

Southside Project Impressive

Police Ask Aid In Fog Case

S. MITCHELL

S. Mitchell Tapped For High Post

It is apparent that all Raleigh is as confident as the City Council that the man picked to be Assistant City Judge, is the man for the position.

"Sam," as he is known to his friends and associates, was sworn in Wednesday morning and took the ceremony in strides. He exhibited the same unassuming demeanor that he has always shown when it came to accepting responsibility.

His unanimous choice, by the City solons, was another first in Raleigh, and even though Mitchell is a Negro, it was not believed to have been the factor that brought the appointment. It is believed that he was chosen because of his ability, his wide experience in the field, his knowledge of law and people and above all his prudence.

He has been quite active in the entire life of Raleigh, since coming here in 1950. He is married to the former Eleanor M. Birdsall, a native of Raleigh. They live at 717 Calloway Dr. Andrienne Gail, 17, is the third member of the family.

E. D. BARNES

E. D. Barnes Buried In Bull City

DURHAM - Edgar Daniel Barnes, 90, who gained a reputation as a builder of churches from Maryland to South Carolina, was buried from Kyles Temple A.M.E. Zion Church Saturday after an extended illness. Interment was in Beechwood cemetery. He died early Thursday at Hillcrest Rest Home, where he had been confined about six months.

He was born in Cumberland County, Feb. 28, 1877 and attended the public schools of that county and also attended then State Normal, Fayetteville, for only a short time. He married the former Isabella King in 1902, who preceded him in death in 1959. He moved his wife and one son, Alexander, to Wilson in 1903 and thence to Selma in 1904. He launched a building business in 1905 and continued it until about three years ago.

(See BARNES, P. 2)

No Clues To Killer Of Fog

Captain Goodwin, head of Raleigh's Detective Bureau, appealed, thru the CAROLINIAN, Wednesday morning, to any and all person who might have any information that would lead to the arrest and conviction of the person, or persons, involved in the murder of Charles Fog, 33, last week. The police are anxious that they get any information, no matter how uninteresting it might be to a civilian, it can be of much good to the investigators.

Funeral rites for the victim were held in Concord Baptist Church Sunday, in Franklin, Fog, who was a night watchman.

THE CAROLINIAN

North Carolina's Leading Weekly

VOL. 26, NO. 50 RALEIGH, N. C., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 11, 1967 PRICE 15c

In Gary And Cleveland 2 Negroes Elected Mayors

St. Augustine's - -Shaw

Local Colleges In Celebrations

St. Aug. Induction Highlight

Dr. Prezell R. Robinson, a 1946 graduate of Saint Augustine's College with the A.B. degree, and subsequently the M. A. and Ed. D. degrees from Cornell University, was formally inducted as the eighth president of Saint Augustine's College on Saturday, November 4.

Following President Robinson's induction, he spoke on the subject "Where Do We Go From Here?" As he accepted the charge and responsibilities involved as the leader of the 100 year old institution, Dr. Robinson first acknowledged the distinguished leadership of earlier presidents. The Reverends J. Brinton Smith, J.E.C. Smedes, Robert B. Sutton, Aaron B. Hunter, Edgar H. Goid.

Past presidents on the platform were Dr. Harold Trigg and Dr. James Boyer.

"The educational problems to me in the immediate years that lie ahead are formidable," Dr. Robinson said. He predicted that predominantly Negro Colleges will be with us for the foreseeable future. "As they are able to improve the quality of their educational programs and physical plants, they will have increasing appeal to students of various ethnic backgrounds," he said.

President Robinson told the assembly that St. Augustine's College must be recognized everywhere for superior instruction. To accomplish this requires competitive teacher salaries, reasonable teaching loads, leaves of absence, research facilities and an atmosphere conducive to free inquiry.

Dr. Robinson also promised to raise standards at the college through greater selectivity of students; and at the same time, serve those students who are not adequately prepared for college when they leave high school.

The inaugural address was delivered by Dr. Mahlon T. Puryear, deputy executive director for the National Urban League. He told the group that "your students today," I hope will sit-in. I hope they will sit in the libraries. Your students are going to demonstrate. I hope they will demonstrate their skills and gifts for responsible leadership.

"The Negro College," Dr. Puryear stated must stop calling itself a 'Negro College' and call itself a college. He urged the school to think in terms of raising millions and billions of dollars.

