

CANDIDATE JIM GARDNER

QUESTIONS

CONGRESSMAN COOLEY AND MR. GARDNER:

1. During this period wherein an urgent cry for equal and quality education for all citizens is being heard throughout the land, integration has almost become a reality, and where all citizens are seeking equal education in the very best schools and be accepted in the mainstream of life, and where overall change is inevitable, in what direction do you think the hopes and aspirations of the people of the Fourth District can best be represented by you?
2. With the growing population of Raleigh and the need for more water apparent with the coming of the Research Triangle to the area sometime ago, what is your thinking on the best way to alleviate what could become a major factor in keeping many prosperous businesses and firms from locating in the Wake County or Fourth District area?
3. What is your opinion of the proposed increase for the Social Security Bill, recently killed by the Congress for this year?
4. Would you give your thinking on the Viet Nam question?
5. Do you think U. S. Commissioner of Education, Harold Howe, 2nd, has been exerting too much power in his handling of the desegregation of Southern schools? If so, why?
6. What is your thinking on the House passed Inflation Bill, which would suspend several businesses spending incentive as a move to thwart inflation?
7. What do you think of the 'terrorist' tactics recently charged by a Harnett County group, whose children attend integrated schools?
8. Why do you think your party can best serve the Fourth District's constituents?
9. Do you believe the riots, which have hit several large cities in our nation are poverty motivated or do you believe, as many have stated, they are Communist-inspired? What would you suggest as a remedy?
10. What do you plan to do to serve all of the people of the Fourth District, if elected to Congress?

Jim Gardner Answers Voters' 10 Questions

To The Editor:
I am very sorry for the delay in answering your questionnaire and for any inconvenience that this may have caused you. I had the answers in my briefcase and took them to Rocky Mount with me and was unable to get them back to Raleigh in time for your deadline. Thank you very much for still considering my answers and I hope you will be able to print them. I appreciate this opportunity to express my views in your paper. I hope we will be able to work closely together in the future.
Very Truly Yours,
Jim Gardner

Last week, THE CAROLINIAN carried the answers of incumbent Congressman Harold D. Cooley, of the Fourth District. Although we didn't receive Mr. Gardner's answers until Monday, October 31, we feel it is only fair to hear the answers of both candidates.

I am very pleased to have this opportunity to share my views with your readers. I believe everyone must examine the issues and the candidates and then vote for the man of their choice.

1. I believe that the Fourth Congressional District has changed drastically over the last few years and will continue to change in the near future. This district has become more urbanized and the problems are becoming those of an urban area. It is essential that the Congressman from this district be interested in the future and in helping develop a better district for all citizens rather than having his beliefs, ideas and outlook based in the past. The Congressman from this district must be concerned with development and attracting new industry into our area and of equal importance he must be interested in developing programs of job training so that the citizens of the Fourth District will be able to meet the employment needs. Of equal importance he must be interested in developing programs of job training so that the citizens of the Fourth District will be able to meet the employment needs. Of equal importance is the educational system of our district. We cannot be satisfied until our educational system is second to none. The future of our district and our land lies in a good education for all our citizens. I believe a congressman interested in these developments in our district and willing to help our district become stronger will be serving the hopes and aspirations of all people. The true road to equality lies in education and full employment and through dedication of its citizens to mutual understanding of all the community needs and problems.

2. The water needs of our area represent another problem of the future. I will support the Neuse River Basin Project to aid the Raleigh area. Also, I will support the New Hope Dam Project which has been held up and hampered for the last ten years.

3. The real problem faced by our citizens on social security is the rapidly increasing cost of living. People on fixed and limited incomes are hurt first and foremost by inflation. I believe that the real solution to the problems faced by those on social security is in meeting the problems caused by inflation. I do believe that the limit on the amount a person can earn and still receive full social security should be raised. I would like to see every avenue investigated to help those on fixed incomes such as tax credit for those supporting the elderly before an added burden is placed on our social security program which at present is millions in debt.

4. I believe that in the time of crisis all citizens should ultimately support their President. However, I don't think that this precludes concerned citizens from asking questions about the conduct of the war. I strongly feel that the U.S. should do everything in its power to bring this war in Viet Nam to a quick and honorable conclusion. By this I do not mean that the United States should use nuclear weapons, but should pursue every course possible to help save the lives of American servicemen. For instance, I do not believe this country should send foreign aid to nations supporting the North Vietnamese, which we presently are doing. Our present Congressman voted for such a bill which is giving aid to the enemy. I would strongly support a blockade of the port at Haiphong to stop strategic war materials from reaching the North Vietnamese.

5. I have stated that the Commissioner of Education is exceeding the power granted to him under the 1964 Civil Rights Act through withholding funds for school districts under the so-called school guidelines. I believe equal educational opportunities can and will be achieved under a freedom of choice and neighborhood school plan.

6. I believe that the government must take steps to stop inflation. However, I believe that asking business to curtail its spending and labor to limit its demands and the housewife to decrease her spending does not meet the real problem. The government must begin to set up a priority system for domestic spending and stop excessive spending which greatly increases inflationary trends.

7. I am opposed to "terrorist" tactics and violence by any group or organization.

8. I believe I can best serve the Fourth District because our present Congressman has completely lost touch with the people of this district. I intend to constantly stay in touch with the Fourth District citizens by asking their advice on questionnaires, by reporting to them periodically on radio and TV and by sending a news letter at regular intervals. I further intend to visit this district whenever I am not required to be in Washington, and intend to maintain congressional offices throughout the district so that all people can quickly and easily get in touch with their congressman. I will be looking to the future of this district and attempting to meet the new problems and to give new solutions to our old problems. I will not be seeking the Republican answer or the Democrat answer to our problems, but rather what I believe will be the right answer.

