

A&P Will Open 1 Of The Most Modern Food Establishments In Area At 800 N. Person St.

One of the most modern food establishments in this area will open in Raleigh when the A&P Tea Company opens its new Super Market at 800 N. Person St. Company officials have announced that the latest addition to the nation's oldest and largest food chain is one of the finest Super Markets in the Carolinas and replaced the store that burned several months ago. It involves investments in excess of $350,000.

Mr. J. H. Nichols, vice-president in charge of the firm's operations in the Carolinas, has extended an invitation to all residents of Raleigh and the surrounding area to visit the store during the Grand Opening Week and indicated that ample parking space is available at the new store. The store itself comprises approximately 12500 square feet of floor space. Mr. Nichols commented, "we are certainly proud to dedicate to the Raleigh community our Sixth Modern Super Market to serve the people of this area."

The structure is completely air-conditioned for the year 'round comfort of shoppers. There are 5 check-out stands to speed the flow of traffic through the store. For the customers' convenience, there is a "Magic Carpet" door, which opens and closes automatically.

The complexity of the Super Market operation is hardly noticeable to the average observer -- the arrangements of the store being orderly and easy to follow. The store provides a complete self-service Meat Department. Meats are pre-cut and pre-packaged and are plainly marked with the name of the item, price per pound, actual weight and total price. The housewife can quickly choose what she wants from the many sizes and cuts in the open-face refrigerated cases. If, however, she wants a special cut or odd quantity of any merchandise, store personnel will be readily available to take the order and transmit it to the cutting room for prompt personalized service.

There will be approximately 6,500 items of name brand merchandise available including the famous Ann Page, Jane Parker and other A&P label goods. Frozen goods will receive a larger share of attention, with large cases offering all the popular brands and varieties.

All types of ice cream, sherberts and frozen confections will be available. There is a complete Jane Parker Bakery Department devoted to fresh baked goods, including white and variety breads, cakes, pies, rolls and donuts.

Nearly every conceivable type of food will be available on the hundreds of feet of general shelving throughout the store. As an additional service for customers, A&P will also handle lines of Health and Beauty Aids, Housewares and other non-food merchandise.

Landis O'Brian will be manager of this new store. Mr. O'Brian has been with A&P for 13 years.

Shelby Walston will supervise the self-service meat department. He has been with A&P for 10 years.

Selected to perform the duties as assistant manager is William Henry Stallings, who has been with A&P for 11 years. A&P's Produce Department, a highlight of the business, will be headed by Kenneth Ray Ballance, a 5 year man with the chain.

M. E. Burns, a resident of Raleigh will be supervisor of this new type store, as well as the others in this area.

The Raleigh A&P is a member of the family of more than 4,600 stores in the United States and Canada.

An A&P spokesman indicated that the "Tea Company," as it is known in trade circles, was founded in New York in 1859 by George Huntington Hartford, whose first stride in the development of the chain was to take tea out of the luxury class by buying it direct from China. In so doing, it is claimed that he eliminated the profits of many middleman, thereby enabling him to sell the commodity much cheaper than ever before.

Encouraged by success in that venture, Hartford expanded his interest to other lines of food. Today, an A&P store may have upwards of six thousand different items in its stock.

"Few Negro GI's Get Credit Due Them," Magazine Declares

"Few Negro GI's get the credit that is due them for their daily heroic feats and sacrifices" in Viet Nam--and, "ironically," one reason is "top brass belief that too much emphasis on the extensive utilization of Negroes in combat might irritate equality-seeking Negroes at home," says Ebony magazine.

Ebony spent some time with the frontline 101st Airborne Division--the same paratroop division which was called upon to put down the riots in Little Rock in 1957. In Little Rock, Ebony notes, Negro paratroopers who compose more than a third of the 101st crack 1st Brigade in Viet Nam, are on the front lines among the gut fighters of the jungle war."

Ebony says the "disproportionately high" percentage of Negroes in the 101st and other frontline units "has virtually heralded a new day in military affairs."

"During World War II rights organization (fighting the myth of the Negro's alleged cowardice in battle) demanded that Negroes be integrated into combat units instead of being assigned to Jim Crow housekeeping units in the rear echelons," Ebony explains.

"In Viet Nam, there now is concern over whether too many Negroes are being 'slaughtered' in suicide missions in forward lines."

Negro GI's, says Ebony, "are essentially the backbone of the military thrust in Viet Nam."

DIXIE FAILURE--Mississippi's attempt to halt NAACP operations in the state was turned back by the U.S. Supreme court, which refused to review an order directing Mississippi officials to permit the NAACP to become a domestic corporation, Joe T. Patterson, attorney-general, in his appeal, said the NAACP "is a New York corporation" and "is trying to force itself upon the state when no attempt has been made to interfere with its activities or the rights of its members."

Leadership Conference AINC College

DURHAM--Seventeen North Carolina College faculty members and 23 student leaders participated in the college's first Student-Faculty Leadership Conference last weekend at the Robert R. Morton Memorial Conference Center in Capahosic, Va.

The group, which included members of the administration and faculty and representatives of various campus organizations, left Durham by chartered bus Friday and returned Sunday evening.

Dr. William H. Brown, general chairman of the planning committee for the conference, said the major purpose of the conference was to provide opportunities for students and faculty members "to discuss the many facets of campus life in an atmosphere conducive to constructive critical thinking."

The committee hopes, he added, "that such a conference will not only point the way toward improving working relationships between students, faculty, and the administration, but will also help to create a better teaching-learning climate at North Carolina College."