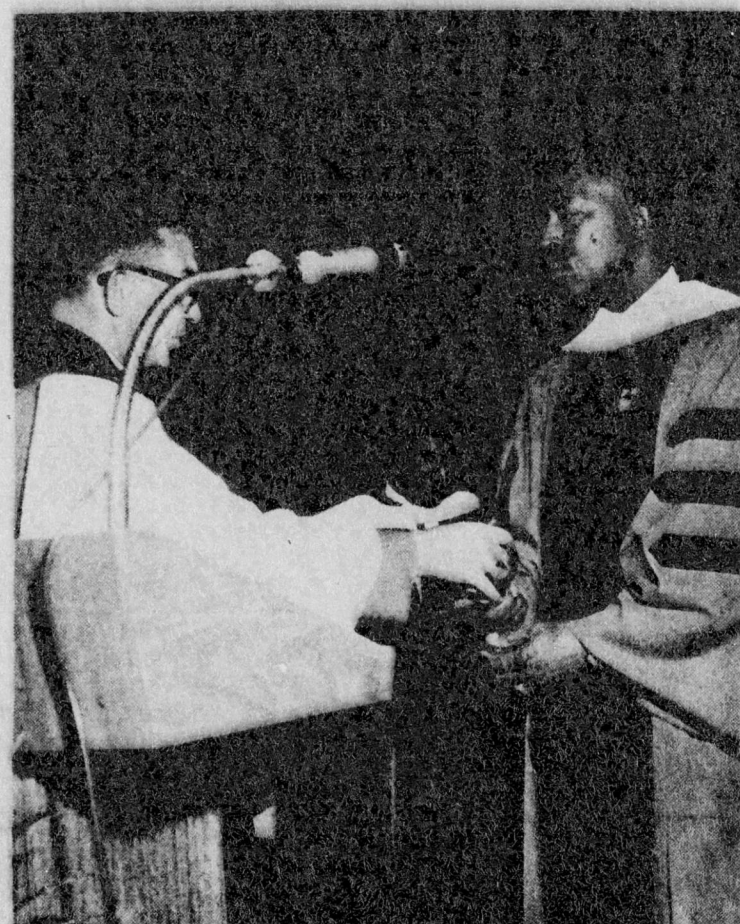

(See ST. AUG., P. 2)

At Press Time

No Clues To Killer Of Fog

QUIET REPOSE - The body of Charles Fog is shown as it lies in state in a funeral chapel.

RECEIVES THE SYMBOLS OF OFFICE - L-R: The Right Rev. Thomas A. Fraser, chairman of the Board of Trustees, St. Augustine's College, presents the symbols of office to Dr. Prezell R. Robinson, who humbly accepts the charge and the responsibilities of guiding the destiny of the college as its eighth president (See story this page).

Tan Candidates Win

GARY, Ind. - Richard G. Hatcher, 34-yr.- old bachelor, who has fought the regular Democratic political organization and head of the local city council, won election in a hotly contested campaign here Tuesday, when he outdistanced his white Republican opponent, Joseph Radigan.

There are those who felt that he won the election at gun point, due to the many elements of crime and corruption that are said to exist here. This is a city where the Negro comprises at least 55% of the population; it is supposed to be a haven for underworld characters who are driven out of Chicago, when the heat is on.

Durham Stirring, Winston Quiet

DURHAM - The ministers of the white churches and the white lawyers of the Durham community were charged by Alexander Barnes, chairman of the membership committee of the NAACP, with aiding ruminations that are discernible in the area. Barnes based his charge on the fact that the NAACP is the one organization that attempts to preserve the way of life, thru practicing the tenets of the Christian religion and the constitution of the United States. He exhibited a letter that was sent to every white minister in the city, dated June 6, 1967, in which he told the ministers the following, "The NAACP has developed its program on the tenets of the Christian religion and that it is why we feel that it has built a reputation, that it believes in reason, not battle.

It has sought to solve the problems that face America, around the conference table and in the courts. Its approach has paid off, and yet are a long way from the rule laid down by the Master, that we should brothers be."

This letter asked the support of the ministers in helping to make the North Carolina safer for democracy, by enlisting NAACP memberships from their congregations. Barnes says that he has not received one reply from the letters sent out in June. He warned the white ministers that bombs knew no color and as long as bombs, were used in eastern North Carolina to destroy Negro churches, their churches were not safe and his parish was in jeopardy. Money obtained by memberships is used to investigate crimes per-

Dr. Proctor Shaw Univ. Keynoter

Dr. Samuel DeWitt Proctor, former president of two Universities will be the featured speaker at Shaw University's 102nd Founder's Day ceremonies on Friday, Nov. 17, at 11 a. m. In the C. C. Spaulding Gymnasium, according to Dr. James E. Cheek, University President.

Proctor, who was president of Virginia Union University, Richmond, and A&T State University, Greensboro, is currently Director of the Institute for Services to Education, Washington, D. C.

A highlight of the Founder's Day ceremonies will be the dedication of the new Tupper Memorial Garden, containing the grave of Shaw's Founder, Dr. Henry Martin Tupper, a bell tower and a sunken garden, located at the side of the University Memorial Library, which will face both S. Blount St. and the Administration Center on the campus.

