hargett St., told Officers John H. Baker, Sr., and James E. (Sonny) Lane at 9:48 p. m. Saturday, he was walking on S. Bloodworth St. at E. Hargett on Thursday, Oct. 13, after 10 p. m., when three colored males attacked and started beating him. He gave no reason for waiting so long to report the incident.

Student Finds Study In Europe Motivating, Inexpensive

GREENSBORO--Study in European universities is not only highly motivating, but inexpensive by American standards.

That too is the opinion of Miss Arlene Macklin, a senior in engineering physics at A&T College, who has just recently returned after a year of study in physics at the University of Munich in Germany.

An honor student at A&T, Miss Macklin studied in Germany from September 1965 through August 1966, under the Junior Year at Munich Program sponsored by Wayne State University. She was one of 65 high ranking American students who were selected to participate in the program.

She is very grateful for having had the opportunity of studying in Europe, an experience which she considers highly motivating. "I now wish to be a physicist more than ever," she said.

Out of her experiences in Germany, which she terms, "extremely fascinating," Miss Maclin firmly believes that science courses here at home are as strong and just as demanding as those in Europe. She recognizes that European university students hold the edge on American students in the humanities. "Most students over there," she says, "are about two years older at the same class level and have had good backgrounds in the humanities. Most of them speak from three to four languages."

J. Sengstacke Publications Buy Pittsburgh Courier Chain

CHICAGO - John H. Sengstacke, Publisher and Editor of the Chicago Daily Defender and President of Sengstacke Publications, announced the acquisition of the Pittsburgh Courier chain of newspapers excluding the Chicago Courier.

Publishers Service Syndicate, Inc., an Illinois corporation which Sengstacke heads, purchased the intangible assets but no physical assets of the Pittsburgh Courier Publishing Company, including the name, circulations, advertising, accounts receivable and good will.

The Courier operation was founded in 1910 by a Methodist Church group and was later taken over by the late Robert L. Vann, a young Pittsburgh businessman. Vann made great strides with his newspaper introducing it into regions of the south where Negro newspapers were forbidden to be read.

Like the late Robert S. Abbott, founder of the Chicago Defender, Vann developed a platform to help free his people from segregation and oppression which is still being carried out in the pages of the Courier today.

The new company, according to Sengstacke, will hire the present editorial and business staff.
