'Blades' Flash, Blood Is Spilled As Men Face Raps In 'Cutting Sprees'

Two men were cut here last weekend in separate incidents involving knives. James Lewis Evans, Jr., of 306 Maple Street, told Officers Thomas Brooks Lewis and J. W. Rogers at 12:03 a. m. Saturday, he would come to police headquarters later and sign an assault with a deadly weapon warrant against Robert Banks, address unlisted, after Banks cut him on the right side of the neck, leaving a five-inch gash. The incident took place at the corner of Pender and Carver Streets about 11:45 p. m. Friday. The second cutting occurred across town as Clayton Norris, 51, of 815 S. Person St., informed Officers C. R. Aycock and R. Clayborne at 11:17 a. m. Saturday, that during a "fuss" with Jimmie Lee Sullivan, 49, same address, he was assaulted by the latter. Mr. Norris signed a warrant, charging assault with a deadly weapon, and Mr. Sullivan was "hauled off" to the "clink" at Wake County Jail under a bond of $300. Norris sported a three-inch cut on the left side of his face after the home-standing brawl. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 3)

Alexander Wires His Reactions

CHARLOTTE - Kelly M. Alexander, president of the North Carolina National Association for the Advancement of Colored People said last Thursday that the North Carolina State Conference of NAACP Branches sent a special telegram to Governor Dan K. Moore protesting the reference of the NAACP in the same category with the Ku Klux Klan. It was reported that Gov. Moore said in a press conference in Raleigh, on Tuesday, Oct. 25, "I don't feel that any of these political actions groups have any part in a State Fair," and he classified these groups (See MOORE BLASTED, P. 2)

Housewives In City Asked To Boycott

A meeting of citizens interested in a plan of action to work toward lower food prices for the Raleigh area housewife, was announced Monday by Mrs. Pat Chenault, one of the organizers. Mrs. Chenault urged a large Negro attendance at the organizational meeting of housewives, whom she believed are also "outraged at the rising cost of food." The session, to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 9, will take place at 8 p. m. at Carolina Power and Light Company's meeting room, Fayetteville St. Mrs. Chenault, who works with Mrs. Ellen Knott and others, stated, "Workers are needed badly now, before the first meeting to make telephone calls and do leg work to get the word out. Whether or not any action is taken will be determined by the attendance at this meeting. Please be there," urged Mrs. Chenault. (See HOUSEWIVES, P. 2)

AJC Head Asks Whites To 'Resist'

CLEVELAND - The president of the American Jewish Committee, calling on Americans in the North to resist the so-called white backlash, Friday night, defended the record of his organization: "The rank and file of Jews have not significantly withdrawn from their commitment to Negro equality." Morris B. Abram, New York attorney who sits as U. S. Representative on the UN Human Rights Commission, made his appeal at the annual dinner meeting of the National Executive Board of the American Jewish Committee. The final session is to be held here tomorrow.

"The proportion of Jews who are backsliding," Mr. Abram said, "is much smaller than that of Catholics or Protestants. The reason for this Jewish predisposition toward civil rights is obvious. Jews, as history's classic persecuted minority, cannot contend that any minority is striving too hard for equality or achieving its rights too fast. Jews cannot follow slogans which have been directed against them too, which stereotype a whole group on the basis of the acts of a few individuals, or which proclaim that another man must await his human dignity either in a reincarnation on earth or a divine hereafter. Sharing the platform with Mr. Abram was Rep. Charles L. Weltner of Atlanta, Mr. A. (See AJC HEAD, P. 2)

Alexander Barnes Gives His Analysis On 1966 Elections

(Editor's Note: This analysis of the Negro's relationship to the 1966 elections in North Carolina is written by Alexander Barnes, veteran newspaperman and former field representative of the National Republican Committee, for the National Negro Republican Assembly, headed by Jackie Robinson and former legal consultant to the National Republican Committee, Grant Reynolds. The Republican Party, in N. C., like many other states, lost its charm for the Negro in 1932 and since that time has either been pressured by self-aggrandized Negro leaders, or white politicians, agents of the Democrat Party, who told them that if they were to ever reach political freedom, it was only through the Democrat Party. These same political leaders have seen to it that the Negro went just so far and no further in the realm of politics. It must be noted that a chosen few have been able, through delivering the Negro vote, or personal endorsement, at least to have been recognized by state officials and the powers-that-be in the Democrat Party. In Durham, the Negro Democrat candidate has never been able to emerge from the primary, even though there have been times when there had to be a runoff. The once powerful Committee-on-Negro Affairs (misnomer) has never been able to get the power structure to follow through on a Negro candidate. This organization is now torn with internal affairs. Two Negroes have been elected to the City Council in bi-partisan elections. The assiduity of what the rank and file think about the Republican Party is expressed in what a Democrat Ward Healer told the writer, "If a dog was nominated on the Democrat ticket and you were a candidate on the Republican ticket, I would vote for the dog." Another sign of Democratic mis-loyalty is that Negro leaders have inveigled Negro voters to vote for Democrats who have openly said they did not want the Negro vote. (See BARNES GIVES, P. 2)

Ex-Cherry Patient Gunned

WILSON - One man was shot to death by three local policemen on Thursday night of last week after the man allegedly "went berserk." The cops were found to have been "only doing their duty" by Wilson County Coroner Robert E. Goudy.