Born in Norfolk, Va., Proctor is a graduate of that city's Booker T. Washington High School and received the B. A. and B. D. degrees from Virginia Union. He holds a doctorate degree from Boston University.

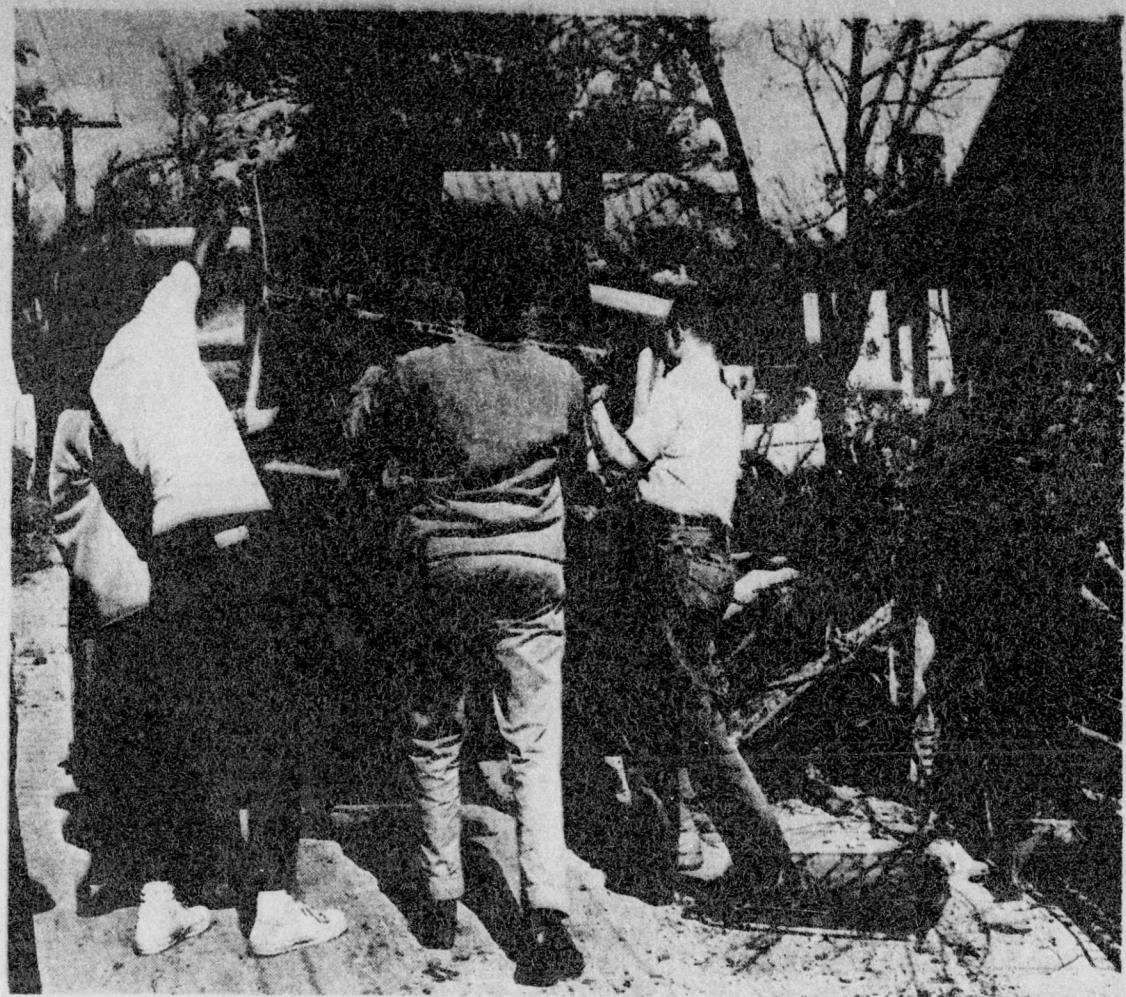

Founder's Day-Homecoming Weekend is an annual affair at Shaw. More than 4,000 alumni from across the nation are expected to return to the University for the activities, which begin on Thursday, Nov. 16, with the crowning of Veda Dodson as "Miss Shaw" for 1967-68. It will culminate with the Homecoming football game, Saturday, Nov. 18, pitting the Shaw Bears against the St.

(See SHAW, P. 2)

WEATHER

Temperatures during the period Thursday through Monday will average near or somewhat below normal. Day time highs are expected to average mostly in the 50s ranging to the lower 60s over coastal N. C. Lows at night will average mostly in the 30s except around 40 or in the lower 40s along the immediate coast. Gradual warming through most of the period. Possibly turning cooler again during Monday. Precipitation will total generally less than 1-4 of an inch occurring as scattered showers about Monday. Normal high and low for the period is 64 and 30.