9. I believe that our nation is in the midst of great unrest. I am deeply disturbed by what appears to be a breakdown in respect for law and order. As President Kennedy stated, we are a nation of laws and not of men. Expressing a sincere desire to improve our society is far different from terror, destruction and lawlessness. Admittedly the problems of poverty contribute to the riots and in some areas the true protagonists may be Communist. I would hope that the Fourth District will never have the situation for such riots. I believe that all of our government and civic leaders must work now to meet and solve the problems which could lead to civil unrest. I think the Fourth District has a solid basis of understanding for these problems, but we must never become complacent and forget the needs of our citizens. I would suggest that all concerned leaders work to prevent rioting rather than think of how to react after such a situation develops.

10. I believe this question was sufficiently answered in number 8. I would just reiterate that a congressman is the representative of all the people and that my office will always be responsive to the needs and problems of any citizen of the Fourth District.

FOR MORAL COURAGE—In behalf of her crusading husband, Mrs. Martin Luther King, Jr., accepts the first Margaret Sanger Award in Human Rights from Cass Canfield, leader of Planned Parenthood. The award, the work of American sculptor Stanley Bleifeld, was presented with a check for $1,000 before an audience of more than a thousand at the recent National Conference on Family Planning in Washington, D.C. An accompanying citation honored Dr. King's dedication to the advancement of social justice and human dignity to Mrs. Sanger's valor in the face of persecution when she pioneered for the emancipation of women through birth control.

Cavalcade of HATS

Through the years, famous men have been associated with the hats they wore. And too, some hats are closely linked with history-making events that changed the course of all our lives. If you can recognize the following "headline hats" selected by the research institute of the John B. Stetson Company. (See answers below.)

1 Highly homburged, this venerable financier is:

- a) J. Pierpont Morgan
- b) John D. Rockefeller
- c) Commodore Vanderbilt

2 During the Mexican War, this young Lieutenant cut a dashing figure. Years later, he would be more easily recognized wearing a beard. He is:

- a) Colonel Buffalo Bill
- b) Ulysses S. Grant
- c) Walt Whitman

3 Although it looks like a comfortable sleeping cap, this fellow's hat meant he was a ruthless leader during the:

- a) French Revolution
- b) Sepoy Uprising
- c) Draft Riots of 1863

4 Wearing his famed "scrambled eggs" cap, General of the Army Douglas MacArthur conducted the signing of the Japanese Surrender:

- a) on Bataan
- b) in Pearl Harbor
- c) aboard the Battleship Missouri

Second Kitchen Anyone?

One kitchen seems like more than enough for any one housewife, but this year more than 100,000 Americans will buy second homes—and that means two kitchens to keep. Whether your second home is a chalet in the mountains, or a cabin by the sea, stocking the kitchen with easy-care, compact and durable cooking equipment is an important part of the furnishings job. Here are a few suggestions to get you started.

1. Versatile small appliances are a boon in any kitchen. For example, a stainless steel electric skillet can be a frying pan, a broiler, a small oven or a griddle—and it can be brought to the table for serving. A good immersion skillet is easy to take care of with just soap and water and a stainless steel scouring sponge for any cooked-on food.
2. Since most second kitchens are small, choose pots and pans that do double duty, are compact and durable for easy storage. There are nesting cook sets of stainless steel with saucepan and skillet both large and small.
3. For your mixing jobs, there are gleaming non-breakable bowls that nest. They are pretty enough to hang and use at the table. For measuring, there are easy-care cups and spoons that also hang or nest. Then there are versatile stainless steel gadgets from a bottle opener with a built-in ice pick to all purpose tongs.
4. Cutlery and flatware of stainless steel need no polish and are now made in many designer patterns to suit every taste and every table. There are mugs and serving plates and children's dishes too.

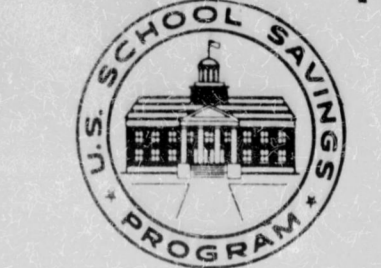

"FRIENDSHIP IN BUSINESS" HONOREES—Gulf Oil Corporation, Pittsburgh, Pa., and Mrs. Marlon E. Bryant, also of Pittsburgh, president of The National Association of Negro Business and Professional Women's Clubs, were the 1966 recipients of the organization's "Friendship in Business Awards." The awards were given at the NANBPWC 31st annual convention in Boston, Mass. Seen in top panel receiving the coveted plaques, which are donated by The Coca-Cola Company, Atlanta, Ga., are R.B. James, 3rd from left, Gulf district manager, Jamaica Plain, Mass., and Mrs. Bryant, 3rd from right. Witnessing ceremony, from left, are Walker Williams, Trans World Airlines, New York, Mrs. Sadye Williams, B&PW awards chairman, New York, Herbert H. Wright, Philip Morris, Inc., New York, (Mrs. Bryant), J. Edward Atkinson, Carnation Company, Los Angeles, Calif., and Moss H. Kendrix, The Moss H. Kendrix Organization, Washington, D.C. All of the companies represented in the photo are members of the B&PW's Friendship in Business Club. In the lower panel, Mrs. Ethel Moore, the club's two newest male life members—Kelvin A. Wall, immediate right, market development manager, The Coca-Cola Company, and Mrs. Atkinson, far right, Mr. Kendrix, center, whose PR firm represents Coca-Cola and Carnation, was the Association's first life member. Joseph Clarke, Republican Congressional Campaign Committee, Washington, D.C. was installed as male life member at the Association's 1965 convention in Los Angeles, Calif.
