

DURHAM FEARS 'HOT SUMMER'

City Council Warned Of Danger

DURHAM - There were many local citizens, of both races, who felt that Durham could not ignite over racial imbalance, like other sections of the country. They found out different Tuesday night when 150 persons, led by Ben Ruffin, former Operation Breakthrough employee, went to the City Council and told them that Durham could become a Watts, a Roxbury, a Chicago, a Cincinnati, a Newark or even a Vietnam, over night.

Ruffin, now employed by United Organization for Community Improvement, led a parade of speakers, who minced no words in saying that the housing situation was acute and that if something was not done it would explode.

Ruffin had the moral support of Miss Ann Atwater, who also works for UOCI and "black power" advocates Howard Fuller, along with others who have sensed the situation for a long time.

Ruffin, now employed by United Organization for Community Improvement, led a parade of speakers, who minced no words in saying that the housing situation was acute and that if something was not done it would explode.

Fuller had the moral support of Miss Ann Atwater, who also works for UOCI and "black power" advocates Howard Fuller, along with others who have sensed the situation for a long time.

Dr. A. D. Moseley, president, NAACP, warned housing officials in a conference and also made television and radio appearance, asking that something

IS IT LIFE OR NEWS? - This picture should send a message to every heart, saying, "Where is the milk of human kindness." This is a scene taken on the second night of rioting in Newark, N. J. It shows the officers holding a seriously wounded woman, while a newsman attempts to interview her. A life is worth far more than any news story and it does not matter whether the victim participates in a riot or receives a wound through his own negligence, the least anyone can do is to administer aid to the victim.

Dr. J. M. Nabrit To Quit Howard

WASHINGTON, D. C. - Howard University president James M. Nabrit Jr. has announced that he will retire as head of the nation's largest predominantly Negro institution of higher learning as soon as a successor has been named to replace him.

The Atlanta-born educator and constitutional lawyer has served as president of Howard since July 1, 1960. He joined the faculty of the Howard School of Law in 1936.

In announcing his retirement, the 66-year-old president said that he was exercising his option of retirement after reaching the age of 65. At Howard retirement is permitted at 65 and mandatory at 68.

Dr. Nabrit, who leaves on a month-long tour of seven South American countries later this week, said he will spend his future years traveling and writing.

The president stated emphatically that the unrest that has plagued the University's campus during the past year did not influence his decision to retire at this time.

"I have always felt that I

DR. J. M. NABRIT

should retire before it became mandatory," he said. "I have wanted to travel and to write, and I would like to begin this new phase of my career at an age and in a state of health that will permit me to do it.

"I plan to write about the developing nations of Asia and Africa and their relationship to the United States," Dr. Nabrit added. "I also want to write about the civil rights struggle in this country. I returned to Howard this year because it was the University's 100th anniversary and I wanted to help direct the Centennial celebration."

Regarding the campus unrest, (See NABRIT, P. 2)

Sen. Brooke Speaks Out At Confab

BOSTON, Mass. - Those who felt that Senator Edward W. Brooke, the first Negro elected to the U. S. Senate, since Reconstruction, really got a glimpse of what he stands for, in an address that he delivered to the night session of the 58th annual convention, NAACP, Tuesday.

He began by tracing the very beginning of the fight for freedom, in the nation, to Boston. He told how William Lloyd Garrison carried on a relentless fight, through his newspaper, The Liberator, to stir the conscience of the nation. He pictured the coming of Frederick Douglass to Boston as the voice that aroused freedom-loving people over the diabolical use of slavery. He saw no better way to display the Negro's loyalty than the death of Crispus Attucks. And pictured the rescue of Shadrach and Burns, by freedom loving Bostonians, from the grasp of slave owners and giving them asylum here.

He continued, the civil rights movement in the United States is not simply a movement for the advancement of colored people. It springs from the very essence of the concept of democracy in America. It is an attempt to fulfill the promise this nation made at the time of its birth to generations of Americans yet to be born. The civil rights movement is a bringing together of people with those promises and a testing of our belief in the principle on which the nation was founded: the belief in the worth and dignity of every individual and the promise that every individual would have the opportunity to develop his capacities to the fullest in a free society.

