

SMOKY

(Continued from page 1)

the square feet in all 15 lots equals to $2.64 per square foot." In 3 years, Adams said, the proposed improvements would total $2.75 per square foot.

New bids were accepted from Claude Gaddy, real estate broker, who sought 8 lots on the same tract which he had already bid. The Commission did, however, accept a new bid from Gaddy on property which has a high bid of $28,400, and was originally rejected by the Commissioners along with Sanders' bid.

Other firms which have given bids on the property are B. B. Sapp, real estate broker, and Pine State Creamery. The former seeks one and the latter asks two sites there.

At a hearing on Oct. 4, Sanders was the high bidder for the 15 acre site. His bid was then rejected by the RRC because it was felt the city would not derive enough tax money from the price of the land, plus the revenue yield to be gotten from Mr. Sanders' proposed improvements.

A new appraisal has been made on the land in question since the October meeting, Enloe stated. He said the new appraisal is higher than the original bid at auction.

"Because of these circumstances," said Mr. Enloe, "the property will have to go on the auction block again and the bids submitted will have to be in line with the new appraisal figure."

H. Palmer Edwards, executive secretary to the Commission, stated that under Commission policy, no bids had, in the past, been disclosed prior to an auction.

"This very often hurt tenant-landlord relationships," concluded Edwards.

Other members of the Commission present at Monday's meeting were: Paul Hoover, Charles Davis, J. E. Strickland, the only Negro member; and Bert Jones.

H. Palmer Edwards, executive director of the Raleigh Redevelopment Commission was interviewed early Wednesday of this week by a CAROLINIAN newsman. Mr. Edwards admitted that the amount paid the homeowners and business firm owners at the time of acquisition amounted to $1.28 per square foot, covering the cost of land and buildings on the properties.

A contract reached his office on Tuesday, Nov. 8 for the Southside (Fourth Ward area Redevelopment. The local Commission must now enter into agreement on this contract, execute (sign) it and adopt a resolution. Then the contract is to be returned to the Atlanta regional office, where it will again be signed and returned to Raleigh. "That should not take over ten days after we meet on the contract," concluded Mr. Edwards. He said he was unable to say it at this time just how much would be paid per square foot for the Southside property.

SPOKESMEN

(Continued from page 1)

veland, Ohio, had been prepared by a drafting committee of nine Negro church leaders. Underlying the manifesto and the entire spirit of the conference was an appeal for a return to law and order in the civil rights struggle.

The manifesto then pointed out that if the civil rights struggle is to succeed in the future, "it must be more an" more emphasized and conducted as a national cause and not as a Negro cause, disrespect for law and order must be discouraged, the Federal Government must continue its firm stand for the rights and the security of all its citizens, and families must have a sense of personal responsibility for the stability of their homes, and for the moral climate in which their children are reared."

The manifesto also stated that "The black power quest must not be condoned or followed, for it too is divisive and is an expression of discrimination from the Negro's point of view when used as a separatist movement among Negroes against white people. Power has no color. But if the term is used to indicate the Negro's growth in productive ability, both in the field of economics and voting then it represents nothing new for it simply means an advanced step from protest to production."

The conference, first of its type in the nation, was held under the chairmanship of Dr. J. H. Jackson, president of the National Baptist Convention, USA, Inc. Other representatives were Bishop Henry C. Bunton, presiding bishop of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, Washington, D. C.; Bishop Louis H. Ford of the Church of God in Christ, Chicago; Dr. C. D. Pettaway, president of the National Baptist Convention of America, Little Rock, Arkansas.

Also, Bishop J. Claude Allen of the CME Church, Gary, Indiana; Bishop W. J. Wals, senior bishop of the AME Zion Church, New York; and Bishop E. C. Hatcher, president of the Bishop's Council of the AME Church, Jacksonville, Fla.

MARRIAGES

(Continued from page 1)

bration of marriage by clergy of both faiths, the education of children, the question of birth-control, and common worship of the Christian family.

That decision was made at a three-day meeting in Chicago that ended over the weekend. The meeting was the fourth in a series of conversations being held under the auspices of the American Roman Catholic Bishops' Commission on Ecumenical Affairs and the North American Area of the World Alliance of Reformed and Presbyterian Churches.

