

Rumblings Of A Hot Summer

Thurgood Marshall, First

NEGRO TO SUPREME COURT

JUSTICE MARSHALL

President Johnson Enhances His Great Society Program

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Lyndon Baines Johnson, President of the United States, made perhaps the most significant move to keep his word about striking down intolerance, that he has ever made, when he named Thurgood Marshall, the first Negro Solicitor General, to succeed Justice Tom Clark on the Supreme Court.

To be sure there would be no mistake as to his intent and purpose he presented him to newsmen, as his choice for the high court and said "I have chosen the right man, for the right place and at the right time."

It is a long ways from the ple-

not line of the old New Negro Alliance, that first drew attention to racial injustice, by picking the Peoples Drug Stores here, in the early thirties to a place among the justices, of the highest court in the land.

Johnson said that Marshall had already made his place in history and had nothing but praise for the 56-year-old celebrated lawyer. He gave the President an opportunity to implement the program of the Great Society.

Even though there was jubilation over the selection there were some senators who eyed the move with reservations.

It is the thinking that Marshall will encounter very little difficulty in being confirmed by the Senate. Strom Thurmond, the turned Republican from S. C., made it known that he was going to vote against confirmation, due to the fact he does not agree with Marshall's interpretation of constitutional questions.

Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N. C., ardent foe of civil rights, who has had every opportunity to judge Marshall's ability, said that he would reserve his judgment until he studied his record with the NAACP and federal agencies that he (Marshall) has been connected with.

WEEKLY LEGISLATIVE REPORT

NOTE: This is the seventeenth of a series of weekly summaries prepared by the legislative staff of the Institute of Government on the work of the North Carolina General Assembly of 1967. It is confined to discussions of matters of general interest and major importance.

LEGISLATIVE RESEARCH
Most observers and legislators would agree that a state legislative session is hardly the time or place for thoroughgoing basic study of matters requiring legislative action. A standing legislative committee may provide a reliable forum for evaluating and perfecting matured legislative proposals. But usually these committees, lacking professional staff, meeting but four or five months every two years, and lacking continuity of membership, are not well adapted to leisurely

HAROLD LEE SMITH, JR.

Lures Two In Women Clothing

The files of the Raleigh police Department have a picture of Harold Lee Smith, Jr., Apt. 2, 702 E. Hargett St., that tells a far more convincing story than that told by two white men, whom he is alleged to have lured into his room and robbed Sunday.

The picture shows Smith dressed in woman's clothes with the most tantalizing makeup that any woman can have. The contrast to the one shown here is stupendous. Smith is wearing a long dress with a gown effect and hair done in a Bee-Hive fashion. He is also wearing high heel shoes. The picture carries a notation, "Is it she or he."

This is said to have been the costume Smith was wearing when he lured Stephen Wayne Smith, 413 Sunset Rd. and Winfield Scott McCulloch, of Rocky Mount, both white, to accompany him to his apartment. The two men are said to have responded to the invitation and

Robeson Citizens Aroused

LUMBERTON - Citizens of Lumberton and surrounding Robeson, gave vent to their feeling, at a mass meeting held in Sandy Grove Baptist Church, Tuesday night, giving evidence that Martin Luther King could have tagged this farming section as one of the places, designated for a "Long Hot Summer."

The spark that could have easily brought Boston to the Coble Dairy Building, Cincinnati to Pine Street, or a Tampa can of gasoline to the Olympic Cafe, Sunday afternoon went off, when 16 children sought service in the Lumberton Dairy Center, and were not only told to get out, but to hasten their departure, Nathan Noble, white manager, is alleged to have thrown concentrated ammonia in the eyes of some of the group.

Irate citizens sat in Sandy Grove church and listened to Charles McLean, state field officer for the NAACP, tell them that the remedy was in the courts. The local leaders of the NAACP, knowing the gravity of situation, called the meeting, in the hope that it would not get out of hand.