Leroy Boykinson, 33, the dead man, was shot to death after a wild hatchet-wielding rampage, according to officers in this tobacco town.

Coroner Goudy officially ruled "justification homicide in the line of duty."

L. J. R. Pittman, Officer J. R. Hill and Detective Tom Smith fired shotgun and pistol blasts into the victim after Boykinson reportedly cut a sheriff's deputy and a railroad employee, then allegedly attacked the officers.

Those injured were listed as: William A. Chase, of Wilson, who suffered a concussion and cuts on the arm; and Special Wilson County Deputy Sheriff J. J. Glover, who needed (See COPS KILL, P. 2)

The Thought Exchange

By GORDON B. HANCOCK
A MAMMOTH MISTAKE

Great men are not without their faults and shortcomings. Greatness does not mean infallibility. When great Dr. Martin Luther King moved into Chicago to clean up its slums and ghettos, he was leaving behind an Atlanta long known for its jim-crowism and its ghettoed Negroes numbering thousands. Just whether Dr. King was conscientiously trying to clean up the North and West or was making a grand-stand move, we have no way of knowing, and conjecture is beside the point. But this we do know—the Chicago adventure boomeranged badly. The Negro-hating South looked upon it as uncovering the "hypocrisy" of the North and the North looked upon it as moving the South's problems North for solution, and the move was met with stubborn and stern resentment. The move gave the white back-lash a mighty thrust forward. If the move to Chicago was destined to pull the cloak from the North's hypocrisy, it was poorly conceived in the first place. None but the most naive of Negroes and whites ever look upon the North as being totally pro-Negro and the South totally anti-Negro. There are friends of the Negro in the South just as there are enemies of the Negro in the North. It has ever been thus, but care must be taken in evaluating the situation—North and South. Then, too, it must be frankly acknowledged that wherever an anti-Negro Southerner goes he carries his rabid race prejudice with him, and he becomes an evangel to spread the doctrine of anti-Negroism. A lot of the hatred found in the North and East and West was carried there by Negro-hating Southerners. But only the misguided and misinformed would deny that there is some hypocrisy in the North even as there is brutality in the South. The kettle can ill afford to call the pot black. If, therefore, Dr. King was aiming to "uncover" the hypocrisy of the North, his plans were poorly conceived. Granting that there is and has been hypocrisy in the North, it must be admitted that this "hypocritical" North is responsible for the Negro's Emancipation. This hypocritical North afforded a refuge for the escaping slaves who arrived via the "Underground Railroad." The hypocritical North afforded standing room for the fighting Negroes chased out of the South. This hypocritical North gave birth to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. It was the hypocritical North that provided a haven for Negroes who fled the brutal South during World War I and gave respite to the off-smitten Negroes. It was the hypocritical North that lifted our Negro stars to stardom such as Marian Anderson, Roland Hayes, Leontyne Price; and last but not least, the amazing Willie Mays, and Sammy Davis, the inimitable. It was the hypocritical North that sponsored and backed the Supreme Court decision of 1954, and engineered the enactment of civil rights legislation of 1965. If the North could thus befriend the Negro in its hydrocrisis, to show them up is an unworthy undertaking. Of course, the Negro-hating South gloated over this seeming pulling the cover off the "hypocritical" North. The anti-Negro newspapers had a field day in publicizing the matter. But if the removal of racial disorders North was designed to uncover the hypocritical North and indirectly placate the brutal South, it was a most inglorious failure, for today, anti-Negro elements of the South seemed more determined than ever to hold the Negro down. There is nothing more popular at the South than anti-Negro propaganda, and the Negro-hating Demagogue is having such a field day as he never had before. In fact, he has never had it so good! We hope that the suspicion that our more recent interracial disorders were carried North in order to "show up" the North is without foundation; but whatever its design, it has boomeranged badly. Negroes have reaped many advantages over the schism between North and South over the Negro question. When the North is put on the same level as the South with its pronounced anti-Negro attitude, it heartens the South and disheartens the North; and a North-South coalition is the inevitable result, and that is exactly what has happened as evidenced in the last attempt at civil rights legislation in Congress. With all its supposed "hypocrisy", for 200 years the Negro's only hope has been in the North!

Vote Your Convictions

The presumption that an individual who is registered and goes to the polls to vote, but is inadequately informed to the extent that he needs to be guided by a slate, is an insult to the system of choosing an office-holder by balloting. This procedure also insults the intellect of the voting public. However, until the voting public rises up in indignation against such practice, paid poll workers will continue to administer such insults. We doubt seriously if those who present the "slate", would, in turn, accept the "slate" if it proposed by those unattached to their camp or clique. It seems time the public refused to accept pieces of paper telling it how to vote. In fact, there is little or no difference between pulling the lever in the booth and placing a set of candidates on a piece of paper for the voter to follow when he pulls the lever.

With the November 8 election only days away, we would chide the public to vote its convictions and not that of a piece of paper. In the event there seems no candidate in either party who represents your interest as you see it, there is nothing that says you must vote against your convictions. However, we would say, search out the less of the evils should it come to that, before you decide not to vote for whom YOU wish to have it.