Members of the latter group involved in the on-going conversations include the Presbyterian Church U.S. (Southern), the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, the Hungarian Reformed Church in America, the Reformed Church in America, the United Church of Christ, and the United Presbyterian Church U.S.A.

The group also announced that a joint brochure, "Worship and Study for Roman Catholic and Protestant," will be available for distribution in the spring of 1967. It will be published by the Paulist (Roman Catholic) Press and the Westminster (United Presbyterian) Press.

ELECTION

(Continued from page 1)

had been answered. It was definitely determined that Mr. Gardner was a Tuesday night guest of the motel and the motel desk informed The CAROLINIAN that he was eating breakfast when one of the calls was made.

It was ascertained that Mr. Gardner had definitely denied any connection with the Klan and went further to say that the support of the Klan was not sought by the Gardner camp. An interested Raleigh citizen (Democrat) told The CAROLINIAN that he had been assured that Gardner would be the representative of all the people.

A group of interested Raleigh citizens plan a conference with Mr. Gardner at which time they hope to outline some of the goals they hope to reach through his assistance.

In Durham, R. W. Dalton lost a bid for a seat in the House of Representatives, as a candidate on the Republican ticket. Dalton was able to get the endorsement of the Committee on Negro Affairs and carried most Negro precincts.

These precincts went overwhelmingly for the Democrats. In Guilford County, where there was a trend to the Republican Party four years ago, with some help from the Negroes, there was no trace of that trend Tuesday. The High Point Negro precincts that have shown Republican interest in the past delivered in that manner.

Winston-Salem and Forsythe Counties presented a "crazy quilt" image. There were those who felt that the trend started when Nick Galifianakis won over two Winston-Salem men in two Democratic Primaries, Nick lost both the county and the city to G. Fred Steele, Republican, in his election to Congress. Steele gave the winner a close race and could have won had he been able to get the Negro vote in the low end of the district (Durham County).

The Rev. William R. Crawford, who has weathered two Democratic Primaries to get the nod for the House of Representatives, was again the victim of a switch of some Democrats to the Republican nominees. Crawford was said to have been the victim of the fact that many voters did not know how to properly split the ticket in 1964 and voted straight Democratic and then pulled down his lever, thereby voiding the vote.

In Tuesday's election, Crawford supporters are said to have "single shoted" but there were not enough shots and three white Republicans and two white Democrats were winners.

As predicted last week, Charlie Jonas was not hurt by the Negro vote and did not receive too much help. He has had a semblance of that vote in every election. James T. Broyhill was expected to and did do well in most Negro precincts.

Golden Frinks, civil rights leader in the 16 counties of the First Congressional District, did not show his hand until the last minute. He is a registered Republican and leaned toward East, saying he was the better of the two on racial matters. It was not determined what influence the Negro vote had on Walter Jones' defeat of the East Carolina College professor.

Rev. T. H. Murphy, Laurinburg pastor, was on the ticket for the Board of Education, but was an "also-ran."

SWEETSAKES

(Continued from page 1)

Her husband, Mr. Robert Watson, Jr., is a stonemason. "I was so very happy on learning that I am a winner that I couldn't believe it at first. I started trying to win when the Sweepstakes began this year. I am a weekly reader of The CAROLINIAN and enjoy the paper very much," said the happy housewife and mother.

A Blunder Or A Blessing?

throughout the nation and world as an institution whose tradesmen were sought after by business and industry. Its eleven trades and the School of Building Construction served well to prepare its products for a career in a needed area. Now it finds itself in a position of need with no trained personnel to fill the position.

It is needless to say that the trade school which was closed at Hampton Institute some years ago, is more needed today than it was then. Hampton's buildings and grounds were second to none in appearance during the days of the trade school. There were no sagging or deteriorated screens in windows. paint was prominently used and everything was kept in good repair by the great reservoir of personnel at hand with just a telephone call from one department to another. Together with this practical on-campus training, Hampton's trade school students filled the gaps and developed businesses of their own in aiding the crucial skilled job placement of Negroes throughout America.