No Deal With Slay

DURHAM - Emory Lowell Rollins, 33, who police charged killed his wife, Helen, in their Mutual Heights apartment, in the early morning of June 6, was bound over for the grand jury, in District Court Friday, with Judge S. O. Riley remanding him to jail, without the privilege of bond.

MONTGOMERY, Ala.: Negro demonstrators sit in the street facing Alabama's Capitol after they were stopped at a police blockade late June 12. It was the second attempt in two nights for the Negroes to reach the Capitol. The group heard speeches and marched back through the downtown section.

ON THE LEFT - Boston police officer drags rioter along in a head lock after wild rioting broke out in the Roxbury section of Boston June 2. Hundreds of persons hurled rocks and bottles at the police, injuring 29 of them. Some 34 persons were arrested by the police.

LEAVES JAIL TO DIRECT MARCH - SNCC leader Stokely Carmichael points to the ground and tell a group of Negro marchers to sit in the street. The demonstrators were stopped by police from the State Capitol. Carmichael was released from a Prattville, Ala. jail June 13 and joined the demonstrators in the march on the Capitol.

Powell Out Of Gas, Says Jones

NEW YORK (UPI) - Adam Clayton Powell's of Congressional power are finished, according to J. Raymond Jones, former New York County Democratic leader.

The ousted Congressman from Harlem has lost his influence with the majority of Negroes, said Jones, who himself stepped down from his position as the most powerful Negro leader on a county level.

"At this time, the cards are stacked against him. He cannot, in my estimation, come back into the field of power he had," said Jones, who is now a city councilman.

Weather
Temperatures during the period Saturday through Monday will average above normal in the vicinity of North Carolina. A strong low pressure system will be moving over the central section. Daytime highs will be in the 70's and 80's. Nighttime lows will be in the 50's and 60's. A cold front will be moving over the central section. Light to moderate showers will be possible through the period.

Powell's lawyers have asked the U. S. Supreme Court to look into his exclusion from Congress.

"As a politician, I would say that he has failed to understand the view of Negroes in a democratic society."

From Raleigh's Official Police Files THE CRIME BEAT

Check Victim

Daniel's Store, 213 S. Wilmington St., appears to have been the victim of a forged check. It was reported that a check made payable to Sylvester Dillard and signed by Ivory M. Hawkins, drawn on the Mechanics and Farmers Bank, was cashed at the store. On June 13 the check was returned to the store, with the notation "signature unsatisfactory."

Owner Wanted

The mother of Dante Annette Sanders, 3005 Hudson St., wants to know the name of the owner of a dog that bit her son, who played in the back yard of her house. The mother says she will sue a warrant for the dog's owner as soon as the identity is known. It was alleged that the dog came from 12 McKee St.

SENATOR BLAMES POWER NATIONS - Washington, Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., addressed a group of 200 Massachusetts Jews here to attend a communal rally June 1. Brooke blamed the U. S. Britain, France and the Soviet Union in large part for the war in the Middle East. He said the so-called power nations have been using the smaller nations for their own purposes. (UPI)

Show Commencement Speaker Points To Responsibilities

Harold Howe, II, United States Commissioner of Education, told the 102nd graduating class at Shaw University Sunday, June 11, "As college graduates, you have an opportunity denied the uneducated masses of frustrated Negroes living in our rural and urban ghettos. You can use your education to break out of the economic and social circumstances which always condemn illiterate and poorly educated to lives of unfulfilled hope and purposeless toiling."

Using as a subject, "America's Crucial Lesson," the former director of the Learning Institute of North Carolina stated, "Our contemporary civil rights movement is comparatively new."

"Although such organizations as the NAACP, the Urban League and SCLC have been working to improve the condition of the American Negro for four decades, it was not until the middle 1960's that the movement took on a new direction and urgency as the result of the Brown Decision by the Supreme Court."

"The revitalized civil rights movement had significant origins