(See DURHAM, P. 2)

A REAL CLEAN UP JOB - Students of North Carolina State and Shaw University show that they are really down to earth and are trying to clean it up. They are shown as they load a truck in Briggs Alley, as part of the drive to clean up Southside.

Through Multiple Effort Southside Clean-Up Impressive

On Saturday of last week, the area between West and Fayetteville Street and South of South St., known as Southside, under went a massive cleanup project. The project was sponsored by S. P. O., Southside People's Organization, along with volunteers from North Carolina State and Shaw Universities. The city provided dump trucks and K-Market sold garbage cans at cost. They were sold to Southside residents for $1.00. Raleigh's Coca-Cola Company provided free cokes. Sears sold tools for the project at a discount price.

Photographers and reporters from the CAROLINIAN staff were on hand most of the day to witness the cleanup efforts. Following is an evaluation of the scene report from some of the people who were involved in the cleanup campaign. Opinions were gained from students, residents, and city volunteers. Some of the questions asked were, "What do you think about the Southside Cleanup Project?" "What brings you to the Southside area?" "Do you think the area can be cleaned in one day?"

One resident, who refused to give her name, exclaimed, "These people aren't miracle workers. They can't clean up Southside in one Saturday or in one year. It's going to take a whole (See SOUTHSIDE, P. 2)

Wake Fire Leaves Three Families Homeless

"I was at work, my husband was at work, and the children were in school." These were the words of Mrs. Allen Brown as she related (in an exclusive interview with two reporters from THE CAROLINIAN) the shocking and tragic ordeal in which she and her family, her daughter, and her family, and another family underwent last Friday, Nov. 3, around 8:30 in the morning when the homes of all three families were destroyed by fire.

The fire left fifteen persons homeless, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brown and seven of their children who lived with them in the house in which the fire apparently started, their daughter, Carolyn Simons, and her two children who resided in a house trailer, which was parked next door to the left of the Browns' home, and the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lecoe Wright and one son whose house was located on the right side of the Browns' home.

All three families lived in the Astory section of Wake County, just west of the State Fair Grounds.

Mrs. Brown (a domestic worker), her husband (a janitor at State College) further stated that their home, furnishings, and clothing were a total loss, and was not covered by insurance, that the trailer belonging to her daughter was also a total loss. Mrs. Brown did not know whether Mr. and Mrs. Wright's possessions were covered in insurance. Mrs. Brown did relate that the Wrights managed to save some of their belongings.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown and their daughter's family are now living in a house in Method, near the Berry O'Kelly School. The house, according to Mrs. Brown, belongs to a cousin, Mrs. Brown further related that the cousin gave her family permission to use the house until

(See HOMELESS, P. 2)

WAKE FAMILY - These are victims of the Friday morning fire that left 15 persons homeless. Shown here are Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brown, with three of their children and two of their grandchildren. Other victims were not available for the picture.

NOTHING LEFT BUT ASHES - This picture shows the remnants of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brown, in the Astory section of Wake County, after the home was burned Friday morning. The trailer is that of Mrs. Brown's daughter. The third house is not shown. 15 persons were left homeless, as the result of the fire.

SWEEPSTAKES NUMBERS

3	1000	890
WORTH $25	WORTH $45	WORTH $20

Anyone having current PINK tickets, dated Nov. 4, 1967, with proper numbers, present same to THE CAROLINIAN office and receive amounts listed above from THE SWEEPSTAKES Feature.

A Man Is Sweepstakes Winner

The winner of Sweepstakes this week is Nathaniel Brown. It is to be remembered that the women have dominated the field for a long time. This goes to show that men are recognized as a part of our society also.

Mr. Brown had ticket number 3020 that he picked up at the Shoe Department of McLeod, Watson & Lanier, for which he received $25. Sweepstakes knows no color, no sex and no age. All one has to do is to visit one of the stores, listed on the Sweepstakes, make a purchase, or pay a bill. You then ask for a ticket, if you have the right one, you are a winner. The tickets for this week are pink and are dated Nov. 4. The numbers and their values are as follows: # 3 has a $25 value; 1000 will bring $45 and 890 is good for $20.

From Raleigh's Official Police Files

THE CRIME BEAT

Sneak Thief

Julia Mae Leak, 716 E. Martin St., reported to police that as she walked east on Martin St. Friday night, she was attacked from behind by a man, who snatched her pocket book and ran between some houses, about 8:30 p. m. She was not able to furnish a description of the snatcher. She valued

Struck With Brick

Wilbert Brown, 412 1/2 E. Martin St., told officers that he was standing in front of his house, at 9 p. m. Friday, when one of a group of men, threw a brick and hit him in the face. He received a 1 and 1/2 inch laceration on his forehead.

(See CRIME BEAT, P. 2)