However, with the degree craze for label to determine income and status, not only for the alumni, but for the institution itself, Hampton turned its attention to the liberal arts and science fields and a cold shoulder to the technical world. And as a leader in its field of technology, it caused other schools who were prominent in training the head and hands to do likewise. Consequently, Hampton and its band of followers are looking elsewhere for their personnel to man areas of skill on their campuses as they, too, had fallen victim to the "nice" instead of the necessary.

Further critical areas of training on college campuses such as publicity and public relations find themselves neglected because many so-called Negro institutions are forced to resort to areas beyond their campus or training ground, even with all the degree-trained personnel in English composition, etc., to fill such positions.

It is the hope of this newspaper that institutions will look closer at their curriculums and include some needed emphasis in courses, which would at least meet their immediate need, plus render a greater service to its graduates and the field for which they are being prepared. This would, we believe, enable the institutions, the personnel and the commercial world to find a more fruitful co-existence in this life for all concerned.

GI'S HOME

(Continued from page 1)

The soldier's father, James Holmes, 46, is a 14-year employee of the printing ink department, Interchemical corporation. He and his wife are parents of eight children, three of whom have served in the armed forces overseas.

Though Howard delayed reporting for overseas duty, he is still going to keep his commitment—but he "just can't understand it."

"I'm going away to war, and something like this happens to my home," he declared.

DIST. TUTORS

(Continued from page 1)

and University Teaching; the Negro Education Review; Vital Speeches, and numerous other unpublished writings dealing with education, educational organization, curricula in teacher education.

Bruce Hargrove, president of the Southeastern District, will preside over the general sessions.

NC'S GILL

(Continued from page 1)

He said that "Radio and television have made it possible for ideas to be communicated almost simultaneously to all the people who live on this planet. They can transmit kindness and tolerance; but they also can communicate bias and hate. We need to redefine what we really mean by progress. Certainly in the matters of race, great progress has been made and yet there remains much to be done, and it is the spirit of a people that finally counts."

Gill stated, "that it is the hope of all of us that the corresponding leadership in the white race will join with Negro educators in a program of progress in education, in welfare, in human rehabilitation and in the development of industry and commerce—all predicated upon the welfare of individuals regardless of their racial origin."

The guest speaker was introduced by Dr. H. L. Trigg, member, State Board of Education. Mrs. Ruth Woodson, supervisor, elementary schools, State Department of North Carolina, paid tribute to the donors of the Hammocks Beach Property, Mrs. Josephine W. Sharpe, widow of the late William Sharpe, and Mrs. Gertrude Hurst, who was responsible for directing this gift to Negro Teachers of North Carolina. She referred to the teachers as "torch bearers" and "weary travelers" who need an opportunity for recreation and relaxation such as is afforded at the Hammocks Beach.

Greetings were brought by E. B. Palmer, executive secretary of the North Carolina Teachers Association, who extended an invitation to the guest to visit the Hammocks to enjoy the beautiful setting.

Other program participants included Mrs. Nora Evans Lockhart, principal, Crosby Garfield school who gave remarks and thanks to God for the Occasion.

Harold Morgan, an instructor at East Side School, St. Pauls, N.C., sang "Without a Song" and "Invictus."

Mrs. Latelle Vaughan, a 7th grade teacher at East End Elementary School sang "Oh What a Beautiful City," and "A Heart That's Free." Mrs. Vaughan was accompanied by Hubert E. Walters, director of Choral Music, Shaw University.

Dr. Rudolph Jones, president, North Carolina Teachers Association, presided as toastmaster.

A report on previous banquet activities was made by W.R. Collins, director of the Hammocks Expansion Project. The banquet was given in the interest of a memorial honoring the memory of the late Dr. William Sharpe and his widow Mrs. Josephine Sharpe. Sponsors for the banquet included: Shaw University, The Winston Mutual Life Insurance Company, The Meta Arts Jewelry Company, the Raleigh

86th Session Of AME Zion Church Ends In Laurinburg

LAURINBURG - The 86th annual session of the Central North Carolina Conference, AME Zion Church, presided over by the Rt. Rev. W. A. Stewart, closed here Sunday afternoon, with the reading of appointments, after a six-day meet. The Conference was held in Franklin Chapel Church, Rev. T. H. Murphy pastor.