From Raleigh's Official Police Files THE CRIME BEAT

Whiskey Fight Again In News

WHITE WHISKEY FIGHT - The old story about the rat being in his liquor did not apply to Marshall Thorpe, 116 Fisher St., Friday. He alleges he and an unnamed person were fighting over a jar of "white whiskey" and in the scuffle, the jar broke and in desperation, he fell on the glass and roofed out on both hands. The fight was at 8:30 in the morning and occurred in the 100 block of Fisher St.

Frank Ruffin, Jr., made news again this week when Officer Edward Randolph alleges that he saw Leroy Utley, 31, 819 S. Bloodworth St., shoot him about 2:30 Saturday morning. The officer alleges that Utley was riding in a car, driven by Otto Davis and when the car reached the corner of Watson and Davis, Utley fired on Ruffin from the car. The extent of the injury was not known. (See CRIME BEAT, P. 2)

AUTO TRAFFIC VICTIM BURIED

THE CAROLINIAN

North Carolina's Leading Weekly

VOL. 26, NO. 35

RALEIGH, N. C., SATURDAY, JULY 22, 1967

PRICE 15 CENTS

Klan Routed By FBI In NC Wholesale Roundup

12 Arrested In Drive Against Hate Mongers

SALISBURY - The tactics of Scotland Yard were used here Tuesday by the FBI, the Kannapolis police, Concord police Department and the North Kannapolis police, along with the sheriff's department of Rowan and Cabarrus Counties, with help from the Stanley County sheriff and the SBL. The result was that 12 persons, including the registrar of deeds of Rowan County, were arrested and given hearings.

The arrests were the results of much investigation of the terror that has occurred in this section for a long time. Most of the men who are charged are said to have strong inclinations toward the Ku Klux Klan.

The arrests were the results of much investigation of the terror that has occurred in this section for a long time. Most of the men who are charged are said to have strong inclinations toward the Ku Klux Klan. James Wayne Davis, 41, China Grove, has been the object of much speculation, since he was elected registrar of deeds for Rowan County in the 1966 election. He was elected on the Republican ticket, which made a surprise takeover of several county offices.

He was arrested early Tuesday morning, and brought to the federal courthouse in Salisbury by agents shortly after day break. Davis is charged with hindering the proper process of integration in Rowan and Cabarrus Counties, also wielding influence that was intended to deprive citizens from participating in the proper execution of the educational program and the property by injecting overtones of segregation and discrimination.

The charges, when summed up, add up to a conspiracy to defy law and order by shooting into homes, dynamiting business establishments, burning churches, residences and property used by the federal government in the prosecution of the poverty program.

The arrests were announced from Washington by Ramsey Clark, United States Attorney General. The warrants were drawn Monday, according to J. Edgar Hoover, FBI Director, on evidence given a federal grand

Neighbor Charged In Conspiracy

GREENSBORO - Police invoked North Carolina's new anti-terrorism law Tuesday night to clamp down on alleged Ku Klux Klan harassment of a Negro family in a white neighborhood.

Officers arrested Klansman Clyde Webster and J. R. McBride, a neighbor of the Negroes, on charges of violating the law which carries a maximum penalty of five years imprisonment upon conviction.

Released under 300 bond each pending a July 31 hearing, the two men were accused of burning a cross to intimidate the Rev. Frank Williams, a Negro minister who moved his wife and child into a white residential area more than a month ago.

Webster was freed under the same bond he posted Saturday night when he was arrested along with four other Klansmen on misdemeanor charges stemming from a cross burning near the Williams home.

Klansmen armed with shotguns were on McBride's property Saturday night and Williams was hanged in effigy during the cross burning. (See GREENSBORO, P. 2)

WEATHER

Temperatures during the past few days through Monday are expected to average around normal. Daytime highs will average in the upper 80s and lower 90s. Low in the 60s and 70s. There will be a 20 to 30 per cent chance of showers and thunderstorms from Thursday through Saturday.

J. W. GOODLOE

Goodloe To Head Ins. Firm

DURHAM - J. W. Goodloe, executive vice president, North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company has been selected to succeed President Asa T. Spaulding, upon the latter's retirement, on December 31, 1967.

Selection of Goodloe as president-elect by the N.C. Mutual Board of directors was announced Tuesday afternoon, by President Spaulding.

