J. B. Harren NC College Speaker

WILSON - A well-known NAACP leader of Tarheelia was guest lecturer to a 35 member sociology class at Atlantic Christian College here, Jan. 4. The response was cordial and the group showed much interest through their question regarding Civil Rights.

J. Benjamin Harren of Rocky Mount, a veteran of some thirty years of civil rights activity in Eastern North Carolina, was invited by retired Dr. C. H. Hamlin to talk with his class on the history of the Negro American and their efforts toward integration; and what could be done by white college students to help improve the lot of the Negroes.

Harren, a NAACP Life Member and Public Relations chairman for the North Carolina NAACP Conference, told the group that Negroes had been loyal to America and the white race throughout the entire history of this nation and only wanted to be given a chance to prove their worth with equal educational and job opportunities. He stressed that, since Negroes have worked side-by-side with whites in fields and in their homes; there is no reason they should not be accorded the opportunity to work by their side in business and industry.

Harren also pointed to the loss that is suffered by the State when colored youths graduate from high school and college and leave their suitcase already packed to leave for a northern city to get work for which they have qualified. He said Tarheelia and the South loses money and talent which it can ill-afford to lose.

The speaker (who was contacted because of his frequent letters-to-the-editor' of the daily press) mentioned the 'bugaboo' about integration, saying that "We have had integration all along, because only 15 per cent of colored Americans are black."

Harren was joined by the Rev. Albert A. L. Hockaday of Mt. Pisgah United Presbyterian Church, Rocky Mount, in the answering of questions from students. The occasion marked one of the few times a Negro has been asked to talk on Civil Rights on a college campus to white students in East Carolina.

WATER MELON FOR JANUARY BIRTHDAY - Mr. James D. Williams, 309 Branch Street, was 57 years old on January 4. He chose to celebrate it by having a water melon feast. He is shown with two of his friends as they partake of it. He says he bought the melon in October and vowed to keep it for this occasion. The friends are V. E. Phillips of Garner and Phil Ivey of Raleigh. He alleges the melon was not too sweet, but sound. Mr. Williams was born in Harnett County and has three children. He is a member of the Freewill Baptist Church. He has been engaged in the wrecking business here for four years.

Mrs. Cleland Slated To Head PR Dept. Of NCM

DURHAM - The management of the North Carolina Mutual is expected to announce that Mrs. Estella Cleland, who has worked close to Asa T. Spaulding, president, will be appointed to head the public relations department.

Mrs. Cleland will take over the duties of Mrs. Alma H. Wade, who resigned, effective Dec. 31. Mrs. Wade made an enviable record as the image-maker for the insurance company and even though there were many who felt that she might resign to join her husband, the Rev. L. H. Wade, who pastors Bethel Baptist Church, White Plains, N. Y., it came as a shock to persons who called upon her for advertising and information about the company.

Mrs. Wade took over the office Jan. 1, 1960, after having begun with the company in 1961. She had worked with the company previously to 1941, when she worked as a summer supply clerk, while attending North Carolina College, where she received the M. S. degree in commerce. Mrs. Wade took a course in public relations as secretary to J. W. Goodlow, now executive vice president and secretary of the company.

The successful handling of the recent dedication of the multi-million dollar home office building was attributed to the ingenuity of Mrs. Wade and her staff. Persons close to the North Carolina Mutual styled it the most successful public relations job ever attempted by the company.

Q and A YOUR SAVINGS BOND QUIZ

QUESTION: In past years, I have heard that taxpayers were permitted to take their income tax refunds in Savings Bonds. Will that be possible this year?

ANSWER: Yes. On your Federal income tax form, you will find a line to be checked, if you want your refund in Bonds. You will receive the largest denomination Bond that your refund will purchase, plus a check for the difference between the purchase price and the amount of your refund.

QUESTION: They say that Savings Bonds are indestructible; that any lost, stolen or destroyed will be replaced. Does it actually work out that way?

ANSWER: Since the begin-

SAFETY FILM TO BE SHOWN AND DISCUSSED

The Thompson School PTA will hold its monthly meeting Thursday evening, Jan. 12, at 8 p. m. in the school auditorium.

A film on the safety of our children will be shown and promises to be of interest not only to the parents, but to the community as well.

Please plan to attend and see how you can help keep our children safe.

Grade mothers will meet in room three at 7:30 p. m.

Merrick-Moore Grad Heads Housing Project

DURHAM - Miss Patricia Wearing, a 1957 graduate of Merrick - Moore High School, was named manager of the Hayti Housing Project, by the Durham Housing Authority, last week.

Miss Wearing majored in commercial education and was employed as early as 1958 as a part-time worker. She went on a full-time basis in 1963 and received wide experience as a cashier. It is the belief that her work with the Authority makes her capable to command the new position with credit.

The project will be opened in peace-meal fashion, due to the severe need and as apartments are finished. Even though it is expected to be completed ahead of the original construction date, occupancy will not begin until the weather clears enough for the contractor to put in the sidewalks.

The project is in the center of what was known as the Hayti section of Durham, along side of Fayetteville Street. Some of the city's most fashionable houses, in days of yore, were torn down to make room for the project.

Miss Wearing is a member of the St. Paul Baptist and is reported to be quite active in the Baptist Training Union.

What husbands don't know about the behavior of their wives would fill a book, according to my memoirs.

QUESTION: What about accrued interest on Series E Bonds that are exchanged for H. Bonds? Does tax have to be paid immediately?

ANSWER: No, the Federal income tax may continue to be deferred until the H. Bonds are cashed or reach final maturity. That enables the bond owner to continue to earn interest on the full amount of interest that has already accumulated.

Nothing tones down a troublemaker so quickly as to run in to someone he isn't sure he can lick.

Yes, We All Talk

BY MARCUS H. BOULWARE WHAT IS ORATORY?

Oratory is platform oral communication which has for its purpose to inform, to convince, to entertain, to stimulate, and to persuade. It can be the type employed by the Romans and Greeks, or it can be the present conversational style used by modern speakers.

The orator must meet today new requirements made necessary by the radio, loud speaker, and television. Television keeps the speaker confined to a specific area behind the microphone and often leads to reading from the manuscript. However, the most effective orators speak extemporaneously and discard manuscript reading.

One of the foremost Negro orators today is Dr. Martin Luther King whom I have chosen to call the "Finished Public Speaker." Readers desiring a reprint of "The Finished Public Speaker: Martin Luther King, Jr." send one dollar to cover cost of printing and Maybe our '67 Pontiac is breaking sales records because people don't want to wait until '68 for a copy.

Our engineers have become used to seeing their ideas show up on other cars. Two years late. And apparently so have a lot of car buyers. Because 1967 Pontiacs are selling faster than 1966 Pontiacs. And '66 was a record year.

When you think about it, why should you wait around for innovations like our disappearing windshield wipers? Or for imaginative options like our exclusive hood-mounted tach? Especially when you consider that our engineers wouldn't turn a Pontiac loose with anything less than a standard 400 cubic inch V-8. Or a Tempest with anything less than our revolutionary Overhead Cam Six. (Not to mention all those new safety features like GM's energy absorbing steering column and a dual master cylinder brake system with warning lamp.)

In short, our engineers seem to have done it again. They may even start asking for royalties on the copies.