One of the highlights of the meet was the retirement of Rev. T. J. Young from active service after 50 years as a pastor and presiding elder. He was the presiding elder of the Raleigh District at the time of retirement. The Rev. Mr. Young began pastoring in 1917 and served many of the churches in the Conference. He served the Raleigh District from 1940 to 1954. He supervised the work of the Laurinburg District 1954 to 1960 and thence back to the Raleigh District in 1960. The Rev. T. L. Parsons also retired.

The veteran minister was born in Southampton County, Va., and received his education in Edenton and at St. Augustine's College. He resides in Franklin with his wife, the former Eva Beamon. He has represented the Central Conference and the denomination on local, state and national levels. The Conference theme "New Dimensions of Church Loyalty" was keynoted by Bishop Stewart with emphasis on evangelism. The prelate was mindful of the need of a more dynamic program for that phase Branch of the Mechanics and Farmers Bank, the Raleigh Branch of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, The Dove Music Company and Victor Peebles Hotel and Cafeteria Interests.

Opening Friday, November 4th!

BRONZE BEAUTY SALON

Owned and Operated by:

MRS. IRIS S. CRUM MISS LUCY WATSON

133 E. Hargett St. Tel. 834-7815 Raleigh, N. C.

NOW OPEN

BROWN'S Property Management & Investment Company

Call Today For: RENTALS, REAL ESTATE, INVESTMENTS, REPAIRS AND REMODELING

OFFICE HOURS 9:00 A.M. - 5:00 P.M.

Monday through Friday

Saturday - 9:00 A.M. - 12:00 P.M.

J. HENRY BROWN 229 S. East Street

for FALL with

PROFESSIONAL DRY CLEANING

SOUTHGATE PLAZA

NEWCOMBE ROAD

ONE-HOUR DRY CLEANING

Freeman

Cotton's Beauty Salon

115 BART STREET

RALEIGH, N. C.

Phone 834-6985

Free Coffee and doughnuts during November and December.

—CLOSED MONDAYS—

Licensed in the States of New York, California and North Carolina

AME ZION CHURCH HOME-

COMING QUEEN - Little Miss Jinkie Washington was recently crowned Queen of the St. Paul AME Zion Church Homecoming at Dudley. She is the daughter of Mrs. Naomi Washington of Mt. Olive, and Mr. George Washington, Jr., of Charleston, S. C. Miss Washington was sponsored by her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Washington, of Dudley. She is a fifth grader at Carver High School, Mt. Olive. Master Raymond Shipman, of Goldsboro, Master Shipman was sponsored by his uncle, Mr. Daniel Washington.

Tabor City News

TABOR CITY - Services were held at Mt. Zion Baptist Church, Bennettsville, S. C. Sunday Nov. 6. Sunday School began at 10 a. m. with the Supt., in charge. Morning worship began at 11:30, with the guest minister and choir in charge. Due to the illness of the pastor, Rev. V. S. Singletary, the Rev. A. R. Long brought the message which was enjoyed by all. At the close of service, a prayer was made for the pastor. The pastor was visited by members and friends of his churches.

Miss Perry Singletary was home for the weekend due to the sickness of her father. She is teaching at Palmetto Elementary School in Millins, S. C. Rev. and Mrs. Rogers, of Wilson, the sister of Rev. Singletary, visited Rev. Singletary last Sunday. The W. W. H. Y. C. will hold its annual meetsoph -- Evans Drake; Creedmore -- To be supplied; Taylor's Chapel -- Wesley Crews; Selma, Smithfield, Avery's Grove -- H. J. Moore; Kyles -- J. W. Redfern; Lucama -- J. D. Patterson; St. Paul -- Mary Ward; Mt. Moriah -- W. M. Phillips; St. Mary, Allen Chapel -- J. W. Redfern.