Spaulding, who will be 65 July 22, became president in 1959.

In recommending Goodloe as the sixth president of the 68-year-old insurance firm, Spaulding said, "He and I have worked very closely together (See GOODLOE, P. 2)

Protestors Urge Full Privilege

In an effort to determine North Carolina's participation in the program of the Economic Development Administration an agency operating within the frame work of the Commerce Department, Kelly Alexander, president, N. C. State Conference of Branches of the NAACP, sent the following telegram to Alexander Trowbridge, Secretary of Commerce, and Ross D. Davis, assistant secretary, in charge of the Economic Development Program.

"We vigorously protest the exclusion of Negroes, in N. C., from the Multi-County District Economic Development Planning Committee. We urge action for complete minority group participation on equal basis, in all capacities, with other citizens. We are not interested in Negroes serving only on ad-

(See PROTESTORS, P. 2)

U. S. Court Opens Door

NEW BERN (NPI) - A federal Eastern District Court judge Tuesday ordered a new Bern restaurateur to serve Negroes.

The businessman said he would close his doors first. Judge John D. Larkins Jr. ordered John Moore, trading as Moore's Bar B-Que and Restaurant in New Bern, to serve customers without regard to race and enjoined Moore from denying Negroes use of his facilities.

"If we are forced to integrate the business, we will close the doors," Moore said.

Moore, Craven County Democratic party leader, has been in business several decades. Moore said the federal government "has taken over so much of our business that they direct how many hours we can work, employes, how much we (See COURT, P. 2)

H. S. Grad Interred Here Mon.

The past weekend was one of the bloodiest of the year when twelve race people lost their lives on the highways of the state. One of the fatalities occurred here in Raleigh.

Funeral rites for Maurice C. Morgan were held at Fayetteville St. Baptist Church, Monday, 3 p. m., with Rev. W. B. Lewis officiating. The 18-year old 1967 graduate of Ligon High School was a victim of a wreck that occurred on Western Boulevard early Friday morning. Willie Lee Miles, 20,

MAURICE MORGAN

660 Coleman St. was the driver of the car. Miles was also hospitalized at Womack Hospital at Ft. Bragg.

Miles was charged with manslaughter and reckless driving. A report from the investigating officer alleges that Miles was driving the car at a high rate of speed and that it was traveling east on Western Boulevard when it crossed the median and the west-bound traffic lane and struck a light pole that supported three 12,000-volt wires. Morgan was pinned under the car. He was removed to Rex Hospital where he died later.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Morgan, and lived with them at 1512 Oakwood Ave.

Surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Morgan; one sister, Jacqueline Faye of the home; his paternal grandmother, Mrs. Bessie Morgan, Raleigh; his foster grandmother, Mrs. Eula Mae McClain; two aunts, Mrs. Eliza (See MORGAN, P. 2)

SWEEPSTAKES NUMBERS
810	2202	8187
WORTH $75	WORTH $45	WORTH $10

Anyone having current BLUE tickets, dated July 15, 1967, with proper numbers present may visit the CAROLINIAN office and receive amounts listed above from the SWEEPSTAKES FUND.

Sweepstakes Worth $130 This Wk.

As related in last week's paper it does not matter what you have to buy - you can find on the counter, on the shelf, in the show room or even in the knowledge of the mechanic, if you only do business with the firms and businesses that take part in the Carolinian Sweepstakes.

They are listed on the Sweepstakes page. If you want to buy a home, an automobile or a note book, they can be found in one of the places listed on that page and you can also have an opportunity to win some money. Mrs. Mary Kelly, 519 E. Lenoir St., had some business with Sanders Motel Company and picked up $20 for having picked up that ticket. She says,

It is the first time she ever won anything.

All persons who read The Carolinian have an opportunity to pick up ready cash if they only visit one of the places listed, pick up a ticket and compare it with the numbers in the paper.

We are told by some of the (See SWEEPSTAKES, P. 2)

SHOTS UP COURTROOM - General G. Lamplay, who was in a Chicago court to answer an aggravated battery charge, is shown as he lies on a stretcher, handcuffed, after he drew his gun and began shooting in the courtroom. He was shot and captured by police. One policeman was wounded.