Appointments: Raleigh District -- Presiding Elder -- E. H. Beebe; Rush -- Raleigh -- T. H. Harris; Kosler -- Henderson -- B. A. Mack; Grace -- Raleigh -- L. P. Perry; Holly Springs -- B. L. Rush; Douglas Chapel -- B. L. Rush; Andrews Chapel -- V. O. Jeffries; Norrington Mt. Moriah -- H. S. Gillispie; Cook's Chapel -- Slade Marsh; Wesley Chapel, St. Luke Cedar Grove -- H. W. McLaurin; Union Paradise -- J. H. Jacobs; Big Zion, St. Jo-

GOOD OLD AMERICAN COOKING At Its Finest!

206 S. Main Street

Louisburg, N. C.

J. TEO ANDERSON

Prop.

Funeral Set For Sister Of Local Funeral Home Prexy

Mrs. Jacqueline Haywood Cooper, of 605 S. East St., died Monday at Wake Memorial Hospital.

A native of Raleigh, Mrs. Cooper was married to the late Charles L. Cooper. She attended the local public schools and Bricks Junior College, Bricks. She taught school for awhile in Smithfield.

Daughter of the late Willis and Ida Manley, Mrs. Cooper was active in the work of St. Paul AME Church, where she had been a member since childhood.

Funeral services will be conducted from St. Paul Church Friday at 3:30 p. m. with the pastor, the Rev. Benjamin S. Foust, officiating, and burial will follow in Mount Hope Cemetery.

She is survived by three sons, Messers Paschal Bert Cooper, William Hunter Cooper, and Owen Larry Cooper; two daughters, Mrs. Parthenia C. Neal, and Mrs. Jacqueline C. Flowers, both of Raleigh; one brother, Mr. Charles A. (Doll) Haywood, Sr., Raleigh, funeral home president; 11 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

IN REVERSE NEW YORK - While white parents across the country were clamoring to get their children out of integrated public schools, a group of Brooklyn white parents had other ideas. They asked that their 40 children be bused to a Negro and Puerto Rican school--and won their request, after staring a sit-in.

Obituaries

MR. JOSEPH BECKWITH

Funeral services for Mr. Joseph Beckwith, of 1502 Poole Rd., who died in Wake Memorial Hospital on Sunday will be conducted at the Raleigh Funeral Home Chapel on Thursday afternoon at 2 p. m. Burial followed in Carolina Biblical Gardens. Rev. Isaac Lee officiated.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Daisy Williams, Mrs. Elizabeth Williams, both of Raleigh, and Mrs. Catherine Williams, of Maryland; fourteen grandchildren, and fourteen great grandchildren.

ing Nov. 17, at St. Matthew AME Church, Tabor City. Rev. C. L. Sanders is pastor.

Soldiers' Day will be observed at Spring Green Baptist Church Sunday Nov. 13, in Acme. Rev. Singletary is pastor. You are invited to come and worship with us.

The sick are: Rev. V. S. Singletary, and Mrs. Mamie Brown.

We pray they will soon be out and going again.

For Your Insurance Needs See . . .

LEWIS T. LIGON

812 Hadley Road--Raleigh, N. C.

Dial 834-4781

SALARY REPLACEMENT -- RETIREMENT

MORTGAGE -- EDUCATIONAL

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

FUNERAL INSURANCE TO AGE 80

BOSSE JEWELERS - - - Invites CHRISTMAS LAY-AWAYS!

15 DIAMOND PRINCESS RING $49.95

One Dollar

is all you need to

Lay-way

'Til Christmas!

129 Fayetteville St.

EASY TERMS

Two Stores

BOSSE Jewelers

Open

Friday Night

401 Fayetteville St.

ONLY QUALITY

FULL HAired

100% HUMAN HAIR WIGS

YES--If you want quality, in a luxurious, silky wig, any shade or style we have it for you. OUR PRICES? They will surprise you. We can fit anyone's pocketbook. Come in and check for yourself.

USE YOUR CREDIT -- It's GOOD with us. Deal directly with us with a small down payment. OR--If you prefer, we can arrange financing for you without a down payment. Pay as you wear.

We Have Wiglets Too That Can Be Bought

On Credit.

Have you tried the House of Wigs specially made Wig Spray, or our Wig Lusterizer? They will help you keep your wig sparkling and neat.

REMEMBER--We will clean and style your present Wig. Let our Experts give you your wig new life.

House Of Wigs

217 S. Wilmington St, Raleigh

Phone 833-9952